School Survey of York County May 20 2022 This survey was written in September 1920 by John F. Thomason, Winthrop Professor of Rural Life Education. The survey is a good source for anyone researching information about the York County, S.C. school system before 1920. In the Foreword, Thomason writes: "This survey of the county-supervised schools of York County was made on the request of John E. Carroll, County Superintendent of Education, with a view to giving the public a better acquaintance with the public school situation and to directing attention to needed improvements for the future development and growth of the schools. A scoring of city school buildings was made by request of the respective superintendents."

Virtual Immersive and 3D Learning Spaces: Emerging Technologies and Trends Mar 06 2021 Virtual Immersive and 3D Learning Spaces: Emerging Technologies helps push the conceptual and applied boundaries of virtual immersive learning.

Virtual immersive spaces bring with them plenty of promise, of sensory information-rich learning experiences that will enable a much wider range of experiential learning and training—delivered to computer desktops, augmented reality spaces, digital installations, and mobile projective devices. This work explains how these spaces may be exploited for effective learning in terms of the technologies, pedagogical strategies, and directions.

Dictionary of North Carolina Biography Jul 10 2021 The most comprehensive state project of its kind, the Dictionary provides information on some 4,000 notable North Carolinians whose accomplishments and occasional misdeeds span four centuries. Much of the bibliographic information found in the six volumes has been compiled for the first time. All of the persons included are deceased. They are native North Carolinians, no matter where they made the contributions for which they are noted, or non-natives whose contributions were made in North Carolina.

School Segregation in Western North Carolina Mar 30 2023 Although African Americans make up a small portion of the population of western North Carolina, they have contributed much to the area's physical and cultural landscape. This enlightening study surveys the region's segregated black schools from Reconstruction through integration and reveals the struggles, achievements, and ultimate victory of a unified community intent on achieving an adequate education for its children. The book documents the events that initially brought blacks into Appalachia, early efforts to educate black children, the movement to acquire and improve schools, and the long process of desegregation. Personnel issues, curriculum, extracurricular activities, sports, consolidation, and construction also receive attention. Featuring commentary from former students, teachers and parents, this work weighs the value and achievement of rural segregated black schools as well as their significance for educators today.
