Kyoto School and International Relations explores the Kyoto School's challenge to transcend the Western domination over the rest of the world and the issues this raises for contemporary non Western and Global IR literature Was the support of Kyoto School thinkers inevitable due to the despotism of military government thus nothing to do with their philosophy or a logical extension of their philosophical engagement The book answers this question by investigating individual Kyoto School philosophers in detail The author argues that any attempts to transcend the West are destined to be drawn into power politics as far as they uncritically adopt and use the prevailing ontological concept of linear progressive time and dominant meta narrative of Westphalia Thus to fully understand this problem there is the need to be cautious of the power of language of Westphalia and the concept of time in IR Aimed at students and scholars of IR theory Japanese politics and East Asian IR in general this book provides some introductory explanations of these academic subjects developing a theory based on the concepts of time and language of Kyoto School philosophy
