According to Osuolale (2014), a lot of factors contribute to the poor achievement of students in physics such as availability of teaching aids, teaching-learning strategies, learning environment etc. While other factors cannot be identified, studies have shown that if teaching-learning strategies are improved, achievement will be enhanced (Elvis, 2014; Oluwasegun, Raimond, 2012). Physics curriculum at secondary school level is broken down into mechanics, heat, waves, motion, light, electricity and atomic Physics. Report from an external examiner (2016 and 2017) noted a general weakness in the ability of students to answer questions in waves. Obafemi Onwioduokit (2013) found out that wave physics is the highest in level of difficulty by both teachers and students. The findings of this study agree with Fisher (2009) who found that concepts of projectile motion, simple harmonic motion and diffraction of light waves are difficult for the students. Waves is a branch of secondary school physics in Nigeria.

Women of Owu Femi Osofisan,2006 This is an African retelling of Euripides an unnervingly topical story of a people and a beloved city destroyed by the brutality of war The play was first performed in Lagos in 2003 under the distinguished director Chuck Mike and subsequently toured the UK

Propagation and Reflection of Shock Waves Fedor Vasil'evich Shugaev,L. S. Shtemenko,1998 This volume deals with the propagation of three dimensional shock waves and their reflection from curved walls It is divided into two parts The first part presents a ray method This is based on the expansion of fluid properties in power series at an arbitrary point on the shock front Continuous fractions are used Results for shock propagation in non uniform fluids are given The second part discusses the shock reflection from a concave body The important shock focusing problem is included The work is supported by both numerical and experimental results Many interesting features such as formation of a jet vortices and the appearance of disturbances on the shock front are discussed Besides shock waves in gases the distinctive features of shock propagation through a weakly ionized plasma are considered

Basic Education Beyond the Millennium Development Goals in Ghana Peter Darvas,David Balwanz,2013-12-11 Ghana is on a strong trajectory toward solidifying its middle income status Today more children than at any time in the history of Ghana have access to basic and secondary education Over the past decade incidence of extreme poverty has been cut in half amid strong economic growth Ghana s recent achievements point to the possibility of more fully realizing the human potential of all individuals and of the country Basic Education beyond the Millennium Development Goals in Ghana argues that realizing this potential requires a redoubling of efforts to reach the poorest half of Ghanaian children with quality basic education At present system wide disparities in education service delivery and highly inequitable allocation of resources has led to unfair educational outcomes These disparities create a missing middle in terms of learning outcomes although a small number of children perform well on numeracy and literacy assessments more than 60% of 6th graders do not attain proficiency levels Several recent initiatives point to the possibility of accelerating Ghana s progress toward quality basic education for all they improve equitable resource allocation strengthen social protection and provide additional academic support to improve learning outcomes By outlining key challenges and promising practices Basic Education beyond the Millennium Development Goals in Ghana seeks to stimulate a lively and productive debate on the future of basic education in Ghana

Developing and Validating Test Items Thomas M. Haladyna, Michael C. Rodriguez, 2013-07-18 Since test items are the building blocks of any test learning how to develop and validate test items has always been critical to the teaching learning process As they grow in importance and use testing programs increasingly supplement the use of selected response multiple choice items with constructed response formats This trend is expected to continue As a result a new item writing book is needed one that provides comprehensive coverage of both types of items and of the validity theory underlying them This book is an outgrowth of the author s previous book Developing and Validating Multiple Choice Test Items 3e Haladyna 2004 That book achieved distinction as the leading source of guidance on creating and validating selected response test items Like its predecessor the content of this new book is based on both an extensive review of the literature and on its author s long experience in the testing field It is very timely in this era of burgeoning testing programs especially when these items are delivered in a computer based environment Key features include Comprehensive and Flexible No other book so thoroughly covers the field of test item development and its various applications Focus on Validity Validity the most important consideration in testing is stressed throughout and is based on the Standards for Educational and Psychological Testing currently under revision by AERA APA and NCME Illustrative Examples The book presents various selected and constructed response formats and uses many examples to illustrate correct and incorrect ways of writing items Strategies for training item writers and developing large numbers of items using algorithms and other item generating methods are also presented Based on Theory and Research A comprehensive review and synthesis of existing research runs throughout the book and complements the expertise of its authors

Understanding and Developing Science Teachers' Pedagogical Content Knowledge J. John Loughran, Amanda Berry, Pamala Mulhall, 2006-01-01 There has been a growing interest in the notion of a scholarship of teaching. Such scholarship is displayed through a teacher's grasp of and response to the relationships between knowledge of content teaching and learning in ways that attest to practice as being complex and interwoven. Yet attempting to capture teachers' professional knowledge is difficult because the critical links between practice and knowledge for many teachers is tacit. Pedagogical Content Knowledge (PCK) offers one way of capturing, articulating and portraying an aspect of the scholarship of teaching and in this case the scholarship of science teaching. The research underpinning the approach developed by Loughran, Berry and Mulhall offers access to the development of the professional knowledge of science teaching in a form that offers new ways of sharing and disseminating this knowledge. Through this Resource Folio approach comprising CoRe and PaP eRs, a recognition of the value of the specialist knowledge and skills of science teaching is not only highlighted but also enhanced. The CoRe and PaP eRs methodology offers an exciting new way of capturing and portraying science teachers' pedagogical content knowledge so that it might be better understood and valued within the profession. This book is a concrete example of the nature of scholarship in science teaching that is meaningful, useful and immediately applicable in the work of all science teachers, preservice in service and science teacher educators. It is an excellent resource for science teachers as well as a guiding text for teacher education.

Assessment of Learning

Wynne Harlen, 2007-10-02. This book takes a critical look at how students' achievements are assessed for a range of purposes from reporting progress to selection and qualification. It considers the relationship between what is taught and how and what and how learning outcomes are assessed. The impact of using assessment results for setting targets and evaluation of provision for learning is also discussed. The pros and cons of using tests and examinations and alternatives based on the judgments of teachers are considered in terms of four key criteria: validity, reliability, impact and required resources. Evidence from research and examples of current practice in different countries, within and outside the UK, support the case for making more and better use of teachers' judgments in assessment of learning. In this way, assessment of learning (summative assessment) can be compatible with assessment for learning (formative assessment).

The Export Administration Act

James V. Weston, 2005. The book provides the statutory authority for export controls on sensitive dual use goods and technologies, items that have both civilian and military applications, including those items that can contribute to the proliferation of nuclear, biological and chemical weaponry. This new book examines the evolution, provisions, debate, controversy, prospects and reauthorisation of the EAA.

History of Education in Nigeria

A. Babs Fafunwa, 2018-10-03. Originally published in 1974, a comprehensive history of Nigerian Education from early times right through to the time of publication had long been needed by all concerned with Education in Nigeria: students, teachers and educational administrators. No one was better qualified than Professor Fafunwa to provide such a book and in doing so he gave due emphasis to the beginnings of Education in its three main stages: indigenous, Muslim and Christian Education. Nigerian Education had been considered all too often as a comparatively recent phenomenon but this book points out from the start that Education is as old as Man himself in Africa.

and that both Islam and Christianity were comparative newcomers in the field A historical treatment of these three strands which have combined to make up the modern Educational system was vital to a clear understanding of what was needed for the future and most of the first half of the book is concerned with these Educational beginnings The imposing of a foreign colonial system on this framework did not always lead to a happy fusion of the systems and the successes and the failures are examined in detail There was no shortage of documentary evidence in the form of reports and statistics during the decades prior to publication but this evidence was frequently scattered and inaccessible to the student so that the author s careful selection of key evidence and reports often drawn from his own personal experience will be invaluable for those wishing to trace the development of Education in Nigeria up to the early 1970s A knowledge of the history and development of the Nigerian Education system of the numerous and intensely varied personalities and beliefs which have combined and often conflicted to shape it is indispensable to all students in colleges and universities studying to become teachers It is this knowledge that Professor Fafunwa set out to provide drawing on his wide experience as teacher writer and educationalist
