Communities in Action National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Health and Medicine Division, Board on Population Health and Public Health Practice, Committee on Community-Based Solutions to Promote Health Equity in the United States, 2017-04-27 In the United States some populations suffer from far greater disparities in health than others Those disparities are caused not only by fundamental differences in health status across segments of the population but also because of inequities in factors that impact health status so called determinants of health Only part of an individual's health status depends on his or her behavior and choice community wide problems like poverty unemployment poor education inadequate housing poor public transportation interpersonal violence and decaying neighborhoods also contribute to health inequities as well as the historic and ongoing interplay of structures policies and norms that shape lives When these factors are not optimal in a community it does not mean they are intractable such inequities can be mitigated by social policies that can shape health in powerful ways Communities in Action Pathways to Health Equity seeks to delineate the causes of and the solutions to health inequities in the United States This report focuses on what communities can do to promote health equity what actions are needed by the many and varied stakeholders that are part of communities or support them as well as the root causes and structural barriers that need to be overcome

The Color of Law: A Forgotten History of How Our Government Segregated America Richard Rothstein, 2017-05-02 New York Times Bestseller Notable Book of the Year Editors Choice Selection One of Bill Gates Amazing Books of the Year One of Publishers Weekly's 10 Best Books of the Year Longlisted for the National Book Award for Nonfiction An NPR Best Book of the Year Winner of the Hillman Prize for Nonfiction Gold Winner California Book Award Nonfiction Finalist Los Angeles Times Book Prize History Finalist Brooklyn Public Library Literary Prize This powerful and disturbing history exposes how American governments deliberately imposed racial segregation on metropolitan areas nationwide New York Times Book Review Widely heralded as a masterful Washington Post and essential Slate history of the modern American metropolis Richard Rothstein's The Color of Law offers the most forceful argument ever published on how federal state and local governments gave rise to and reinforced neighborhood segregation William Julius Wilson Exploding the myth of de facto segregation arising from private prejudice or the unintended consequences of economic forces Rothstein describes how the American government systematically imposed residential segregation with undisguised racial zoning public housing that purposefully segregated previously mixed communities subsidies for builders to create whites only suburbs tax exemptions for institutions that enforced segregation and support for violent resistance to African Americans in white neighborhoods A groundbreaking virtually indispensable study that has already transformed our understanding of twentieth century urban history Chicago Daily Observer The Color of Law forces us to face the obligation to remedy our unconstitutional past

The Negro Motorist Green Book Victor H. Green, The Negro Motorist Green Book was a groundbreaking guide that provided African American travelers with crucial information on safe places to stay eat and visit during the era of segregation in the United States This essential resource originally published from 1936 to 1966 offered a lifeline to black motorists navigating a deeply divided nation helping them avoid the dangers and indignities of racism on the road More than just a travel guide The Negro Motorist Green Book stands as a powerful symbol of resilience and resistance in the face of oppression offering a poignant glimpse into the challenges and triumphs of the African American experience in the 20th century

Race for Profit Keeanga-Yamahtta Taylor, 2019-09-03 LONGLISTED FOR THE 2019 NATIONAL BOOK AWARD FINALIST 2020 PULITZER PRIZE IN HISTORY By the late 1960s and early 1970s reeling from a wave of urban uprisings politicians finally worked to end the practice of redlining Reasoning that the turbulence could be calmed by turning Black city dwellers into homeowners they passed the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 and set about establishing policies to induce mortgage lenders and the real estate industry to treat Black homebuyers equally The disaster that ensued revealed that racist exclusion had not been eradicated but rather transmuted into a new phenomenon of predatory inclusion Race for Profit uncovers how exploitative real estate practices continued well after housing discrimination was banned The same racist structures and individuals remained intact after redlining's end and close relationships between regulators and the industry created incentives to ignore improprieties Meanwhile new policies meant to encourage low income homeownership created new methods to exploit Black homeowners The federal government guaranteed urban mortgages in an attempt to overcome resistance to lending to Black buyers as if unprofitability rather than racism was the cause of housing segregation Bankers investors and real estate agents took advantage of the perverse incentives targeting the Black women most likely to fail to keep up their home payments and slip into foreclosure multiplying their profits As a result by the end of the 1970s the nation's first programs to encourage Black homeownership ended with tens of thousands of foreclosures in Black communities across the country The push to uplift Black homeownership had descended into a goldmine for realtors and mortgage lenders and a ready made cudgel for the champions of deregulation to wield against government intervention of any kind Narrating the story of a sea change in housing policy and its dire impact on African Americans Race for Profit reveals how the urban core was transformed into a new frontier of cynical extraction

The South Side Natalie Y. Moore, 2016-03-22 A lyrical intelligent authentic and necessary look at the intersection of race and class in Chicago a Great American City Mayors Richard M Daley and Rahm Emanuel have touted Chicago as a world class city The skyscrapers kissing the clouds the billion dollar Millennium Park Michelin rated restaurants pristine lake views fabulous shopping vibrant theater scene downtown flower beds and stellar architecture tell one story Yet swept under the rug is another story the stench of segregation that permeates and compromises Chicago Though other cities including Cleveland Los Angeles and Baltimore can fight over that mantle it is clear that segregation defines Chicago And unlike many other major U S cities no particular race dominates Chicago is divided equally into black white and Latino each group clustered in its various turfs In this intelligent and highly important narrative Chicago native Natalie Moore shines a light on contemporary segregation in the city s South Side her reported essays showcase the lives of these communities through the stories of her family and the people who reside there The South Side highlights the impact of Chicago s historic segregation and the ongoing policies that keep the system intact

Measuring Racial Discrimination National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Methods for Assessing Discrimination, 2004-07-24 Many racial and ethnic groups in the United States including blacks Hispanics Asians American Indians and others have historically faced severe discrimination pervasive and open denial of civil social political educational and economic opportunities Today large differences among racial and ethnic groups continue to exist in employment income and wealth housing education criminal justice health and other areas While many factors may contribute to such differences their size and extent suggest that various forms of discriminatory treatment persist in U S society and serve to undercut the achievement of equal opportunity Measuring Racial Discrimination considers the definition of race and racial discrimination reviews the existing techniques used to measure racial discrimination and identifies new tools and areas for future research The book conducts a thorough evaluation of current methodologies for a wide range of circumstances in which racial discrimination may occur and makes recommendations on how to better assess the presence and effects of discrimination

Why Are All the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria? Beverly Daniel Tatum, 2017-09-05 The classic New York Times bestselling book on the psychology of racism that shows us how to talk about race in America Walk into any racially mixed high school and you will see Black White and Latino youth clustered in their own groups Is this self segregation a problem to address or a coping strategy How can we get past our reluctance to discuss racial issues Beverly Daniel Tatum a renowned authority on the psychology of racism argues that straight talk about our racial identities is essential if we are serious about communicating across racial and ethnic divides and pursuing antiracism These topics have only become more urgent as the national conversation about race is increasingly acrimonious This fully revised edition is essential reading for anyone seeking to understand dynamics of race and racial inequality in America

Ending Discrimination Against People with Mental and Substance Use Disorders National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on the Science of Changing Behavioral Health Social Norms, 2016-09-03 Estimates indicate that as many as 1 in 4 Americans will experience a mental health problem or will misuse alcohol or drugs in their lifetimes These disorders are among the most highly stigmatized health conditions in the United States and they remain barriers to full participation in society in areas as basic as education housing and employment Improving the lives of people with mental health and substance abuse disorders has been a priority in the United States for more than 50 years The Community Mental Health Act of 1963 is considered a major turning point in America's efforts to improve behavioral healthcare It ushered in an era of optimism and hope and laid the groundwork for the consumer movement and new models of recovery The consumer movement gave voice to people with mental and substance use disorders and brought their perspectives and experience into national discussions about mental health However over the same 50 year period positive change in American public attitudes and beliefs about mental and substance use disorders has lagged behind these advances Stigma is a complex social phenomenon based on a relationship between an attribute and a stereotype that assigns undesirable labels qualities and behaviors to a person with that attribute Labeled individuals are then socially devalued which leads to inequality and discrimination This report contributes to national efforts to understand and change attitudes beliefs and behaviors that can lead to stigma and discrimination Changing stigma in a lasting way will require coordinated efforts which are based on the best possible evidence supported at the national level with multiyear funding and planned and implemented by an effective coalition of representative stakeholders Ending Discrimination Against People with Mental and Substance Use Disorders The Evidence for Stigma Change explores stigma and discrimination faced by individuals with mental or substance use disorders and recommends effective strategies for reducing stigma and encouraging people to seek treatment and other supportive services It offers a set of conclusions and recommendations about successful stigma change strategies and the research needed to inform and evaluate these efforts in the United States

Segregation by Design Jessica Trounstine, 2018-11-15 Segregation by Design draws on more than 100 years of quantitative and qualitative data from thousands of American cities to explore how local governments generate race and class segregation Starting in the early twentieth century cities have used their power of land use control to determine the location and availability of housing amenities such as parks and negative land uses such as garbage dumps The result has been segregation first within cities and more recently between them Documenting changing patterns of segregation and their political mechanisms Trounstine argues that city governments have pursued these policies to enhance the wealth and resources of white property owners at the expense of people of color and the poor Contrary to leading theories of urban politics local democracy has not functioned to represent all residents The result is unequal access to fundamental local services from schools to safe neighborhoods to clean water

Dismantling Desegregation Gary Orfield, Susan E. Eaton, 1996 Discusses the reversal of desegregation in public schools

The Neuropsychology of Vision Manfred Fahle, Mark Greenlee, 2003-10-30 The Neuropsychology of Vision describes a range of new approaches to neuropsychological investigation and provides a broad overview of visual neuropsychology The book starts by presenting the results from new research employing single unit recordings on the neuronal basis of perception demonstrating that the visual system relies strongly on feedback from higher to lower levels of information processing and that neuronal plasticity exists in the primary sensory cortices of adults areas previously considered to be hard wired The book also describes other new and adapted techniques to measure brain activity including multi unit sum potential recording functional magnetic resonance imaging and employing transcranial magnetic stimulation to induce temporary circumscribed functional lesions in the cortices of normal subjects to mimic disorders The coverage then moves on to review the experience of patients suffering from disturbances of visual perception The disorders covered include agnosia neglect blindsight and achromatopsia The final chapter is devoted to recovery and rehabilitation from cerebral visual disorder Professors Fahle and Greenlee have brought together some of the leading international specialists in the field to provide this comprehensive and up to date review

Brown v. Board of Education James T. Patterson, 2001-03-01 2004 marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Supreme Court's unanimous decision to end segregation in public schools Many people were elated when Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren delivered Brown v Board of Education of Topeka in May 1954 the ruling that struck down state sponsored racial segregation in America's public schools Thurgood Marshall chief attorney for the black families that launched the litigation exclaimed later I was so happy I was numb The novelist Ralph Ellison wrote another battle of the Civil War has been won The rest is up to us and I'm very glad What a wonderful world of possibilities are unfolded for the children Here in a concise moving narrative Bancroft Prize winning historian James T Patterson takes readers through the dramatic case and its fifty year aftermath A wide range of characters animates the story from the little known African Americans who dared to challenge Jim Crow with lawsuits at great personal cost to Thurgood Marshall who later became a Justice himself to Earl Warren who shepherded a fractured Court to a unanimous decision Others include segregationist politicians like Governor Orval Faubus of Arkansas Presidents Eisenhower Johnson and Nixon and controversial Supreme Court justices such as William Rehnquist and Clarence Thomas Most Americans still see Brown as a triumph but was it Patterson shrewdly explores the provocative questions that still swirl around the case Could the Court or President Eisenhower have done more to ensure compliance with Brown Did the decision touch off the modern civil rights movement How useful are court ordered busing and affirmative action against racial segregation To what extent has racial mixing affected the academic achievement of black children Where indeed do we go from here to realize the expectations of Marshall Ellison and others in 1954
