Criteria and Indicators for Sustainable Forest Management

Robert John Raison, Alan Gordon Brown, David W. Flinn, 2001 There is increasing pressure on the forestry industry to adopt sustainable practices but a lack of knowledge about how to facilitate this and how to measure sustainability This book reviews current thinking about scientifically based indicators and sustainable management of natural forests and plantations Information is applicable to boreal temperate and tropical biomes The contents have been developed from papers presented at a IUFRO conference held in Australia in order to develop a state of the art report on this subject

Neuromarketing

Leon Zurawicki, 2010-09-02 Over the last 10 years advances in the new field of neuromarketing have yielded a host of findings which defy common stereotypes about consumer behavior Reason and emotions do not necessarily appear as opposing forces Rather they complement one another Hence it reveals that consumers utilize mental accounting processes different from those assumed in marketers' logical inferences when it comes to time problems with rating and choosing and in post purchase evaluation People are often guided by illusions not only when they perceive the outside world but also when planning their actions and consumer behavior is no exception Strengthening the control over their own desires and the ability to navigate the maze of data are crucial skills consumers can gain to benefit themselves marketers and the public Understanding the mind of the consumer is the hardest task faced by business researchers This book presents the first analytical perspective on the brain and biometric studies which open a new frontier in market research
