Recent writings on Pakistan have tended to focus on the role of the Pakistan Army the nuclear programme terrorism Pak Afghan and Pak US relations and of course Indo Pak relations Pakistan Courting the Abyss goes beyond sensationalist headlines and current crises like terrorism and tensions with India to the deeper malaise that afflicts the nation The book examines issues like identity the looming water crisis the perilous state of education the economic meltdown and the danger of an unrealized demographic dividend that have been eating the innards of Pakistan since its creation It looks back at the Pakistan movement where the seeds of many current problems were sown the opportunistic use of religion being the most lethal of these Pakistan Courting the Abyss questions the flawed prescriptions and responses of successive governments especially during military rule to these critical challenges that have brought Pakistan to an abyss where it risks multi organ failure unless things change dramatically in the near future

Student Learning in South Asia: Challenges, Opportunities, and Policy Priorities Halil Dundar, Tara Beteille, Michelle Riboud, 2014-07-07 For the past decade most South Asian countries have directed their efforts towards achieving universal access to elementary education While these investments have led to more children being retained in school they have not translated into better learning outcomes This report comprehensively analyzes the performance of South Asian educational systems in terms of student learning It attempts to answer three questions How well do education systems in South Asia perform What determines student learning outcomes What policy options are effective in improving learning outcomes especially given increasing demand and competition for public resources Because learning outcomes and skill acquisition in the region are low in both absolute and relative terms schooling does not translate as it should into better life chances including escape from poverty for many more Nor does schooling contribute to higher productivity and economic growth so that countries in the region find it difficult to accelerate economic and social development Governments in the region now fully realize that they need to direct their attention toward improving quality so that students can aspire to fuller lives as both individuals and labor market participants Merely spending time in school is not enough students need to register a significant gain in both noncognitive and cognitive skills if countries in the region are to reap full returns on their investments and generate gains in employment job creation and productivity To examine what policies hold promise for improving student learning the report reviews evidence from large scale national learning assessments and findings from impact evaluations being conducted in the region It identifies the following strategic priorities for improving learning outcomes in South Asia

- 1 Make learning outcomes the central goal of education policy
- 2 Invest in early childhood nutrition
- 3 Improve teacher effectiveness and accountability
- 4 Provide additional support to disadvantaged children in early grades
- 5 Use financing effectively
- 6 Leverage the contribution of the non state sector and
- 7 Build learning assessment systems

Each of these policy options will need to be integrated within a larger agenda of inclusive economic growth and governance reform to be truly effective

The First Anglo-Sikh War Amarpal Singh, 2017-08-25 During the eighteenth and early years of the nineteenth century the red tide of British expansion had covered almost the entire Indian subcontinent stretching to the borders of the Punjab There the great Sikh ruler Ranjit Singh had developed his military forces to thwart any British advance into his kingdom north of the River Sutlej Yet on the death of Ranjit Singh unworthy successors and disparate forces fought over his legacy while the British East India Company seized on the opportunity and prepared for battle In the winter of 1845 the First Anglo Sikh War broke out Amarpal S Sidhu writes a warts and all tale of a conflict characterized by treachery tragedy and incredible bravery on both sides In an innovative approach to history writing the narrative of the campaign is accompanied by battlefield guides that draw on eyewitness accounts and invite the reader to take a tour of the battlefields either physically or virtually

The Second Nuclear Age Paul Bracken,2012-11-13 A leading international security strategist offers a compelling new way to think about the unthinkable The cold war ended more than two decades ago and with its end came a reduction in the threat of nuclear weapons a luxury that we can no longer indulge It s not just the threat of Iran getting the bomb or North Korea doing something rash the whole complexion of global power politics is changing because of the reemergence of nuclear weapons as a vital element of statecraft and power politics In short we have entered the second nuclear age In this provocative and agenda setting book Paul Bracken of Yale University argues that we need to pay renewed attention to nuclear weapons and how their presence will transform the way crises develop and escalate He draws on his years of experience analyzing defense strategy to make the case that the United States needs to start thinking seriously about these issues once again especially as new countries acquire nuclear capabilities He walks us through war game scenarios that are all too realistic to show how nuclear weapons are changing the calculus of power politics and he offers an incisive tour of the Middle East South Asia and East Asia to underscore how the United States must not allow itself to be unprepared for managing such crises Frank in its tone and farsighted in its analysis The Second Nuclear Age is the essential guide to the new rules of international politics

Playing It My Way Sachin Tendulkar,2014-11-06 I don t think anyone apart from Don Bradman is in the same class as Sachin Tendulkar Shane Warne Readers are in love with Sachin Tendulkar s autobiography A must read for anyone who knows cricket An idol An inspiration A great book by one of the all time greats Brings back so many wonderful memories This book has made me feel proud to be a lover of the game and has inspired me to succeed in everything I do The story of the greatest cricket player of all time told in his own words _____ The greatest run scorer in the history of cricket Sachin Tendulkar retired in 2013 after an astonishing 24 years at the top The most celebrated Indian cricketer of all time he received the Bharat Ratna Award India s highest civilian honour on the day of his retirement Now Sachin Tendulkar tells his own remarkable story from his first Test cap at the age of 16 to his 100th international century and the emotional final farewell that brought his country to a standstill When a boisterous Mumbai youngster s excess energies were channelled into cricket the result was record breaking schoolboy batting exploits that launched the career of a cricketing phenomenon Before long Sachin Tendulkar was the cornerstone of India s batting line up his every move watched by a cricket mad nation s devoted

Nomura,2020-03-06 Countries that have sustained rapid growth over decades have typically had a strong public commitment to expanding education as well as to improving learning outcomes South Asian countries have made considerable progress in expanding access to primary and secondary schooling with countries having achieved near universal enrollment of the primary school age cohort ages 6 11 except for Afghanistan and Pakistan Secondary enrollment shows an upward trend as well Beyond school many more people have access to skilling opportunities and higher education today Although governments have consistently pursued policies to expand access a prominent feature of the region has been the role played by nonstate actors private nonprofit and forprofit entities in expanding access at every level of education Though learning levels remain low countries in the region have shown a strong commitment to improving learning All countries in South Asia have taken the first step which is to assess learning outcomes regularly Since 2010 there has been a rapid increase in the number of large scale student learning assessments conducted in the region But to use the findings of these assessments to improve schooling countries must build their capacity to design assessments and analyze and use findings to inform policy

Learning Levels and Gaps in Pakistan Jishnu Das,Priyanka Pandey,Tristan Zajonc,2006 Abstract The authors report on a survey of primary public and private schools in rural Pakistan with a focus on student achievement as measured through test scores Absolute learning is low compared with curricular standards and international norms Tested at the end of the third grade a bare majority had mastered the K I mathematics curriculum and 31 percent could correctly form a sentence with the word school in the vernacular Urdu As in high income countries bivariate comparisons show that higher learning is associated with household wealth and parental literacy In sharp contrast to high income countries these gaps decrease dramatically in a multivariate regression once differences between children in the same school are looked at. Consequently the largest gaps are between schools. The gap in English test scores between government and private schools for instance is 12 times the gap between children from rich and poor families. To contextualize these results within a broader South Asian context the authors use data from public schools in the state of Uttar Pradesh in India. Levels of learning and the structure of the educational gaps are similar in the two samples. As in Pakistan absolute learning is low and the largest gaps are between schools the gap between good and bad government schools for instance is 5 times the gap between children with literate and illiterate mothers.
