Annus mirabilis John Dryden,1915 The Allegory of the Cave Plato,2021-01-08 The Allegory of the Cave or Plato's Cave was presented by the Greek philosopher Plato in his work Republic 514a 520a to compare the effect of education and the lack of it on our nature It is written as a dialogue between Plato's brother Glaucon and his mentor Socrates narrated by the latter The allegory is presented after the analogy of the sun 508b 509c and the analogy of the divided line 509d 511e All three are characterized in relation to dialectic at the end of Books VII and VIII 531d 534e Plato has Socrates describe a group of people who have lived chained to the wall of a cave all of their lives facing a blank wall The people watch shadows projected on the wall from objects passing in front of a fire behind them and give names to these shadows The shadows are the prisoners reality The prioresses tale, Sire Thopas, the Monkes tale Geoffrey Chaucer,1906 Kubla Khan Samuel Coleridge,2015-12-15 Though left uncompleted Kubla Khan is one of the most famous examples of Romantic era poetry In it Samuel Coleridge provides a stunning and detailed example of the power of the poet's imagination through his whimsical description of Xanadu the capital city of Kublai Khan's empire Samuel Coleridge penned Kubla Khan after waking up from an opium induced dream in which he experienced and imagined the realities of the great Mongol ruler's capital city Coleridge began writing what he remembered of his dream immediately upon waking from it and intended to write two to three hundred lines However Coleridge was interrupted soon after and his memory of the dream dimming was ultimately unable to complete the poem HarperPerennial Classics brings great works of literature to life in digital format upholding the highest standards in ebook production and celebrating reading in all its forms Look for more titles in the HarperPerennial Classics collection to build your digital library The Foolish Almanak Theodore Roosevelt, The Republic By Plato,2019-06-15 The Republic is a Socratic dialogue written by Plato around 380 BCE concerning the definition of justice the order and character of the just city state and the just man The dramatic date of the dialogue has been much debated and though it must take place some time during the Peloponnesian War there would be jarring anachronisms if any of the candidate specific dates between 432 and 404 were assigned It is Plato's best known work and has proven to be one of the most intellectually and historically influential works of philosophy and political theory In it Socrates along with various Athenians and foreigners discuss the meaning of justice and examine whether or not the just man is happier than the unjust man by considering a series of different cities coming into existence in speech culminating in a city Kallipolis ruled by philosopher kings and by examining the nature of existing regimes The participants also discuss the theory of forms the immortality of the soul and the roles of the philosopher and of poetry in society Sophie's World Jostein Gaarder,2007-03-20 A page turning novel that is also an exploration of the great philosophical concepts of Western thought Jostein Gaarder's Sophie's World has fired the imagination of readers all over the world with more than twenty million copies
