God Dies by the Nile Nawāl Sa'dāwī, 1985 Nawal el Saadawi s classic tale attempts to square Islam with a society in which women are respected as equals is as relevant today as ever People have become corrupt everywhere You can search in vain for Islam or a devout Muslim They no longer exist Kafr El Teen is a beautiful sleepy village on the banks of the Nile Yet at its heart it is tyrannical and corrupt The Mayor Sheikh Hamzawi of the mosque and the Chief of the Village Guard are obsessed by wealth and use and abuse the women of the village taking them as slaves marrying them and beating them Resistance it seems is futile Zakeya an ordinary villager works in the fields by the Nile and watches the world squatting in the dusty entrance to her house quietly accepting her fate It is only when her nieces fall prey to the Mayor that Zakeya becomes enraged by the injustice of her society and possessed by demons Where is the loving and peaceful God in whom Zakeya believes

Walking Through Fire Nawāl Sa'dāwī, 2002-04 Famous for her novels short stories and writings on women Saadawi is known as the first Arab woman to write about sex and its relation to economics and politics Imprisoned under Sadat for her opinions she has continued to fight against all forms of discrimination based on class gender nation race or religion In A Daughter of Isis she painted a portrait of the childhood that moulded her into a novelist and fighter for freedom and the rights of women This autobiography takes up the story of her extraordinary life

A Daughter of Isis Nawal El Saadawi, 2013-04-04 Against the white sand the contours of my father's body were well defined emphasized its existence in a world where everything was liquid where the blue of the sea melted into the blue of the sky with nothing between This independent existence was to become the outer world the world of my father of land country religion language moral codes It was to become the world around me A world made of male bodies in which my female body lived Nawal El Saadawi has been pilloried censored imprisoned and exiled for her refusal to accept the oppressions imposed on women by gender and class For her writing and action have been inseparable and this is reflected in some of the most evocative and disturbing novels ever written about Arab women Born in a small Egyptian village in 1931 she eluded the grasp of suitors before whom her family displayed her when she was still ten years old and went on to qualify as a medical doctor In 1969 she published her first work of non fiction Women and Sex in 1972 she was dismissed from her profession because of her political activism From then on there was no respite imprisonment under Sadat in 1981 was the culmination of the long struggle she had waged for Egyptian women's social and intellectual freedom in 1992 her name appeared on a death list issued by a fundamentalist group after which she went into exile for five years Since then she has devoted her time to writing novels and essays and to her activities as a worldwide speaker on women's issues A Daughter of Isis is the autobiography of this extraordinary woman In it she paints a sensuously textured portrait of the childhood that produced the freedom fighter We see how she moulded her own creative power into a weapon how from an early age the use of words became an act of rebellion against injustice

Searching Nawal El Saadawi, 1991-04 Fouada meets Farid her lover every Tuesday in a restaurant overlooking the Nile But this week their usual table is deserted She calls his home but the shrilling of the telephone echoes in an empty room Farid has disappeared As she searches for him Fouada becomes tormented by questions She is a trained research chemist but works in a dead end ministry job Convinced that she has something to give to the world she cannot find it What is it Why does she search Searching expresses the poignancy of loss and doubt with the hypnotic intensity of a remembered dream

Diary of a Child Called Souad Nawal El Saadawi, 2016-05-18 Diary of a Child Called Souad is Nawal El Saadawi's first autobiography written at the age of ten in the form of fiction as she explores her early awakening to the world around her Now known for her bold spirit and probing mind El Saadawi in this novel uncovers through a child's eyes the hypocritical values and traditions carried on by family education religion and society

With amazing courage she weaves a tale of the fear guilt and repressive compliance forced upon her as a woman and upon her generation as the price to be paid for leading a civilized existence Struggling to come to terms with taboos concerning her maturing body the young Nawal s writing reveals the makings of a revolutionary spirit and relentlessly analytical mind A must read for devotees of El Saadawi s writing to witness an early record of the maturing of her thoughts and the shaping of her ideas

Woman at Point Zero Nawal El Saadawi,2007-06 All the men I did get to know every single man of them has filled me with but one desire to lift my hand and bring it smashing down on his face But because I am a woman I have never had the courage to lift my hand And because I am a prostitute I hid my fear under layers of make up ExcerptThis is a new edition of the best selling novel with a specially commissioned new Foreword by Miriam Cooke The Novel Nawal El Saadawi,2009 The novel caused tremendous outrage So begins Nawal El Saadawi s tenth novel And indeed when the famous Egyptian psychiatrist and writer released The Novel in 2005 it was banned all over the Arab world But the novel inside The Novel is by a young woman a woman who is only 23 years old who has no family no university degree no national identity card whose name does not appear on this lists of prominent women writers A woman that is whose biography is as unlike Saadawi s own as possible as if she has stripped herself of all the effects of her own worldly existence to explore something earlier more elemental than the political work for which she is so well known In following the life of this young unnamed woman writer as it intersects with those of a famous writer named Rostum his wife Carmen and a poet called Miriam El Saadawi gives us a deeply felt exploration of the nature of identity of fame of writing and of freedom

Walking through Fire Nawal El Saadawi,2013-04-04 In A Daughter of Isis Nawal El Saadawi painted a beautifully textured portrait of the childhood that moulded her into a novelist and fearless campaigner for freedom and the rights of women Walking through Fire takes up the story of her extraordinary life Famous for her novels short stories and writings on women Saadawi is known as the first Arab woman to have written about sex and its relation to economics and politics Imprisoned under Sadat for her opinions she has continued to fight against all forms of discrimination based on class gender nationality race or religion This autobiography shows the passion for justice that has shaped her life and her writing We read about her as a rural doctor trying to help a young girl escape from a terrible fate imposed on her by a brutal male tyranny We follow her attempts to set up women s organizations and to publish magazines later banned by the authorities or endangered by fundamentalist threats We travel with her into exile after the publication of her name on a death list We witness her first marriage to a freedom fighter hounded into drug addiction by a system that has no mercy We share her struggle against her false self and a second husband who offers her financial security and comfort provided she stops writing We live the beautiful moments of her third marriage with a man released after fourteen years of imprisonment and hard labour their love companionship and shared struggle Nawal El Saadawi has carved a place for herself in the universal struggle against oppression Words should not seek to please to hide the wounds in our bodies or the shameful moments in our lives she says They may hurt give us pain but they can also provoke us to question what we have accepted for thousands of years
