Film History An Introduction Kristin Thompson

Film History: An Introduction Kristin Thompson, David Bordwell, 2010 This book introduces the history of film as it is presently conceived written and taught by its most accomplished scholars However this book is not a distillation of everything that is known about film history

Film History Kristin Thompson, David Bordwell, 2003 This comprehensive survey not only acknowledges the contributions of Hollywood and films from other US sources but broadens its scope to examine film making internationally

Film History Kristin Thompson, David Bordwell, 2009-06-01

Film Art: An Introduction David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, 2009-11-25 Film is an art form with a language and an aesthetic all its own Since 1979 David Bordwell and Kristin Thompson's Film Art has been the best selling and widely respected introduction to the analysis of cinema Taking a skills centered approach supported by a wide range of examples from various periods and countries the authors strive to help students develop a core set of analytical skills that will deepen their understanding of any film in any genre Frame enlargements throughout the text enable students to view images taken directly from completed films while an optional text specific tutorial CD ROM helps clarify and reinforce specific concepts addressed in the text with the use of film clips Building on these strengths the ninth edition adds coverage of new technologies updated examples and references to the authors acclaimed weblog to provide unparalleled currency and connect students with the world of cinema today

The Frodo Franchise Kristin Thompson, 2007-08-27 In this study of Peter Jackson's film adaptation of J R R Tolkien's The Lord of the Rings trilogy Kristin Thompson demonstrates the impact the trilogy has had on the companies that made it on the fantasy genre on New Zealand and on independent cinema and looks at how the trilogy is regarded as one of the most important films ever made

Film Art David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, 2004 Film is an art form with a language and an aesthetic all its own and since 1979 David Bordwell and Kristin Thompson's Film Art has been the most respected introduction to the art and analysis of cinema In the new seventh edition Film Art continues its commitment to providing the best introduction to the fundamentals of serious film study images throughout the book are collected from actual film frames not from production stills or advertising photos but the book has been extensively redesigned to improve readability and teachability Additionally the text can be packaged with the award winning Film Form and Culture CD ROM and is supported by an extensive Instructor's Manual and text specific website

Narration in the Fiction Film David Bordwell, 2013-09-27 In this study David Bordwell offers a comprehensive account of how movies use fundamental principles of narrative representation unique features of the film medium and diverse story telling patterns to construct their fictional narratives

Exporting Entertainment Kristin Thompson, 1985

The Classical Hollywood Cinema David Bordwell, Janet Staiger, Kristin Thompson, 2003-09-02 A dense challenging and important book Philip French Observer At the very least this blockbuster is probably the best single volume history of Hollywood we're likely to get for a very long time Paul Kerr City Limits Persuasively argued the book is also packed with facts figures and photographs Nigel Andrews Financial Times Acclaimed for their breakthrough approach Bordwell Staiger and Thompson analyze the basic conditions of American film making as a historical institution and consider to what extent Hollywood film production constitutes a systematic enterprise in both its style and its business operations Despite differences of director genre or studio most Hollywood films operate within a set of shared assumptions about how a film should look and sound Such assumptions are neither natural nor inevitable but because classical style films have been the type most widely seen they have come to be accepted as the norm of film making and viewing The authors show how these classical conventions were formulated and standardized and how they responded to the arrival of sound colour widescreen ratios and stereophonic sound They argue that each new technological development has served a function within an existing narrational system The authors also examine how the Hollywood cinema standardized the film making process itself They describe how over the course of its history Hollywood developed distinct modes of production in a constant search for maximum efficiency predictability and novelty Set apart by its combination of theoretical analysis and empirical evidence this book is the standard work on the classical Hollywood cinema style of film making from the silent era to the 1960s Now available in paperback it is a must for film students lecturers and all those seriously interested in the development of the film industry

Herr Lubitsch Goes to Hollywood Kristin Thompson, 2005 The first study by an acclaimed American scholar of the artistic interdependencies between the German and the Hollywood cinema in the 1920s

Breaking the Glass Armor Kristin Thompson, 1988-08-21 Classical works have for us become covered with the glassy armor of familiarity wrote Victor Shklovsky in 1914 Here Kristin Thompson defamiliarizes the reader with eleven different films Developing the technique formulated in her Eisenstein's Ivan the Terrible Princeton 1981 she clearly demonstrates the flexibility of the neoformalist approach She argues that critics often use cut and dried methods and choose films that easily fit those methods Neoformalism on the other hand encourages the critic to deal with each film differently and to modify his or her analytical assumptions continually Thompson's analyses are thus refreshingly varied and revealing ranging from an ordinary Hollywood film Terror by Night to such masterpieces as Late Spring and Lancelot du Lac She proposes a formal historical way of dealing with realism using Bicycle Thieves and The Rules of the Game as examples Stage Fright and Laura provide cases in which the classical cinema defamiliarizes its own conventions by playing with audience expectations Other chapters deal with Tati's Les Vacances de Monsieur Hulot and Play Time and Godard's Tout va bien and Sauve qui peut la vie Although neoformalist analysis is a rigorous distinctive approach it avoids extensive specialized vocabulary and esoteric concepts the essays here can be read separately by those interested in the individual films The book's overall purpose however goes beyond making these particular films more accessible and intriguing to propose new ways of looking at cinema as a whole

Storytelling in the New Hollywood Kristin Thompson, 1999-11-05 Drawing on a wide range of films from the 1920s to the 1990s from Keaton's Our Hospitality to Casablanca to Terminator 2 Kristin Thompson offers the first in depth analysis of Hollywood's storytelling techniques and how they are used to make complex easily comprehensible entertaining films

The Way Hollywood Tells It David Bordwell, 2006-04-10 Hollywood moviemaking is one of the constants of American life but how much has it changed since the glory days of the big studios David Bordwell argues that the principles of visual storytelling created in the studio era are alive and well even in today's bloated blockbusters American filmmakers have created a durable tradition one that we should not be ashamed to call artistic and one that survives in both mainstream entertainment and niche marketed indie cinema Bordwell traces the continuity of this tradition in a wide array of films made since 1960 from romantic comedies like Jerry Maguire and Love Actually to more imposing efforts like A Beautiful Mind He also draws upon testimony from writers directors and editors who are acutely conscious of employing proven principles of plot and visual style Within the limits of the classical approach innovation can flourish Bordwell examines how imaginative filmmakers have pushed the premises of the system in films such as JFK Memento and Magnolia He discusses generational technological and economic factors leading to stability and change in Hollywood cinema and includes close analyses of selected shots and sequences As it ranges across four decades examining classics like American Graffiti and The Godfather as well as recent success like The Lord of the Rings The Two Towers this book provides a vivid and engaging interpretation of how Hollywood moviemakers have created a vigorous resourceful tradition of cinematic storytelling that continues to engage audiences around the world

On the History of Film Style David Bordwell, 1997 Bordwell scrutinizes the theories of style launched by various film historians and celebrates a century of cinema The author examines the contributions of many directors and shows how film scholars have explained stylistic continuity and change

Looseleaf for Film History: An Introduction David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, 2021-05-11 This new edition of Film History has been revised to include recent films new examples and updated comprehensive overviews of the rise of streaming services as purveyors of cinematic content as well as the massive disruptions of film production distribution and exhibition caused by the COVID 19 pandemic It is a comprehensive global survey of film and its many genres from drama and comedy to documentary and experimental written by three of the discipline's leading scholars Concepts and events are illustrated with frame enlargements taken from the original sources giving students more realistic and relevant points of reference than publicity stills There are 100 new film clips with commentary in McGraw Hill Connect the web based assignment and assessment platform that helps you connect your students to their coursework Film History is a text that any serious film scholar professor undergraduate or graduate student will want to read and keep

Film Art David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, 2008 Film is an art form with a language and an aesthetic all its own This edition has been redesigned in colour greatly enhancing the text's visual appeal and overall accessibility to today's students The text is supported by a CD ROM with video clips and text specific website

Poetics of Cinema David Bordwell, 2012-11-12 Bringing together twenty five years of work on what he has called the historical poetics of cinema David Bordwell presents an extended analysis of a key question for film studies how are films made in particular historical contexts in order to achieve certain effects For Bordwell films are made things existing within historical contexts and aim to create determinate effects Beginning with this central thesis Bordwell works out a full understanding of how films channel and recast cultural influences for their cinematic purposes With more than five hundred film stills Poetics of Cinema is a must have for any student of cinema

Film Art David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, Jeff Smith, 2023-10 Through McGraw Hill Education's Create a chapter on film adaptations written by Jeff Smith of the University of Wisconsin is available for instructors to better customize and personalize their film appreciation course In addition an appendix Writing a Critical Analysis of a Film is available for instructors who require written film critiques and DVD Recommendations provide particularly effective resources related to key topics

An Auteurist History of Film Charles Silver, 2016 From 2009 to 2014 The Museum of Modern Art presented a weekly series of film screenings titled An Auteurist History of Film Inspired by Andrew Sarris's seminal book The American Cinema which elaborated on the auteur theory first developed by the critics of Cahiers du Cin ma in the 1950s the series presented works from MoMA's expansive film collection with a particular focus on the role of the director as artistic author Film curator Charles Silver wrote a blog post to accompany each screening describing the place of each film in the oeuvre of its director as well as the work's significance in cinema history Following the end of the series five year run the Museum collected these texts for publication and is now bringing together Silver's insightful and often humorous readings in a single volume This publication is an invaluable guide to key directors and movies as well as an excellent introduction to auteur theory from back cover
