The Good Daughter A Memoir Of My Mothers Hidden Life Jasmin Darznik

The Good Daughter Jasmin Darznik, 2011-01-27 We were a world of two my mother and I until I started turning into an American girl That s when she began telling me about The Good Daughter It became a taunt a warning an omen Jasmin Darznik came to America from Iran when she was only three years old and she grew up knowing very little about her family s history When she was in her early twenties on a day shortly following her father s death Jasmin was helping her mother move a photograph fell from a stack of old letters The girl pictured was her mother She was wearing a wedding veil and at her side stood a man whom Jasmin had never seen before At first Jasmin s mother Lili refused to speak about the photograph and Jasmin returned to her own home frustrated and confused But a few months later she received from her mother the first of ten cassette tapes that would bring to light the wrenching hidden story of her family s true origins in Iran Lili s marriage at thirteen her troubled history of abuse and neglect and a daughter she was forced to abandon in order to escape that life The final tape revealed that Jasmin s sister Sara The Good Daughter was still living in Iran In this sweeping poignant and beautifully written memoir Jasmin weaves the stories of three generations of Iranian women into a unique tale of one family s struggle for freedom and understanding The result is an enchanting and unforgettable story of secrets betrayal and the unbreakable mother daughter bond

Familiar and Foreign Manijeh Mannani, Veronica Thompson, 2015-09-30 The current political climate of confrontation between Islamist regimes and Western governments has resulted in the proliferation of essentialist perceptions of Iran and Iranians in the West Such perceptions do not reflect the complex evolution of Iranian identity that occurred in the years following the Constitutional Revolution 1906-11 and the anti-imperialist Islamic Revolution of 1979 Despite the Iranian government's determined pursuance of anti-Western policies and strict conformity to religious principles the film and literature of Iran reflect the clash between a nostalgic pride in Persian tradition and an apparent infatuation with a more Eurocentric modernity In Familiar and Foreign Mannani and Thompson set out to explore the tensions surrounding the ongoing formulation of Iranian identity by bringing together essays on poetry novels memoir and films These include both canonical and less widely theorized texts as well as works of literature written in English by authors living in diaspora Challenging neocolonialist stereotypes these critical excursions into Iranian literature and film reveal the limitations of collective identity as it has been configured within and outside of Iran Through the examination of works by among others the iconic female poet Forugh Farrokhzad the expatriate author Goli Taraghi the controversial memoirist Azar Nafisi and the graphic novelist Marjane Satrapi author of Persepolis this volume engages with the complex and contested discourses of religion patriarchy and politics that are the contemporary product of Iran's long and revolutionary history
