Heart, Smarts, Guts, and Luck Anthony K. Tjan, Richard J. Harrington, Tsun-Yan Hsieh, 2012 Examines the traits that define most people who achieve success heart smarts guts and luck and helps readers to determine which traits they possess

Heart, Smarts, Guts, and Luck Anthony K. Tjan, Richard J. Harrington, Tsun-Yan Hsieh, 2012-07-17 What's your entrepreneurial profile Do you have what it takes to build a great business In this book three prominent business leaders and entrepreneurs now venture capitalists and CEO advisers share the qualities that surface again and again in those who successfully achieve their goals The common traits Heart smarts guts and luck After interviewing and researching hundreds of business builders across the globe the authors found that every one of them from young founder to seasoned CEO holds a combination of these four attributes Indeed each of us tends to be biased toward one of these traits in our decision making and figuring out which trait drives you will lead to greater self awareness and likelihood of success in starting and growing a business So are you Heart dominant like renowned chef Alice Waters or Starbucks's Howard Schultz Smarts dominant like Jeff Bezos of Amazon or legendary investor Warren Buffett Guts dominant like Nelson Mandela or Virgin's Richard Branson Or are you most defined by the luck trait like Tony Hsieh of Zappos and a surprisingly high proportion of other successful entrepreneurs Heart Smarts Guts and Luck includes the first Entrepreneurial Aptitude Test E A T a simple tool to help determine your specific profile Though no single archetype for entrepreneurial success exists this book will help you understand which traits to dial up or dial down to realize your full potential and when these traits are most and least helpful or even detrimental during critical points of a company lifecycle Not only will you know how to build a better business faster you'll also take your natural leadership style to the next level

Good People Anthony K. Tjan, 2017 Based on the viral Harvard Business Review article bestselling author Anthony Tjan argues that leaders have a new imperative you must have competent people on your team but more importantly they must also be of high character As a leader you need to help develop and mentor for character further Until now we have only had ways of assessing competency in business but we must also have the tools to help us judge develop and lead good people Author of the bestselling Heart Smarts Guts and Luck and venture capitalist Anthony Tjan offers insight into and a methodology for developing character first in yourself and in those around you Good people are your organization's most important competitive advantage We all know that finding good people is difficult as being good on paper doesn't always translate to being good in practice While competence is necessary Tjan argues that goodness is just as crucial as what's on a resume and that a fantastic resume can never compensate for mediocre character Yet most people who are in the business of finding and developing good people still focus on the what more than the who of the individuals surrounding them Tjan writes that character is a lifelong proactive commitment that like any skill can be exercised honed and developed Only when leaders learn to develop these qualities in themselves and others will great and lasting change take place throughout an organization Good People establishes a new understanding of goodness a word we use frequently in business without always understanding what we mean Tjan also profiles good people who are extraordinary leaders and motivators in their fields providing insights from Tony Hsieh of Zappos Beth Comstock of GE Dominic Barton of McKinsey author Deepak Chopra M D Dean Nitin Nohria of Harvard Business School Army General ret Stanley McChrystal jazz pianist Herbie Hancock and a range of everyday unsung heroes Packed with practical often surprising advice Good Peoples shows that the most transformative changes in business and life come down to the people we choose and who choose us and the values of goodness we have in common
