In the 1200s and 1300s, Italy had the most cities in Europe. Venice, Milan, and Florence were bustling centers of industry and commerce. Venice built itself on trade, and its people had a long history of trading. By the 1500s, however, large cities had also sprouted in Northern Europe. These cities included Paris, Amsterdam, London, and others. Their growth was fueled by trade, manufacturing, and growing populations. As cities grew, a vast trading network spread across Northern Europe, resulting in the movement of people, goods, and ideas.
