Mobster's Angel Amy Rachiele, 2013-12-14 Being smart doesn't save you from terror, and it doesn't teach you how to live with it. You can't escape the mob. It's part of your existence. Vito has grown up in the underworld of the mob. He has recently reached age eighteen. His family has been involved since the thirties. In 2014, the rules haven't changed much. What worked then works now: power, violence, and loyalty. Love isn't something you can control. As much as Vito, mobster enforcer, wishes he could, he can't. And falling in love with someone who is close to jail-bait age is even tougher. Vito bides his time and waits. For a hasty guy with limited self-control, it's difficult to curb his impulses. At age fifteen, Erin just wants to forget. Erin's world came crashing down when she learned her family was not what they seemed. She's been living in a lie. No one told her her family was mob. The cliché ignorance-is-bliss becomes a sharp, stabbing realization when she has to learn to cope with the aftermath. Sometimes I hear him whispering in my ear, as if my conscience has grown and matured into a six-foot-three, dark-haired male. The studying, reading, and listening I did to impress adults are nothing compared to what I learned from Vito.

Tainted Black (a Forbidden Romance) Shanora Williams, 2015-09-08 Dear Mr. Black, I know you were hurting. I heard your cries. I wished over and over again that I could make it better, but as you stated, I was too inexperienced, too good for someone as bad as you. Perhaps you were right, but it didn't matter because what I did know was that I loved the way you felt, loved the way you smelled. I loved how hard you got for me, and when you called me your Little Knight, I can still remember that day in the park when you held me close and kissed me deep. How you effortlessly made me cry, your name on top of sweet-smelling grass, making me feel like the only girl in the world. I loved how you looked at me, how you spoke to me.
