The Future of Nursing 2020-2030 National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine, Committee on the Future of Nursing 2020-2030, 2021-09-30 The decade ahead will test the nation s nearly 4 million nurses in new and complex ways Nurses live and work at the intersection of health education and communities Nurses work in a wide array of settings and practice at a range of professional levels They are often the first and most frequent line of contact with people of all backgrounds and experiences seeking care and they represent the largest of the health care professions A nation cannot fully thrive until everyone no matter who they are where they live or how much money they make can live their healthiest possible life and helping people live their healthiest life is and has always been the essential role of nurses Nurses have a critical role to play in achieving the goal of health equity but they need robust education supportive work environments and autonomy Accordingly at the request of the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation on behalf of the National Academy of Medicine an ad hoc committee under the auspices of the National Academies of Sciences Engineering and Medicine conducted a study aimed at envisioning and charting a path forward for the nursing profession to help reduce inequities in people s ability to achieve their full health potential The ultimate goal is the achievement of health equity in the United States built on strengthened nursing capacity and expertise By leveraging these attributes nursing will help to create and contribute comprehensively to equitable public health and health care systems that are designed to work for everyone The Future of Nursing 2020 2030 Charting a Path to Achieve Health Equity explores how nurses can work to reduce health disparities and promote equity while keeping costs at bay utilizing technology and maintaining patient and family focused care into 2030 This work builds on the foundation set out by The Future of Nursing Leading Change Advancing Health 2011 report

The Nurse Professional Deborah Dolan Hunt, 2014-10-24 Print CourseSmart

The Future of Nursing Institute of Medicine, Committee on the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Initiative on the Future of Nursing, at the Institute of Medicine, 2011-02-08 The Future of Nursing explores how nurses' roles, responsibilities, and education should change significantly to meet the increased demand for care that will be created by health care reform and to advance improvements in America's increasingly complex health system. At more than 3 million in number, nurses make up the single largest segment of the health care workforce. They also spend the greatest amount of time in delivering patient care as a profession. Nurses therefore have valuable insights and unique abilities to contribute as partners with other health care professionals in improving the quality and safety of care as envisioned in the Affordable Care Act (ACA) enacted this year. Nurses should be fully engaged with other health professionals and assume leadership roles in redesigning care in the United States. To ensure its members are well prepared, the profession should institute residency training for nurses, increase the percentage of nurses who attain a bachelor's degree to 80 percent by 2020, and double the number who pursue doctorates. Furthermore, regulatory and institutional obstacles, including limits on nurses' scope of practice, should be removed so that the health system can reap the full benefit of nurses' training, skills, and knowledge in patient care. In this book, the Institute of Medicine makes recommendations for an action-oriented blueprint for the future of nursing.

Realizing the Future of Nursing: VA Nurses Tell Their Story Department of Veterans Affairs Nurses, 2015-09-29 The stories told in this book reflect the hard work and dedication of the Veterans Affairs nurses who provide care to our nation's heroes. Four key messages outlined in the book help explain the important role of VA nurses. Key Message 1: Nurses should practice to the full extent of their education and training. Key Message 2: Nurses should achieve higher levels of education and training through an improved education system that promotes seamless academic progression. Key Message 3: Nurses should be full partners with physicians and other health care professionals in redesigning health care in the United States. Key Message 4: Effective workforce planning and policy making require better data collection and an improved information structure. This book addresses the staffing issues in military healthcare with policy and workforce planning towards an improved information structure between the nurses, healthcare professionals, and physicians. Keywords: Department of Veterans Affairs nursing program, Veteran Affairs VA nursing nurses, Veterans Affairs nursing education program, VA nursing education program, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, U.S. department of veterans affairs, VA staffing issues in military healthcare.

Clinical Case Studies for the Family Nurse Practitioner Leslie Neal-Boylan, 2011-11-28 Clinical Case Studies for the Family Nurse Practitioner is a key resource for advanced practice nurses and graduate students seeking to test their skills in assessing, diagnosing, and managing cases in family and primary care. Composed of more than 70 cases ranging from common to unique, the book compiles years of experience from experts in the field. It is organized chronologically, presenting cases from neonatal to geriatric care in a standard approach built on the SOAP format. This includes differential diagnosis and a series of critical thinking questions, ideal for self-assessment or classroom use.
