

Surviving the desert – a communication activity

Your plane has just crash-landed in the Sonoran Desert in California, one of the largest and hottest deserts in North America, with an area of 311,000 square kilometres. You and the rest of your group have survived without harm. The pilot and the co-pilot have been killed, however. You know that the plane has left its original course due to technical problems before the crash and the pilot had mentioned that the nearest sign of civilization was a small village about 65 miles to the north. Before the plane catches fire you are able to rescue up to 15 items from the plane. Decide which items are most useful for your current situation. But most of all: Try to survive!!!!

Newsweek ,1989 The Man Who Lied to His Laptop Clifford Nass,Corina Yen,2010-09-02 Counterintuitive insights about building successful relationships based on research into human computer interaction Books like Predictably Irrational and Sway have revolutionized how we view human behavior Now Stanford professor Clifford Nass has discovered a set of rules for effective human relationships drawn from an unlikely source his study of our interactions with computers Based on his decades of research Nass demonstrates that although we might deny it we treat computers and other devices like people we empathize with them argue with them form bonds with them We even lie to them to protect their feelings This fundamental revelation has led to groundbreaking research on how people should behave with one another Nass s research shows that Mixing criticism and praise is a wildly ineffective method of evaluation Flattery works even when the recipient knows it s fake Introverts and extroverts are each best at selling to one of their own Nass s discoveries provide nothing less than a new blueprint for successful human relationships

The 3 Keys to Empowerment Ken Blanchard,John P.

Carlos,Alan Randolph,2000-01-13 An action guide and macro level understanding of the process required to foster the workplace culture envisioned in Empowerment Takes More Than a Minute As Ken Blanchard John Carlos and Alan Randolph clearly demonstrated in their previous bestseller Empowerment Takes More Than a Minute empowerment is not a goal that can be achieved in a minute Empowerment is a process that requires ongoing effort awareness and commitment to transforming the hierarchy This essential guide offers managers detailed hands on answers to their real life questions about how exactly they can navigate the journey to empowerment Written in an easily accessible Q A format the book closely examines and expands on the three keys to empowerment originally presented in Empowerment Takes More Than a Minute sharing information creating autonomy through boundaries and replacing the hierarchy with teams It clearly outlines the promises and challenges of each stage of the journey providing managers with thought provoking questions clear advice effective activities and action tools that will help them create a culture of empowerment Wherever they are in the journey managers will find a clear roadmap in this user friendly action guide Praise for Empowerment Takes More Than a Minute The most truthful straight talk book on managing people to come along in eons This is an exceptional tool for business Harvey MacKay 1 New York Times bestselling author One of the very best organized thought out planned and written books on any business subject I have read Stanley Bass Human Resources Consultant Stan Bass Consulting
