Accountability of Policing Stuart Lister, Michael Rowe, 2015-07-30 Accountability of Policing provides a contemporary and wide ranging examination of the accountability and governance of police and policing Debates about who guards the guards are among the oldest and most protracted in the history of democracy but over the last decade we have witnessed important changes in how policing and security agencies are governed regulated and held to account Against a backdrop of increasing complexity in the local national and transnational landscapes of policing political legal administrative and technological developments have served to alter regimes of accountability The extent and pace of these changes raises a pressing need for ongoing academic research analysis and debate Bringing together contributions from a range of leading scholars this book offers an authoritative and comprehensive analysis of the shifting themes of accountability within policing The contributions explore questions of accountability across a range of dimensions including those individuals and institutions responsible for its delivery within and between the public and private sectors and at local national and transnational scales of jurisdiction They also engage with the concept of accountability in a broad sense bringing to the surface the various meanings that have become associated with it and demonstrating how it is invoked and interpreted in different contexts Accountability of Policing is essential reading for academics and students involved in the study of policing criminal justice and criminology and will also be of great interest to practitioners and policymakers

Police Management Roy R. Roberg, Jack L. Kuykendall, 2002 Presents an interdisciplinary approach to police management achieving a balance between theory and practice This text offers students and those interested in managing police organizations an analytic approach to police managerial issues and practices It also offers a historical framework for understanding contemporary police management

Crime Modeling and Mapping Using Geospatial Technologies Michael Leitner, 2013-01-19 Recent years in North America have seen a rapid development in the area of crime analysis and mapping using Geographic Information Systems GIS technology In 1996 the US National Institute of Justice NIJ established the crime mapping research center CMRC to promote research evaluation development and dissemination of GIS technology The long term goal is to develop a fully functional Crime Analysis System CAS with standardized data collection and reporting mechanisms tools for spatial and temporal analysis visualization of data and much more Among the drawbacks of current crime analysis systems is their lack of tools for spatial analysis For this reason spatial analysts should research which current analysis techniques or variations of such techniques that have been already successfully applied to other areas e g epidemiology location allocation analysis etc can also be employed to the spatial analysis of crime data This book presents a few of those cases
