Spinning into Butter Rebecca Gilman,2011-04-01 Set on a college campus in Vermont Spinning into Butter is a new play by a major young American playwright that explores the dangers of both racism and political correctness in America today in a manner that is at once profound disturbing darkly comic and deeply cathartic Rebecca Gilman challenges our preconceptions about race relations writing of a liberal dean of students named Sarah Daniels who investigates the pinning of anonymous clearly racist letters on the door of one of the college s few African American students The stunning discovery that there is a virulent racist on campus forces Sarah along with other faculty members and students to explore her feelings about racism leading to surprising discoveries and painful insights that will rivet and provoke the reader as perhaps no play since David Mamet s Oleanna has done Spinning into Butter had its world premiere at the Goodman Theatre in Chicago in May 1999 and opened at the Vivian Beaumont Theater at Lincoln Center in New York in April 2000
