Reproducibility and Replicability in Science National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on Science, Engineering, Medicine, and Public Policy, Board on Research Data and Information, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Committee on Applied and Theoretical Statistics, Board on Mathematical Sciences and Analytics, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Nuclear and Radiation Studies Board, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on Reproducibility and Replicability in Science, 2019-10-20 One of the pathways by which the scientific community confirms the validity of a new scientific discovery is by repeating the research that produced it When a scientific effort fails to independently confirm the computations or results of a previous study some fear that it may be a symptom of a lack of rigor in science while others argue that such an observed inconsistency can be an important precursor to new discovery Concerns about reproducibility and replicability have been expressed in both scientific and popular media As these concerns came to light Congress requested that the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine conduct a study to assess the extent of issues related to reproducibility and replicability and to offer recommendations for improving rigor and transparency in scientific research Reproducibility and Replicability in Science defines reproducibility and replicability and examines the factors that may lead to non reproducibility and non replicability in research Unlike the typical expectation of reproducibility between two computations expectations about replicability are more nuanced and in some cases a lack of replicability can aid the process of scientific discovery This report provides recommendations to researchers academic institutions journals and funders on steps they can take to improve reproducibility and replicability in science

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION.,2022 Constructing Research Questions Mats Alvesson,Jorgen Sandberg,2013-02-28 All researchers want to produce interesting and influential theories A key step in all theory development is formulating innovative research questions that will result in interesting and significant research Traditional textbooks on research methods tend to ignore or gloss over actual ways of constructing research questions In this text Alvesson and Sandberg develop a problematization methodology for identifying and challenging the assumptions underlying existing theories and for generating research questions that can lead to more interesting and influential theories using examples from across the social sciences Established methods of generating research questions in the social sciences tend to focus on gap spotting which means that existing literature remains largely unchallenged The authors show the dangers of conventional approaches providing detailed ideas for how one can work through such problems and formulate novel research questions that challenge existing theories and produce more imaginative empirical studies Constructing Research Questions is essential reading for any researcher looking to formulate research questions that are interesting and novel Dare to Lead Brené Brown,2018-10-09 1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER Brené Brown has taught us what it means to dare greatly rise strong and brave the wilderness Now based on new research conducted with leaders change makers and culture shifters she s showing us how to put those ideas into practice so we can step up and lead Don t miss the five part HBO Max docuseries Brené Brown Atlas of the Heart NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY BLOOMBERG Leadership is not about titles status and wielding power A leader is anyone who takes responsibility for recognizing the potential in people and ideas and has the courage to develop that potential When we dare to lead we don t pretend to have the right answers we stay curious and ask the right questions We don t see power as finite and hoard it we know that power becomes infinite when we share it with others We don t avoid difficult conversations and situations we lean into vulnerability when it s necessary to do good work But daring leadership in a culture defined by scarcity fear and uncertainty requires skill building around traits that are deeply and uniquely human The irony is that we re choosing not to invest in developing the hearts and minds of leaders at the exact same time as we re scrambling to figure out what we have to offer that machines and AI can t do better and faster What can we do better Empathy connection and courage to start Four time 1 New York Times bestselling author Brené Brown has spent the past two decades studying the emotions and experiences that give meaning to our lives and the past seven years working with transformative leaders and teams spanning the globe She found that leaders in organizations ranging from small entrepreneurial startups and family owned businesses to nonprofits civic organizations and Fortune 50 companies all ask the same question How do you cultivate braver more daring leaders and how do you embed the value of courage in your culture In this new book Brown uses research stories and examples to answer these questions in the no BS style that millions of readers have come to expect and love Brown writes One of the most important findings of my career is that daring leadership is a collection of four skill sets that are 100 percent teachable observable and measurable It s learning and unlearning that requires brave work tough conversations and showing up with your whole heart Easy No Because choosing courage over comfort is not always our default Worth it Always We want to be brave with our lives and our work It s why we re here Whether you ve read Daring Greatly and Rising Strong or you re new to Bren Brown s work this book is for anyone who wants to step up and into brave leadership The Necessary Art of Persuasion Jay A. Conger,2008-09-08 In an age when managers can no longer rely on formal power persuading people is more important than ever Persuasion is a process of learning from colleagues and employees and negotiating shared solutions to solving problems and achieving goals In The Necessary Art of Persuasion Jay Conger describes four essential components of persuasion and explains how to master them providing the information you need to fulfill your managerial mandate getting work done through others a valuable service in describing and analyzing a very complicated set of issues and has served as a crucial basis for thinking about research integrity for more than two decades However as experience has accumulated with various forms of research misconduct detrimental research practices and other forms of misconduct as subsequent empirical research has revealed more about the nature of scientific misconduct and because technological and social changes have altered the environment in which science is conducted it is clear that the framework established more than two decades ago needs to be updated Responsible Science served as a valuable benchmark to set the context for this most recent analysis and to help guide the committee s thought process Fostering Integrity in Research identifies best practices in research and recommends practical options for discouraging and addressing research misconduct and detrimental research practices
