

NOVA SWING

John Harrison, 2004-08-31 In M John Harrison's dangerously illuminating new novel three quantum outlaws face a universe of their own creation a universe where you make up the rules as you go along and break them just as fast where there's only one thing more mysterious than darkness In contemporary London Michael Kearney is a serial killer on the run from the entity that drives him to kill He is seeking escape in a future that doesn't yet exist a quantum world that he and his physicist partner hope to access through a breach of time and space itself In this future Seria Mau Genlicher has already sacrificed her body to merge into the systems of her starship the White Cat But the inhuman K ship captain has gone rogue pirating the galaxy while playing cat and mouse with the authorities who made her what she is In this future Ed Chianese a drifter and adventurer has ridden dynaflo ships run old alien mazes surfed stellar envelopes He went deep and lived to tell about it Once crazy for life he's now just a twink on New Venusport addicted to the bizarre alternate realities found in the tanks and in debt to all the wrong people Haunting them all through this maze of menace and mystery is the shadowy presence of the Shrande and three enigmatic clues left on the barren surface of an asteroid under an ocean of light known as the Kefahuchi Tract a deserted spaceship a pair of bone dice and a human skeleton Praise for Light Uproarious breath taking exhilarating This is a novel of full spectrum literary dominance It is a work of and about the highest order Guardian An increasingly complex and dazzling narrative Light depicts its author as a wit an awesomely fluent and versatile prose stylist and an SF thinker as dedicated to probing beneath surfaces as William Gibson is to describing how the world looks when reflected in them SF fans and skeptics alike are advised to head towards this Light Independent Light is a literary singularity at one and the same time a grim gaudy space opera that respects the physics and a contemporary novel that unflinchingly revisits the choices that warp a life It's almost unbearably good Ken MacLeod author of Engine City Nova Swing M. You Should Come With Me Now M. John Harrison, 2017-11-23 M John Harrison is a cartographer of the liminal His work sits at the boundaries between genres horror and science fiction fantasy and travel writing just as his characters occupy the no man's land between the spatial and the spiritual Here in his first collection of short fiction for over 15 years we see the master of the New Wave present unsettling visions of contemporary urban Britain as well as supernatural parodies of the wider political landscape From gelatinous aliens taking over the world's financial capitals to the middle aged man escaping the pressures of fatherhood by going missing in his own house these are weird stories for weird times M John Harrison's slippery subversive stories mix the eerie and familiar into beguiling alarming marvels No one writes quite like him no one I can think of writes such flawless sentences or uses them to such disorientating effect Olivia Laing author of The Lonely City These stories map a rediscovered fictional hinterland one tucked behind the glossier edifices of modernity and genre with views down alleyways into pubs and flats where Patrick Hamilton glares balefully at J G Ballard Will Eaves author of This is Paradise M John Harrison moves elegantly passionately from genre to genre his prose lucent and wise his stories published as SF or as fantasy as horror or as mainstream fiction In each playing field he wins awards and makes it look so easy His prose is deceptively simple each word considered and placed where it can sink deepest and do the most damage Neil Gaiman author of American Gods With an austere and deeply moving humanism M John Harrison proves what only those crippled by respectability still doubt that science fiction can be literature of the very greatest kind China Mi ville author of Perdido Street Station

Empty Space M. John Harrison, 2012-07-19 EMPTY SPACE is a space adventure We begin with the following dream An alien research tool the size of a brown dwarf star hangs in the middle of nowhere as a result of an attempt to place it equidistant from everything else in every possible universe Somewhere in the fractal labyrinth beneath its surface a woman lies on an allotropic carbon deck a white paste of nanomachines oozing from the corner of her mouth She is neither conscious nor unconscious dead nor alive There is something wrong with her cheekbones At first you think she is changing from one thing into another perhaps it's a cat perhaps it's something that only looks like one then you see that she is actually trying to be both things at once She is waiting for you she has been waiting for you for perhaps 10 000 years She comes from the past she comes from the future She is about to speak EMPTY SPACE is a sequel to LIGHT and NOVA SWING three strands presented in alternating chapters which will work their way separately back to this image of frozen transformation

Settling the World M. John Harrison, 2020-08-20 Throughout his career M John Harrison's writing has defied categorisation building worlds both unreal and all too real overlapping and interlocking with each other His stories are replete with fissures and portals into parallel dimensions unidentified countries and lost lands But more important than the places they point to are the obsessions that drive the people who so believe in them characters who spend their lives hunting for and haunted by clues and maps that speak to the possibility of somewhere else This selection of stories drawn from over 50 years of writing bears witness to that desire for difference whether following backstreet occultists amateur philosophers down and out or refugees we see our relationship with the other in microscopic detail and share in Harrison s rejection of the idea that the world or our understanding of it could ever be settled that we are all familiar with and shows how it has more in common with biology than conventional engineering The Pastel City Michael John Harrison, 1971-01-01 City at the End of Time Greg Bear, 2008-08-05 Multiple Hugo and Nebula award winning author Greg Bear is one of science fiction's most accomplished writers. Bold scientific speculation, riveting plots, and a fierce humanism reflected in characters who dare to dream of better worlds distinguish his work. Now Bear has written a mind-bendingly epic novel that may well be his masterpiece. Do you dream of a city at the end of time? In a time like the present in a world that may or may not be our own, three young people, Ginny, Jack, and Daniel, dream of a doomed, decadent city of the distant future, the Kalpa. Ginny's and Jack's dreams overtake them without warning, leaving their bodies behind while carrying their consciousnesses forward into the minds of two inhabitants of the Kalpa: a would-be warrior, Jebrassy, and an inquisitive explorer, Tiadba, who have been genetically retro-engineered to possess qualities of ancient humanity. As for Daniel, he dreams of an empty darkness, all that his future holds. But more than dreams link Ginny, Jack, and Daniel. They are fate shifters, born with the ability to skip like stones across the surface of the fifth dimension, inhabiting alternate versions of themselves. And each guards an object whose origin and purpose are unknown, gnarled, stony artifacts called sum runners that persist unchanged through all versions of time. Hunted by others with similar powers who seek the sum runners on behalf of a terrifying goddess-like entity known as the Chalk Princess, Ginny, Jack, and Daniel are drawn despite themselves into an all-but-hopeless mission to rescue the future and complete the greatest achievement in human history.

The Speed of Light Javier Cercas, 2009-09-07 _____ Cercas's writing has echoes of Scott Fitzgerald in the intense, shining clarity of its emotion and of Faulkner. Independent, a deeply affecting novel, a reflection on war, friendship, success, and failure. Cercas's novel carries a powerful warning for the war-hungry modern world. Scotland on Sunday Presents his narrator's foibles in a lucid, supple prose well matched to the novel's darker elements. Financial Times _____ A sweeping story of youth and age, war and peace, love, friendship, and the quest for meaning. An aspiring young writer from Spain begins work as a teaching assistant on a Midwestern campus and finds himself sharing an office with Rodney Falk, a taciturn Vietnam veteran of strange ways and few friends. But when Rodney suddenly disappears, the narrator becomes obsessed with discovering the secrets of his past. Why do people fear Rodney? What traumatic event happened at My Khe during the war? And when the narrator's life takes a terrible twist, is Rodney the only person in the world who can save him?
