The Little Shadows Marina Endicott, 2011-09-27 Here is the eagerly anticipated new novel from a brilliant writer whose last book Good to a Fault was shortlisted for the prestigious Giller Prize and won the Commonwealth Prize for Canada and the Caribbean. The Little Shadows revolves around three sisters in the world of vaudeville before and during the First World War. We follow the lives of all three in turn: Aurora, the eldest and most beautiful who is sixteen when the book opens; thoughtful Clover, a year younger; and the youngest sister, joyous headstrong sprite Bella, who is thirteen. The girls, overseen by their fond but barely coping Mama, are forced to make their living as a singing act after the untimely death of their father. They begin with little besides youth and hope, but Marina Endicott's genius is to show how the three girls slowly and steadily evolve into true artists, even as they navigate their way to adulthood among a cast of extraordinary characters, some of them charming charlatans, some of them unpredictable eccentrics, and some of them just ordinary seeming humans with magical gifts. Using her gorgeous prose and extraordinary insight, Endicott lures us onto the brightly lit stage and then into the little shadows that lurk behind the curtain, and reveals how the art of vaudeville, in all its variety, madness, melodrama, hilarity, and sorrow, echoes the art of life itself.

Good to a Fault Marina Endicott, 2013-06-04 In a moment of self-absorption, Clara Purdy's life takes a sharp left turn when she crashes into a beat-up car carrying an itinerant family of six. The Gage family had been travelling to a new life in Fort McMurray but bruises on the mother, Lorraine, prove to be late-stage cancer rather than remnants of the accident. Recognizing their need as her responsibility, Clara tries to do the right thing and moves the children, husband, and horrible grandmother into her own house, then has to cope with the consequences of practical goodness. What exactly does it mean to be good? When is sacrifice merely selfishness? What do we owe in this life, and what do we deserve? Marina Endicott looks at life and death through the compassionate lens of a born novelist, being good, being at fault, and finding some balance on the precipice.

The Difference Marina Endicott, 2019-09-03 A major new novel by the award-winning author of Good to a Fault and The Little Shadows about two sisters who live aboard a merchant ship on a fateful voyage through the South Pacific. Up from underneath comes a blue-black swell, a whale rising in a long arc. Kay waits, hovering in the difference between herself and the creature. What is the difference between ourselves and other humans? Between human and animal? Where does that difference persist in our minds? These are the questions Marina Endicott, one of our most beloved storytellers, explores in this sweeping, intoxicating novel set on the Morning Light, a ship from Nova Scotia sailing the South Pacific in 1912. Thea and Kay are half-sisters separated in age by more than a decade. After the death of their stern father, head of a residential school in western Canada, the elder sister Thea returns east for her long-awaited marriage to the captain of the ship. She cannot abandon her younger sister, so Kay joins her, and together they embark on a life-changing voyage around the world. At the heart of The Difference is one crystallizing moment in Micronesia. Thea forms a bond with a young boy from one of the islands and takes him as her own The repercussions of this act reverberate through the novel forcing Kay to examine her own assumptions about what is forgivable and what is right Taking inspiration from the true story of a small boy who was brought on board a Canadian sailing ship in the South Seas Marina Endicott shows us a vanished world in all its wildness and wonder and its darkness prejudice and difficulty too She also brilliantly illuminates our own times through Kay's preoccupation with the idea of difference between people classes continents cultures customs and species A breathtaking tour de force by one of our most celebrated authors a writer with the astonishing ability to bring a past world to vivid life while revealing the moral complexity of our own

Miss Mole E.H. Young,2020-10-01 Young is a sharp and funny writer with a brilliant eye for moral fudging and verbal hypocrisy and she has a splendid foil in Miss Mole Sally Beauman WINNER OF THE JAMES TAIT BLACK MEMORIAL PRIZE Who would suspect her sense of fun and irony of a passionate love for beauty and the power to drag it from its hidden places Who would imagine that Miss Mole had pictured herself at different times as an explorer in strange lands as a lady wrapped in luxury and delicate garments Miss Hannah Mole has for twenty years earned her living precariously as a governess or companion to a succession of difficult old women Now aged forty a thin and shabby figure she returns to Radstowe the lovely city of her youth Here she is if not exactly welcomed at least employed as housekeeper by the pompous Reverend Robert Corder whose daughters are sorely in need of guidance But even the dreariest situation can be transformed into an adventure by the indomitable Miss Mole Blessed with imagination wit and intelligence she wins the affection of Ethel and her nervous sister Ruth But her past holds a secret that if brought to life would jeopardise everything

Brat Farrar Josephine Tey,2012-12-25 What begins as a ploy to claim an inheritance ends with the impostor's life hanging in the balance In this tale of mystery and suspense a stranger enters the inner sanctum of the Ashby family posing as Patrick Ashby the heir to the family's sizable fortune The stranger Brat Farrar has been carefully coached on Patrick's mannerism's appearance and every significant detail of Patrick's early life up to his thirteenth year when he disappeared and was thought to have drowned himself It seems as if Brat is going to pull off this most incredible deception until old secrets emerge that jeopardize the impostor's plan and his life Culminating in a final terrible moment when all is revealed Brat Farrar is a precarious adventure that grips the reader early and firmly and then holds on until the explosive conclusion

Montana ,1927 The View from Castle Rock Alice Munro,2006-11-07 WINNER OF THE NOBEL PRIZE IN LITERATURE 2013 Alice Munro mines her rich family background melding it with her own experiences and the transforming power of her brilliant imagination to create perhaps her most powerful and personal collection yet A young boy taken to Edinburgh's Castle Rock to look across the sea to America catches a glimpse of his father's dream Scottish immigrants experience love and loss on a journey that leads them to rural Ontario Wives mothers fathers and children move through uncertainty ambivalence and contemplation in these stories of hopes adversity and wonder The View from Castle Rock reveals what is most essential in Munro's art her compassionate understanding of ordinary lives

Room Emma Donoghue, 2017-05-07 Kidnapped as a teenage girl Ma has been locked inside a purpose built room in her captor's garden for seven years Her five year old son Jack has no concept of the world outside and happily exists inside Room with the help of Ma's games and his vivid imagination where objects like Rug Lamp and TV are his only friends But for Ma the time has come to escape and face their biggest challenge to date the world outside Room Ripley Under Ground Patricia Highsmith, 2008-09-17 Ripley is an unmistakable descendant of Gatsby that penniless young man without a past who will stop at nothing Frank Rich Now part of American film and literary lore Tom Ripley a bisexual psychopath and art forger who murders without remorse when his comforts are threatened New York Times Book Review was Patricia Highsmith's favorite creation In these volumes we find Ripley ensconced on a French estate with a wealthy wife a world class art collection and a past to hide In Ripley Under Ground 1970 an art forgery goes awry and Ripley is threatened with exposure in The Boy Who Followed Ripley 1980 Highsmith explores Ripley's bizarrely paternal relationship with a troubled young runaway whose abduction draws them into Berlin's seamy underworld and in Ripley Under Water 1991 Ripley is confronted by a snooping American couple obsessed with the disappearance of an art collector who visited Ripley years before More than any other American literary character Ripley provides a lens to peer into the sinister machinations of human behavior John Freeman Pittsburgh Gazette The Cat's Table Michael Ondaatje, 2012-06-12 From Michael Ondaatje an electrifying novel by turns thrilling and deeply moving one of his most vividly rendered and compelling works of fiction to date In the early 1950s an eleven year old boy boards a huge liner bound for England At mealtimes he is placed at the lowly Cat's Table with an eccentric and unforgettable group of grownups and two other boys As the ship makes its way across the Indian Ocean through the Suez Canal into the Mediterranean the boys find themselves immersed in the worlds and stories of the adults around them At night they spy on a shackled prisoner his crime and fate a galvanizing mystery that will haunt them forever Looking back from deep within adulthood and gradually moving back and forth from the decks and holds of the ship to the years that follow the narrator unfolds a spellbinding and layered tale about the magical often forbidden discoveries of childhood and the burdens of earned understanding about a life long journey that began unexpectedly with a sea voyage Pigeon English Stephen Kelman, 2012-01-05 Eleven year old Harrison Opoku the second best runner in Year 7 races through his new life in England with his personalised trainers the Adidas stripes drawn on with marker pen blissfully unaware of the very real threat around him Newly arrived from Ghana with his mother and older sister Lydia Harri absorbs the many strange elements of city life from the bewildering array of Haribo sweets to the frightening fascinating gang of older boys from his school But his life is changed forever when one of his friends is murdered As the victim's nearly new football boots hang in tribute on railings behind fluorescent tape and a police appeal draws only silence Harri decides to act unwittingly endangering the fragile web his mother has spun around her family to keep them safe Monoculture F. S. Michaels, 2011-04-25 Winner of the George Orwell Award One of The Atlantic's best books of the year As human beings we've always told stories stories about who we are where we come from and where we re going Now imagine that one of those stories is taking over the others narrowing our diversity and creating a monoculture Because of the rise of the economic story six areas of your world your work your relationships with others and the environment your community your physical and spiritual health your education and your creativity are changing or have already changed in subtle and not so subtle ways And because how you think shapes how you act the monoculture isn t just changing your mind it s changing your life In Monoculture F S Michaels draws on extensive research and makes surprising connections among disciplines to take a big picture look at how one story is changing everything Her research and writing have been supported by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada the Killam Trusts and regional and municipal arts councils Michaels has an MBA and completed five years of PhD studies in Organizational Analysis She lives in British Columbia Canada A single lucid narrative that s bound to first make you somewhat uncomfortable and insecure then give you the kind of pause from which you can step back and move forward with more autonomy authenticity and mindfulness than ever The Atlantic A thin enrapturing gem It s accessible sensible exactly the sort of book that should have and still could should take off and create a tiny little dent in books Kenyon Review A smart and realistic guide to first recognizing the monoculture and the challenges of transcending its limitations Maria Popova BrainPickings org I found myself reading non stop underlining like crazy an astute explanation about what I ve been feeling recently something I couldn t put my finger on Michaels writes in clear energetic prose that s thoughtful engaging and unforced She defines and analyzes without judgment or insistence a breath of fresh air NPR a singularly brilliant and accessible analysis of some of the fundamental assumptions and driving principles of our time Comment Magazine 5 stars The cause and effect of our world is more surprising than you d think With intriguing notions about the driving ideas of stories in every shape of our life Monoculture is an incredibly fascinating way about how the mind works and today s consumer culture Midwest Book Review If you just read one book this year read this one BuriedInPrint com Holy Ghost Girl Donna M. Johnson,2012-10-02 Recounts the author s childhood as an organist s daughter for tent revivalist David Terrell describing her witness to his mass miracles and his morally corrupt activities behind the scenes Too Much Happiness Alice Munro,2009-08-25 This stunning collection of stories demonstrates once again why Alice Munro is celebrated as a pre eminent master of the short story While some of the stories are traditional set in Alice Munro Country in Ontario or in B C dealing with ordinary women s lives others have a new sharper edge They involve child murders strange sex and a terrifying home invasion By way of astonishing variety the title story set in Victorian Europe follows the last journey from France to Sweden of a famous Russian mathematician This daring superb collection proves that Alice Munro will always surprise you Close to Hugh Marina Endicott,2015-05-26 Close to Hugh takes an exuberantly existential look at youth and age art and life love and death over one week in the world of gallery owner Hugh Argyll On Monday a fall from a ladder leaves Hugh with a fractured vision of the pain dying parents shaky marriages failure of every kind suffered by those close to him His friends are one missed ladder rung from going under emotionally physically and financially Somebody s got to fix them all And it probably has to be Hugh Meanwhile beneath the adult orbit bright young lives are taking form the sons and daughters of Hugh s friends are about to graduate from high school and already floating away from the gravitational pull of their parents As complicated bonds form and break in texts and ticks on multiplying media the desires terrors and revelations of adolescence are mirrored in the second adolescence of the adults With insight and mastery Endicott creates surprising parallel worlds Her ear for the cadences and concerns of two generations gives us both sets of friends on the cusp of reinvention And as always in Endicott s multi layered fiction below the surface tragicomedy lies something profound a rare and rich perspective on what it means to fall and rise and fall again and what in the end we owe to those we love
