

Fahrenheit 451

Part Two: the Sieve and the Sand

Directions: To give you a comprehensive understanding of all aspects of the novel, answer the following questions for Part Two. Use a different color for your responses.

1. In the beginning of Part Two, Montag remembers Clarisse. Why do the two books remind him of Clarisse?
2. What is waiting outside Montag's door? Why?
3. Describe the flashback of Montag meeting the old man. Why does he remember this incident? Why do you think he saved the old man's name for so long?
4. Explain Montag's memory of the sand dune. How does it relate to Montag's current predicament? What is symbolic or significant about the story? Why do you think the title of this part of the novel is named "The Sieve and the Sand"? Think about how sieve is used!
5. What is the significance of Montag's trip on the underground train? What commercial interrupts his thoughts? Why does it appear as if he argues with the commercial? What aspect of this society is he really arguing against?
6. Why does Montag tell Faber that his wife is "dying"? What does he mean?
7. On page 82, Faber calls himself a coward, because he did not take action against book burning when he had the chance. He says, "I'm one of the innocents who could have spoken up and out when no one would listen to the 'guilty,' but I did not speak up and thus became guilty myself. And when finally they set the structure to burn the books, using the firemen, I grunted a few times and subsided, for there were no others grunting or yelling with me by then. Now it's too late."

Consider this quote in connection with Montag's words to Mildred on page 52, "Let you alone! That's all very well, but how can I leave myself alone? We need to not be let alone. We need to really be bothered once in a while. How long is it since you were really bothered? About something important? About something real?"

What do these quotes have to do with one another? What point is Bradbury making?

8. How is Christ portrayed in this society? Why? What does this further reveal about this society and the values of its people?
9. Faber lists three things that are missing from society. What are they? What does each thing mean?
10. According to Faber, why are books hated and feared?

Gravel Roads Ken Skorseth, 2000. The purpose of this manual is to provide clear and helpful information for maintaining gravel roads. Very little technical help is available to small agencies that are responsible for managing these roads. Gravel road maintenance has traditionally been more of an art than a science, and very few formal standards exist. This manual contains guidelines to help answer the questions that arise concerning gravel road maintenance, such as: What is enough surface crown? What is too much? What causes corrugation? The information is as nontechnical as possible without sacrificing clear guidelines and instructions on how to do the job right.

Play and Poems George H. Boker, 2023-07-18. George H. Boker was an accomplished playwright and poet whose works were popular in nineteenth-century America. This collection brings together some of his most well-known plays and poems, including Calaynos, Anne Boleyn, and Francesca da Rimini. Through his skillful dialogue and evocative imagery, Boker illuminates the complexities of the human experience in ways that remain relevant to contemporary audiences. This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity, individual, or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

In the Forests of the Night Amelia Atwater-Rhodes, 2009-08-11. I was born to the name of Rachel Weatere in the year 1684, more than three hundred years ago. The one who changed me named me Risika, and Risika I became, though I never asked what it meant. I continue to call myself Risika, even though I was transformed into what I am against my will. By day, Risika sleeps in a shaded room in Concord, Massachusetts. By night, she hunts the streets of New York City. She is used to being alone. But now, someone is following Risika. Someone has left her a black rose, the same sort of rose that sealed her fate three hundred years ago. Three hundred years ago, Risika had a family, a brother, and a sister who loved her. Three hundred years ago, she was human. Now, she is a vampire, a powerful one. And her past has come back to torment her. This atmospheric, haunting tale marks the stunning debut of a promising fourteen-year-old novelist.

Dandelion Wine Ray Bradbury, 1985-03-01. The summer of '28 was a vintage season for a growing boy. A summer of green apple trees, mowed lawns, and new sneakers. Of half-burnt firecrackers, of gathering dandelions, of Grandma's belly-busting dinner. It was a summer of sorrows and marvels, and gold-fuzzed bees. A magical, timeless summer in the life of a twelve-year-old boy named Douglas Spaulding, remembered forever by the incomparable Ray Bradbury. The only god living in Green Town, Illinois, that Douglas Spaulding knew of. The facts about John Huff, aged twelve, are simple, and soon stated. He
