

Setting Out Details

This intersection treatment is for low volume conditions by virtue of rural conditions and road train operation.

Road Train, B—double, Prime Mover & Semi-Trailer: These have a satisfactory observation angle when stopped at the Give Way/Stop Line.

SU truck: Will describe a larger turning radius than a road train. More difficult observation angle when stopped at the Give Way/Stop Line but low volumes and observation angle prior to the line means gap assessment is rarely a problem.

Cars: Will describe a much larger turning radius due to available space.

Position A — satisfactory observation angle provided no object blocks the sight line.

Position B — difficult observation angle but low volumes means gap assessment is rarely a problem.

Position C — satisfactory observation by mirror, aided by low volumes and assessment at previous positions.

Distributed Situation Awareness in Road Transport Paul M. Salmon, Gemma Jennie Megan Read, Guy H. Walker, Michael G. Lenné, Neville A. Stanton, 2018-11-21. How can we design transport environments that cater to the situation awareness needs of different end users? This book answers this question by showcasing how state-of-the-art human factors theory and methods can be used to understand how situation awareness differs across drivers, cyclists, motorcyclists, and pedestrians and creates new designs that cater to these diverse situation awareness needs. Written by experts in the field and based on a major program of work funded by the Australian Research Council, this book outlines the distributed situation awareness model and provides practical guidance on how to study situation awareness naturalistically and how to create designs that support rather than hinder situation awareness. The book closes by outlining a generic framework to support similar applications in other areas and discusses future applications in areas such as vehicle automation, artificial intelligence, and cybersecurity. Features: Challenges traditional road safety analysis, design processes, and conventions. Outlines a novel on-road study methodology for analyzing naturalistic interactions among drivers, cyclists, motorcyclists, and pedestrians. Presents a review of state-of-the-art situation awareness theory and methods. Provides practical guidance on a series of human factors methods. Describes a framework to support the design of transport environments. Evaluates new intersection concepts that encompass features designed to prevent collisions at intersections. NCHRP Report 562, 2006 Access Management
