Local Governance and ICTs in Africa Timothy Mwololo Waema, T. M. Waema, Edith Ofwona Adera, 2011-08-11 With case studies from nine African countries this book provides a rich understanding of the status of e governance in Africa assesses the effects of information and communications technologies ICTs on local governance and offers a roadmap for policymakers decision makers and practitioners to implement and evaluate their own e local governance projects With governance high on the agenda in Africa many governments are using ICTs to introduce innovations in their structure practices and capacities as well as in the ways they use human capital and deliver services to citizens However the potential for e governance in Africa remains largely unexploited Progress requires infrastructure improvement the enactment of appropriate laws and policies and capacity and content development This book addresses the lack of evidence on ICTs in local governance in Africa and provides an important collection of studies and analyses on the transformative potential of ICT

Becoming a teacher Josef de Beer, 2020-12-31 This book disseminates original research on learning in and from practice in pre service teacher education Authors such as Lederman and Lederman describe the student teaching practicum or work integrated learning WIL which is an essential component of pre service teacher education as the elephant in the room These authors note that the capstone experience in any teacher education programme is the student teaching practicum after all this is where the rubber hits the road However many teacher educators will agree that this WIL component is sometimes very insufficient in assisting the student teacher to develop their own footing and voice as a teacher This is the gap that this research book addresses Most of the chapters in the book report empirical data with the exception of two chapters that can be categorized as systematic reviews WIL is addressed from various angles in the chapters Chapter 6 focuses on research related to what makes Finnish teacher education so effective and in Chapter 4 researchers of the University of Johannesburg disseminate their findings on establishing a teaching school based on Finnish insights in Johannesburg Chapter 3 highlights the challenges faced in open and distance learning teacher education contexts Several of the chapters disseminate research findings on alternative interventions to classic WIL namely where safe spaces or laboratories are created for student teachers to learn and grow professionally These could either be simulations such as software programmes and avatars in the intervention described in Chapter 2 student excursions as the findings in chapters 5 7 and 10 portray or alternative approaches to WIL e g Chapters 11 and 12 The book is devoted to scholarship in the field of pre service teacher education The target audience is scholars working in the fields of pre service teacher education work integrated learning and self directed learning The book makes a unique contribution in terms of firstly its extensive use of Cultural Historical Activity Theory as a research lens and secondly in drawing on various theoretical frameworks Both quantitative and qualitative research informed the findings of the book

Assessing Students with Special Needs Effie P. Kritikos, 2017

Alexandra Noor Nieftagodien, Phil Bonner, 2008-11-01 Alexandra A History is a social and political history of one of South Africa's oldest townships It begins with the founding of Alexandra as a freehold township in 1912 and traces its growth as a centre of black working class life through the early years before the Nationalist government through the struggles of the apartheid era and into the present day Declared as a location for natives and coloureds Alexandra became home to a diverse population where stand owners tenants squatters hostel dwellers workers and migrants from every corner of the country converged to make a new life for themselves near the economic hub of Johannesburg The stories of ordinary people are at the core of the township's history Based on numerous life history interviews with residents and previously unexamined archive sources the book portrays in vivid detail the daily struggles and tribulations of the people of Alexandra A significant focus is the rich history of political resistance in which political organisations and civic movements organised bus boycotts anti removal and anti pass campaigns and mobilised for housing and a better life for the township's residents But the book also tells the stories of daily life of the making of urban cultures and of the infamous Spoilers and Msomi gangs Over weekends Alexandra came alive as soccer matches church services and shebeens vie for the attention of residents Alexandra A History highlights the social complexities of the township which at times caused tension between different segments of the population Above all else despite a long history of hardship and adversity the community spirit of the people of Alexandra expressed in a fiercely loyal love of their township home has repeatedly triumphed and endured Regulating Telecommunications in South Africa Charley Lewis, 2021-06-25 This book provides the first full account of the 20 year story of universal access and service in South Africa's ICT sector From 1994 the country's first democratic government set out to redress the deep digital divide afflicting the overwhelming majority of its citizens already poor and disenfranchised but likewise marginalised in access to telephone infrastructure and services By this time an incipient global policy regime was driving reforms in the telecomms sector and also developing good practice models for universal service Policy diffusion thus led South Africa to adopt adapt and implement a slew of these interventions In particular roll out obligations were imposed on licensees and a universal service fund was established But an agency with a universal service mandate was also created and licences in under serviced areas were awarded The book goes on to identify and analyse the policy success and failure of each of these interventions and suggests some lessons to be learned Study and Master English Grade 11 CAPS

Assessment David Scott, 2001 Curriculum and Assessment is the first volume of a new series International Perspectives on Curriculum This edited book examines the relationship between curriculum pedagogy and assessment and as with subsequent volumes adopts a cross sector and comparative approach Contributors make reference to a number of important debates in the fields of curriculum and assessment summative versus formative assessment differentiation versus inclusion psychometric versus holistic theorising decontextualised versus contextualised assessment symbol processing versus situated learning approaches integrated versus connected assessment and high stakes versus low stakes assessment The rationale for this volume is not to reach an agreement about assessment and curriculum frameworks but to air the various debates referred to above and develop new frameworks for understanding these important issues This volume and the series is timely as administrators and policy makers in different parts of the world have taken an increased interest in education and as moves to centralise curriculum provision have gathered pace This has in some cases driven a wedge between curriculum theory and curriculum practice as policy makers have developed and implemented proposals without referring to academic debates about these issues It therefore is an important task to reassert the need to discuss and debate the curriculum in a critical manner before implementation occurs This volume sets about that task addressing policy makers administrators teachers and the research community ICTs and Higher Education in Africa, 2007 This overview reviews existing national and international policies with regard to the use of Information and Communication Technologies ICTs to enhance teaching and learning within institutions of tertiary education Common areas of strength and of weakness with regard to educational technology readiness in the Partnership for Higher Education in Africa PHEA countries are explored The challenges to the deployment of ICT in tertiary education within the PHEA countries are outlined Finally lessons learned and possibilities for collaboration are highlighted
