Teaching for Mastery Mark McCourt, 2019-06-28 There are many models of schooling some work some don't Mastery is an entire model of schooling with over 100 years of provenance its impact has been researched for decades with many of the world's greatest education minds testing and refining the approach It's one of the models of schooling that actually works In this book Mark McCourt examines the history of a teaching for mastery approach from its early beginnings to the modern day when cognitive scientists have been able to bring further evidence to the debate demonstrating why a model that was first proposed in the 1910s has the incredible impact on both pupil attainment and attitudes to learning that it has had all around the world over many decades

Drawing on examples from cross disciplines the story of mastery is one that all educators can engage with Mark also draws on his own subject mathematics to further exemplify the approach and to give practical examples of pedagogies and didactics that teachers can deploy immediately in their own classroom

Visible Maths Peter Mattock, 2019-02-08 Peter Mattock s Visible Maths Using representations and structure to enhance mathematics teaching in schools supports teachers in their use of concrete and pictorial representations to illustrate key mathematical ideas and operations Viewing the maths lesson as an opportunity for pupils to develop a deep understanding of mathematical concepts and relationships rather than simply to follow fixed processes that lead to the answer is increasingly recognised as the pinnacle of best practice in maths education In this book Peter Mattock builds on this approach and explores in colourful detail a variety of visual tools and techniques that can be used in the classroom to deepen pupils understanding of mathematical operations Covering vectors number lines algebra tiles ordered pair graphs and many other representations Visible Maths equips teachers with the confidence and practical know how to take their pupils learning to the next level The book looks at the strengths and flaws of each representation so that both primary and secondary school teachers of maths can make informed judgements about which representations will benefit their pupils The exploration begins at the very basics of number and operation and extends all the way through to how the representations apply to algebraic expressions and manipulations As well as sharing his expert knowledge on the subject Peter draws on relevant research and his own experience of using the representations in order to support teachers in understanding how these representations can be implemented effectively Visible Maths also includes a glossary covering the key mathematical terms as well as a chapter dedicated to answering some of the questions that may arise from the reading of the book Furthermore the accompanying diagrams and models are displayed in full colour to illustrate the conceptual takeaways and teaching techniques discussed Suitable for teachers of maths in primary and secondary school settings

Assessing 21st Century Skills National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Testing and Assessment, Committee on the Assessment of 21st Century Skills, 2011-10-16

The routine jobs of yesterday are being replaced by technology and or shipped off shore In their place job categories that require knowledge management abstract reasoning and personal services seem to be growing The modern workplace requires workers to have broad cognitive and affective skills Often referred to as 21st century skills these skills include being able to solve complex problems to think critically about tasks to effectively communicate with people from a variety of different cultures and using a variety of different techniques to work in collaboration with others to adapt to rapidly changing environments and conditions for performing tasks to effectively manage one's work and to acquire new skills and information on one's own

The National Research Council NRC has convened two prior workshops on the topic of 21st century skills The first held in 2007 was designed to examine research on the skills required for the 21st century workplace and the extent to which they are meaningfully different from earlier eras and require corresponding changes in educational experiences The second workshop held in 2009 was designed to explore demand for these types of skills consider intersections between science education reform goals and 21st century skills examine models of high quality science instruction that may develop the skills and consider science teacher readiness for 21st century skills The third workshop was intended to delve more deeply into the topic of assessment The goal for this workshop was to capitalize on the prior efforts and explore strategies for assessing the five skills identified earlier

The Committee on the Assessment of 21st Century Skills was asked to organize a workshop that reviewed the assessments and related research for each of the five skills identified at the previous workshops with special attention to recent developments in technology enabled assessment of critical thinking and problem solving skills In designing the workshop the committee collapsed the five skills into three broad clusters as shown below

Cognitive skills nonroutine problem solving critical thinking systems thinking Interpersonal skills complex communication social skills team work cultural sensitivity dealing with diversity Intrapersonal skills self management time management self development self regulation adaptability executive functioning Assessing 21st Century Skills provides an integrated summary of the presentations and discussions from both parts of the third workshop

Trivium 21c Martin Robinson,2013-06-12 From Ancient Greece to the present day Trivium 21c explores whether a contemporary trivium Grammar Dialectic and Rhetoric can unite progressive and traditionalist institutions teachers politicians and parents in the common pursuit of providing a great education for our children in the 21st century Education policy and practice is a battleground Traditionalists argue for the teaching of a privileged type of hard knowledge and deride soft skills Progressives deride learning about great works of the past preferring 21c skills 21st century skills such as creativity and critical thinking Whilst looking for a school for his daughter the author became frustrated by schools inability to value knowledge as well as creativity foster discipline alongside free thinking and value citizenship alongside independent learning Drawing from his work as a creative teacher Robinson finds inspiration in the Arts and the need to nurture learners with the ability to deal with the uncertainties of our age Named one of Book Authority s best education books of all time
