Anthropology Robert Louis Welsch, Luis Antonio Vivanco, Agustin Fuentes, 2025 Humans are fascinating and complex beings With our large brains flexible diets and ability to get around on two feet evolutionary history has made us different from other primates and facilitated our adaptation to practically any environment on the planet At the same time we are more than our biology and there is nothing we do that does not involve culture which encompasses our capacities for symbolic communication intensive social cooperation intergenerational learning and metaphysical thinking These points raise some interesting questions What is it about our humanity that distinguishes us from other species What is culture and how does it shape our origins prehistoric pasts and present How do we as humans construct meaningful social worlds What are the reasons for human biological and cultural diversity Such questions are at the core of the study of anthropology

Hunting the Gatherers Michael O'Hanlon, Robert L. Welsch, 2001-01-01 Between the 1870s and the 1930s competing European powers carved out and consolidated colonies in Melanesia the most culturally diverse region of the world As part of this process great assemblages of ethnographic artefacts were made by a range of collectors whose diversity is captured in this volume The contributors to this tightly integrated volume take these collectors and the collecting institutions as the departure point for accounts that look back at the artefact producing societies and their interaction with the collectors but also forward to the fate of the collections in metropolitan museums as the artefacts have been variously exhibited neglected re conceived as indigenous heritage or repatriated In doing this the contributors raise issues of current interest in anthropology Pacific history art history museology and material culture
