Legal Identity, Race and Belonging in the Dominican Republic Eve Hayes de Kalaf, 2021-11-02 This book offers a critical perspective into social policy architectures primarily in relation to questions of race national identity and belonging in the Americas It is the first to identify a connection between the role of international actors in promoting the universal provision of legal identity in the Dominican Republic with arbitrary measures to restrict access to citizenship paperwork from populations of largely but not exclusively Haitian descent The book highlights the current gap in global policy that overlooks the possible alienating effects of social inclusion measures promulgated by international organisations particularly in countries that discriminate against migrant descended populations It also supports concerns regarding the dangers of identity management noting that as administrative systems improve new insecurities and uncertainties can develop Crucially the book provides a cautionary tale over the rapid expansion of identification practices offering a timely critique of global policy measures which aim to provide all people everywhere with a legal identity in the run up to the 2030 UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Junot Díaz and the Decolonial Imagination Monica Hanna, Jennifer Harford Vargas, José David Saldívar, 2015-12-17 The first sustained critical examination of the work of Dominican American writer Junot Díaz this interdisciplinary collection considers how Díaz's writing illuminates the world of Latino cultural expression and trans American and diasporic literary history Interested in conceptualizing Díaz's decolonial imagination and his radically re envisioned world the contributors show how his aesthetic and activist practice reflect a significant shift in American letters toward a hemispheric and planetary culture They examine the intersections of race Afro Latinidad gender sexuality disability poverty and power in Diaz's work Essays in the volume explore issues of narration language and humor in The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao the racialized constructions of gender and sexuality in Drown and This Is How You Lose Her and the role of the zombie in the short story Monstro Collectively they situate Diaz's writing in relation to American and Latin American literary practices and reveal the author's activist investments The volume concludes with Paula Moya's interview with Diaz Contributors Glenda R Carpio Arlene Dvila Lyn Di Iorio Junot Diaz Monica Hanna Jennifer Harford Vargas Ylce Irizarry Claudia Milian Julie Avril Minich Paula M L Moya Sarah Quesada Jos David Saldvar Ramon Saldvar Silvio Torres Saillant Deborah R Vargas

Swallowed by the Cold Jensen Beach, 2016-05-17 The intricate interlocking stories of Jensen Beach's extraordinarily poised story collection are set in a Swedish village on the Baltic Sea as well as in Stockholm over the course of two eventful years In Swallowed by the Cold people are besieged and haunted by disasters both personal and national a fatal cycling accident a drowned mother a fire on a ferry a mysterious arson the assassination of the Swedish foreign minister and decades earlier the Soviet bombing of Stockholm In these stories a drunken lonely woman is convinced that her new neighbor is the daughter of her dead lover a one armed tennis player and a motherless girl reckon with death amid a rainstorm and happening upon a car crash a young woman is unaccountably drawn to the victim even as he slides into a coma and her marriage falls into jeopardy Again and again Beach's protagonists find themselves unable to express their innermost feelings to those they are closest to but at the same time they are drawn to confide in strangers In its confidence and subtle precision Beach's prose evokes their reticence but is supple enough to reveal deeper passions and intense longing Shot through with loss and the regret of missed opportunities Swallowed by the Cold is a searching and crystalline book by a startlingly talented young writer
