Indispensable Women of Faith Nov 02 2021 Often, I tell my daughters, when interested in a man, wait for him to find you; for if he is God sent, then he is looking for you; and always remember to look at his shoes, because if he can't take care of his shoes, then he can't take care of you. Indispensable Women of Faith is a book that will categorize the imprints, bravery, and biblical rectitude of many of the anointed, God-fearing women in the Bible and in the world. It is these women who have made laudatory contributions to the church, culture, and society. This book will maximize the abilities and the calling of women rather than minimize them like the world sometimes does, refuting the notion that God does not call women to be Bishops, Pastors, Evangelist, and Prophetess. Quite the contrary to man's opinion, God does not just call them, but orders their steps, and He uses them to combat satanic forces, condemn evil, tear down strongholds, and raise standards, all while concomitantly declaring that Jesus Christ is still the way, the truth and the life. A women's prophetic voice is needed today more than ever before, especially as we navigate through the maze of a misogynistic cosmos. Her voice, like the prophets of old can bring calm to chaos, and discernment in troublesome times.

Red Lip Theology Feb 03 2022 A moving essay collection promoting freedom, self-love, and divine wholeness for Black women and opening new levels of understanding and ideological transformation for non-Black women and allies “Candice Marie Benbow is a once-in-a-generation theologian, the kind who, having ground dogma into dust with the fine point of a stiletto, leads us into the wide-open spaces of faith.”—Brittney Cooper, author of Eloquent Rage and co-editor of The Crunk Feminist Collection Blurring the boundaries of righteous and irreverent, Red Lip Theology invites us to discover freedom in a progressive Christian faith that incorporates activism, feminism, and radical authenticity. Essayist and theologian Candice Marie Benbow’s essays explore universal themes like heartache, loss, forgiveness, and sexuality, and she unflinchingly empowers women who struggle with feeling loved and nurtured by church culture. Benbow writes powerfully about experiences at the heart of her Black womanhood. In honoring her single mother’s love and triumphs—and mourning her unexpected passing—she finds herself forced to shed restrictions she’d been taught to place on her faith practice. And by embracing alternative spirituality and womanist theology, and confronting staid attitudes on body positivity and LGBTQ+ rights, Benbow challenges religious institutions, faith leaders, and communities to reimagine how faith can be a tool of liberation and transformation for women and girls.

Leading a Life of Balance Jun 29 2021 Most of us desire to have balance in our routines. We want to get to the place where our household, work, diet, rest, and exercise schedules are all in perfect harmony. But as believers, we know that if we don't have spiritual balance, we will never truly have balance in any other area of life. For this reason, we have to consider the state of our heart and determine whether anything is taking priority over God. In this study, readers will have the opportunity to examine our levels of balance and see how they measure up against Jesus' example. For it is only when we start within—and allow God to work in us—that we can find the equilibrium we need.

Women of Faith in the Latter Days Jan 17 2023 This groundbreaking series recounts the lives of women of faith and dedication in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Often in their own words, they share their trials, triumphs, and testimonies. This fourth volume features women born between 1872 and 1900 whose stories explore a comparatively untapped era in Mormon history. This generation of Latter-day Saint women experienced firsthand the challenges of the Mexican Revolution, World War I, and World War II. They also witnessed the unprecedented global expansion of the Church and the first young women to serve as proselytizing missionaries. You will become reacquainted not only with such well-known figures as general Relief Society president Belle S. Spafford and Camilla Eyring Kimball, wife of President Spencer W. Kimball, but will also meet Kasimira Viktoria Cwiklinski Wurscher, who led the Relief Society in communist East Germany for more than twenty years; Edith Papworth Weenig Tanner, a British spy during World War I; and Maria Guadalupe Monroy Mera, who endured deep persecution, including the martyrdom of her brother, for her family's acceptance of the restored gospel in Mexico. The faith these women exhibited as they rejoiced in blessings and dealt with struggles provides a model for us today in facing our own challenges as we too strive to build lives of faith.

Women of the Bible and Contemporary Women of Faith Aug 24 2023 This book focuses on a selected sample of women of faith from the Bible to contemporary times. It addresses how these women have been change agents in multiple facets of life, including in the family, in politics, and in the wider society. While their underlying connection can be seen as their faith in God and their willingness to serve, their vulnerability has also been evident. For the reader seeking to increase his or her faith in God and develop a closer spiritual walk, and for any whose interest lies in recognizing the similarities between biblical times and the present, this review that ranges from Eve through Mother Teresa through Oprah and Malala should be a must-read.

But they had no idea how their love, faith, and trust would be put to the test until a gang of murderers kidnapped them by mistake. Then the gang wanted to abuse, rape and murder them. But these young misguided men didn't know that God could override their plans and set these brave faithful women on their new path for His Glory. As the women suited up for the battle of their lives, with God's Word, and fire in their hearts, they knew that God and His angels would be right there fighting with them. Women of Faith and Courage Mar 31 2024 "Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace..." (1 Peter 4:10). The women whose stories are in these pages display many exceptional traits. They are wise, dependable, thrifty, energetic, and unselfish. They are good wives, mothers, daughters, sisters, and friends. Some will stand out in one or more of these spheres, while others will shine in different areas. But there is one thing they all have in common: they were all very courageous. How do these women show their courage? Many will exhibit grace under fire. They have a strong presence of mind. They are able to act decisively because they are sure of their convictions. A courageous woman can say, "I'm sorry," and mean it. She is gracious. Courageous women depend on God. They trust Him and accept His will in their lives. They are willing to accept what God gives them in their lives. When they perceive His will, they put their all into the tasks before them. Brave women are willing to take a stand for what they believe. They will draw a line in the sand and not cross it. Unjust powers, no matter how fearsome, will not deter them from their righteous goals. Courageous women also love others. They are unselfish. They put the needs of others ahead of their own. Their confidence in God's call in their lives is high enough to free them to be able to act independently. Women of courage will share Christ's gospel of peace, forgiveness, joy, and love with others. We live in uncertain times. Only the courageous woman will get through the perils holding her head up high. In these stories, we have examples before us of how a victorious life can be lived.

Defiant Women of Faith Mar 26 2021 Describing a woman as defiant can generate an unsettling response. Some aren't comfortable with women, especially women of faith, being defiant. Discomfort, however, is not necessarily a bad thing. Growth often stems from our places of discomfort. I would argue that defiance is not a dirty word from which women should disassociate. In some respects, defiance is the only appropriate response for women who are determined to live authentic and free in a world that is designed to keep women in a certain place. A little defiant faith is a requirement for women seeking to live the abundant, authentic lives Jesus afforded us."
