Contemporary Human Geography James M. Rubenstein, 2011-12-28 Contemporary Human Geography is a beautifully crafted modular springboard into essential human and cultural geography concepts designed for the contemporary geography student This brief innovative text explores current human geography in the bold visual style that distinguishes Dorling Kindersley DK publications Topics within each chapter are organized into modular self contained two page spreads Together with the graphics Rubenstein s efficient writing engages students presenting information clearly without sacrificing the high quality geography content essential to students and instructors

The Nile: Natural and Cultural Landscape in Egypt Harco Willems, Jan-Michael Dahms, 2017-03-31 Although Herodot s dictum that Egypt is a gift of the Nile is proverbial there has been only scant attention to the way the river impacted on ancient Egyptian society Egyptologists frequently focus on the textual and iconographic record whereas archaeologists and earth scientists approach the issue from the perspective of natural sciences The contributions in this volume bridge this gap by analyzing the river both as a natural and as a cultural phenomenon Adopting an approach of cultural ecology it addresses issues like ancient land use administration and taxation irrigation and religious concepts

Everyday America Chris Wilson, Paul Erling Groth, 2003-03-03 A collection of seventeen essays examining the field of American cultural landscapes past and present The role of J B Jackson and his influence on the field is explored in many of them
Spaces and Meanings Olga Lavrenova, 2019-03-25 This book examines the problem of relationships between culture and space Highlighting the use of semiotics of culture as a basic concept of research it describes the power of the cultural landscape in the context of culture philosophical research Opening with a discussion of the existence of culture in space it establishes basic concepts such as noosphere and pneumatosphere The author acknowledges the early contributions of thinkers like Vladimir Vernadsky and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin who first observed that human activity has become a geological force. Introducing time and space to the discussion, the author then describes the nature of mythological time, eternity versus timelessness, and the semantics of sacred landscapes, space and ritual. These concepts are further developed in discussions of the metaphorical nature of cultural landscape and the city as metaphor. The book explores semiotics in the cultural landscape, examining the genesis of concepts from geographical images to signs and the axiological dimension of geographical images. In her approach to the idea of cultural landscape as text, she provides detailed examples, including the Russian landscape as agent provocateur of the text and the culture philosophical aspects and semantics of travel. It establishes the cultural landscape as a phenomenon of culture that is fixed in geographical space with the help of semiotic mechanisms, a specific area of culture of life possessing functional and ontological self-sufficiency. This book appeals to readers and researchers interested in the philosophy of culture, semiotics of space, and the philosophical dimensions of culture and geography.

Study Guide for the Cultural Landscape James Rubenstein, Marc Healy, Bob Nunley, 2010-08-16

The Cultural Landscape & Heritage Paradox Tom Bloemers, Henk Kars, Arnold Van der Valk, 2010. The basic problem is to what extent we can know past and mainly invisible landscapes and how we can use this still hidden knowledge for actual sustainable management of landscape's cultural and historical values. It has also been acknowledged that heritage management is increasingly about the management of future change rather than simply protection. This presents us with a paradox: to preserve our historic environment, we have to collaborate with those who wish to transform it, and in order to apply our expert knowledge, we have to make it suitable for policy and society. The answer presented by the Protection and Development of the Dutch Archaeological Historical Landscape programme (pdL bbo) is an integrative landscape approach which applies inter- and transdisciplinarity, establishing links between archaeological historical heritage and planning, and between research and policy.

Cultural Landscapes of South Asia Kapila D. Silva, Amita Sinha, 2016-10-14. Winner of the Environmental Design Research Association's 2018 Achievement Award. The pluralism of South Asia belies any singular reading of its heritage. In spite of this diversity, its cultural traditions retain certain attributes that are at their core South Asian: in their capacity to self-organize, enact, and reinvent cultural memories, and in their ability to retain an intimate connection with nature and landscape This volume focuses on the notion of cultural landscape as a medium integrating multiple forms of heritage and points to a new paradigm for conservation practices in the South Asian context Even though the construct of cultural landscape has been accepted as a category of heritage its potent use in heritage management in general and within the South Asian context in particular has not been widely studied The volume challenges the prevalent views of heritage management in South Asia that are entrenched in colonial legacies and contemporary global policy frameworks

The Religious and Cultural Landscape of Ottoman Manastir Robert Mihajlovski,2021-09-06 In this ground breaking work on the Ottoman town of Manastir Bitola Robert Mihajlovski provides a detailed account of the development of Islamic Christian and Sephardic religious architecture and culture as it manifested in the town and precincts

Cultural Landscape Heritage in Sub-Saharan Africa John Beardsley,2016 Cultural Landscape Heritage in Sub Saharan Africa studies landscape spaces created by and for Africans themselves from the precolonial era to the present Contributors explore how these landscapes were understood in the colonial era and how they are being recuperated today for nation building identity formation and cultural affirmation

Waterways and the Cultural Landscape Francesco Vallerani,Francesco Visentin,2017-09-11 This book explores the role of waterways as a form of heritage culture and sense of place and the potential of this to underpin the development of cultural tourism With a multidisciplinary approach across the social sciences and humanities chapters explore how the control and management of water flows are among some of the most significant human activities to transform the natural environment Based upon a wealth and breadth of European case studies the book uncovers the complex relationships that we have with waterways the ways that they have been represented over recent centuries and the ways in which they continue to be redefined in different cultural contexts

An Introduction to Human Geography James M. Rubenstein,2008 Trusted for its timeliness and readability this book introduces geography by emphasizing the relevance of geographic concepts to human problems Two years after Rubenstein s Update Edition was created to encompass the events of September 11 2001 this revision also begins the careful process of putting those events into perspective Provides new Global Forces and Local Impacts boxes in each chapter that explore in depth an issue related to chapter material focusing on particular regions of the world Includes new material on medical geography terrorism mineral resources sustainable development conservation and biodiversity Presents new information on gender differences in development Expands material on Ethnicity relating ethnicity problems to political conflict also incorporates material previously found elsewhere in the book such as U S urban patterns and South Africa s history of apartheid For anyone interested in learning more about world geography pub desc

Placing Nature Joan Nassauer,1997-08 Landscape ecology is a widely influential approach to looking at ecological function at the scale of landscapes and accepting that human beings powerfully affect landscape pattern and function It goes beyond investigation of pristine environments to consider ecological questions that are raised by patterns of farming forestry towns and cities Placing Nature is a groundbreaking volume in the field of landscape ecology the result of collaborative work among experts in ecology philosophy art literature geography landscape architecture and history Contributors asked each other What is our appropriate role in nature How are assumptions of Western culture and ingrained traditions placed in a new context of ecological knowledge In this book they consider the goals and strategies needed to bring human dominated landscapes into intentional relationships with nature articulating widely varied approaches to the task In the essays novelist Jane Smiley ecologist Eville Gorham and historian Curt Meine each examine the urgent realities of fitting together ecological function and culture philosopher Marcia Eaton and landscape architect Joan Nassauer each suggest ways to use the culture of nature to bring ecological health into settled landscapes urban geographer Judith Martin and urban historian Sam Bass Warner geographer and landscape architect Deborah Karasov and ecologist William Romme each explore the dynamics of land development decisions for their landscape ecological effects artist Chris Faust s photographs juxtapose the crass and mundane details of land use with the poetic power of ecological pattern Every possible future landscape is the embodiment of some human choice Placing Nature provides important insight for those who make such choices ecologists ecosystem managers watershed managers conservation biologists land developers designers planners and for all who wish to promote the ecological health of their communities
