Flat Water Tuesday Ron Irwin,2013-06-04 The son of a working class cabinet maker Rob Carrey arrives on the prestigious Fenton School s campus with a scholarship to row and a chip on his shoulder Generations of austere Fenton men have led the four man rowing team commonly known as the God Four to countless victories but none more important or renowned than the annual Tuesday afternoon race in April against their rival boarding school Warwick Before boats can be launched Rob must complete months of grueling preparation driven by their captain Connor Payne s vicious competitive nature Payne is a young man so plagued by family pressure and unwillingness to lose that the lines between dedication and obsession are increasingly blurred As the Warwick race nears the stakes steadfastly rise and tempers and lusts culminate until finally no one can prevent the horrible tragedy that ensues Now fifteen years later Rob is an accomplished documentary filmmaker Returning home from a recent shoot in Africa he arrives in New York City to clear out his shared apartment and end his heartbreaking relationship with his film editor and girlfriend Carolyn But when a phone call from one of the God Four compels him to attend the fifteen year reunion at Fenton Rob sees the invitation as an opportunity to confront the past and perhaps even steer his own life in a new direction Ron Irwin's Flat Water Tuesday shares in the grand tradition of sagas about athletic young men on the brink of greatness who either embrace their talent or are devastatingly consumed by it As much about the art of rowing as it is a novel of finding oneself this is a memorable and deeply moving testament to what it means to train and fight for both love and victory in sport and in life
