Emerging Perspectives on Chinua Achebe Ernest Emenyonu, Iniobong I. Uko, 2004 Chinua Achebe's influence on contemporary African literature is as much in evidence in his art of the novel as his theory of African literature and literary criticism ISINKA Igbo term for artistic purpose establishes Achebe's legacy as a literary theorist and critic In these essays scholars from around the globe assess and establish how much Achebe's extra fictional ideas about African literature and literature in general are justified in his own creative works

Gender. Nation. Text. Lorraine Kelly, Tina-Karen Pusse, Jennifer Wood, 2017 This collection explores the multifarious manifestations of gender intrinsic to national ideologies the use of gender in the construction and development of nation states and the role of political literary and cinematographic discourses in cultural debates that define national and international borders in post colonial societies The selected essays focus primarily on Europe and Latin America and consider the implications of colonialism dictatorship and the transition to democracy on national identities as well as the deliberate use of gendered language and images in the development of discourses of hegemony frequently used to underpin support for individual political regimes or as a call to arms to defend national patrimony Series Cultural Studies Kulturwissenschaft Estudios Culturales Etudes Culturelles Vol 55 Subject Gender Studies Politics Sociology Cultural Studies Palestinian Literature and Film in Postcolonial Feminist Perspective Anna Ball,2012-11-27 Palestinian Literature and Film in Postcolonial Feminist Perspective is the first sustained study of gender consciousness in the Palestinian creative imagination Drawing on concepts from postcolonial feminist theory Ball analyses a range of literary and filmic works by major creative practitioners including Michel Khleifi Liana Badr Annemarie Jacir Elia Suleiman Mona Hatoum and Suheir Hammad and reveals a hitherto unrecognized trajectory in gender consciousness under development in the Palestinian imagination from the start of the twentieth century The book explores how these works resonate with questions of power identity nation resistance and self representation in the Palestinian imagination more broadly and asks how these gender conscious narratives transform our understanding of Palestine s struggle for postcoloniality Working at the cusp of postcolonial feminist and cultural enquiry Ball seeks to open up vital new directions in the interdisciplinary study of Palestine Gender and Multiculturalism Amanda Gouws, Daiva Stasiulis, 2015-12-22 Multiculturalism is a concept that has been stretched to include a variety of political conditions mainly in countries that have liberal democratic political systems and traditions In this North South comparison we illuminate remedies pursued by governments and various political interests to address the binary Tensions of culture and rights may not be the same everywhere An interesting point of comparison is in the treatment of liberalism often assumed in the global North to be the universal norms to be defended whereas in the global South liberalism itself may be viewed as the problem Colonial histories are fraught with discriminatory legislation aimed at accommodating indigenous populations often a trade off for more structural redistributive justice through for example land reform In Africa for example the codification of customary law has reinforced misogynistic and static interpretations of African culture This book will show how varied and complex the embodiment of multiculturalism as a political practice or policy discourse in different political contexts can be and how often the outcome of multicultural discourses creates a binary between culture and universal human rights The aim of this book is to grapple with dislodging this binary This book was published as a special issue of Politikon In the Name of Women's Rights Sara R. Farris, 2017-04-27 Sara R Farris examines the demands for women s rights from an unlikely collection of right wing nationalist political parties neoliberals and some feminist theorists and policy makers Focusing on contemporary France Italy and the Netherlands Farris labels this exploitation and cooptation of feminist themes by anti Islam and xenophobic campaigns as femonationalism She shows that by characterizing Muslim males as dangerous to western societies and as oppressors of women and by emphasizing the need to rescue Muslim and migrant women these groups use gender equality to justify their racist rhetoric and policies This practice also serves an economic function Farris analyzes how neoliberal civic integration policies and feminist groups funnel Muslim and non western migrant women into the segregating domestic and caregiving industries all the while claiming to promote their emancipation In the Name of Women s Rights documents the links between racism feminism and the ways in which non western women are instrumentalized for a variety of political and economic purposes

Versions Of Ireland Eóin Flannery, 2021-03-04 Versions of Ireland brings a refined postcolonial theoretical optic to bear on many of the most urgent questions within contemporary Irish cultural studies Drawing on and extending the most advanced critical work within the discipline the book offers a subtle critical genealogy of the development of Ireland s diverse postcolonial projects Furthermore it reflects on the relevance and the effectiveness of postcolonial and subaltern historiographical methodologies in an Irish context interrogating the ethical and political problematics of such discursive importation Flannery s work highlights the operative dynamics of imperial modernity together with its representational agents in Ireland and also divines moments of explicit and implicit resistance to modernity s rationalising and accumulative urges The book is pioneering in the facility and ease with which it navigates the interdisciplinary terrain of Irish studies Flannery provides enabling and challenging new readings of the poetry of the bi lingual poet Michael Hartnett the politically imaginative vistas of the republican mural tradition in the North of Ireland the gothic anxieties inherent in the fiction of Eugene McCabe and the semi fictional writing of Seamus Deane and the differential codes of visual surveillance apparent in Irish tourist posters and late nineteenth century photography in Ireland Versions of Ireland does not dwell on the exclusively theoretical but offers rich critical analyses of a range of Irish cultural artefacts in terms of Ireland s protracted colonial history and contested postcolonial condition

Postcolonial Theory and the United States Amritjit Singh, Peter

Schmidt, 2009-11-12 At the beginning of the twenty first century we may be in a transnational moment increasingly aware of the ways in which local and national narratives in literature and elsewhere cannot be conceived apart from a radically new sense of shared human histories and global interdependence To think transnationally about literature history and culture requires a study of the evolution of hybrid identities within nation states and diasporic identities across national boundaries Studies addressing issues of race ethnicity and empire in US culture have provided some of the most innovative and controversial contributions to recent scholarship Postcolonial Theory and the United States Race Ethnicity and Literature represents a new chapter in the emerging dialogues about the importance of borders on a global scale This book collects nineteen essays written in the 1990s in this emergent field by both well established and up and coming scholars Almost all the essays have been either especially written for this volume or revised for inclusion here These essays are accessible well focused resources for college and university students and their teachers displaying both historical depth and theoretical finesse as they attempt close and lively readings The anthology includes more than one discussion of each literary tradition associated with major racial or ethnic communities Such a gathering of diverse complementary and often competing viewpoints provides a good introduction to the cultural differences and commonalities that comprise the United States today The volume opens with two essays by the editors first a survey of the ideas in the individual pieces and second a long essay that places current debates in US ethnicity and race studies within both the history of American studies as a whole and recent developments in postcolonial theory

New York and Toronto Novels after Postmodernism Caroline Rosenthal, 2011 Cities are material and symbolic spaces through which nations define their cultural identities The great cities that have arisen on the North American continent have stimulated the imaginations of the United States and Canada in very different ways This first comparative study of North American urban fiction starts out by delineating the sociohistorical and literary contexts in which cities grew into diverging symbolic spaces in American and Canadian culture After an overview of recent developments in the cultural conception of urban space the book takes New York and Toronto fiction as exemplary for exploring representations of the urban after postmodernism It analyzes four twenty first century novels two set in New York Siri Hustvedt's What I Loved and Paule Marshall's The Fisher King and two set in Toronto Carol Shields's Unless and Dionne Brand's What We All Long For While these texts continue to echo the specific traditions of nation building and canon formation in the United States and Canada they also share certain features All of them investigate the affective crossroads of the city while returning to a more realistic mode of representation Caroline Rosenthal is Professor of American Literature at the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena Germany

Religious Othering Mark Juergensmeyer, Kathleen Moore, Dominic Sachsenmaier, 2022-09-19 Perhaps the most disturbing feature of globalization is the emergence of a new tribalism an attitude expressed in the common phrase thank God we're not like them Religious Othering: Global Dimensions explores this political and religious phenomenon Why are these new xenophobic movements erupting around the world at this moment in history and what are the features of religious identity that seem to appeal to them How do we make sense of the strident forms of religious exclusion that have been a part of the past and re emerged around the world in recent years This book brings together research scholars from different fields who have had to answer these questions in their own ground breaking research on religious othering movements Written in an engaging personal style these essays share these scholars attempts to get inside the worldviews of these neo nationalists through such research approaches as participant observation empathetic interviews and close textual reading Religious Othering Global Dimensions is of interest to students and scholars in religious studies and the social sciences In addition anyone concerned about the rise of religious extremism in the contemporary world will be fascinated with these journeys into the mindsets of dogmatic and sometimes violent religious groups

Transnational Canadas Kit Dobson, 2011-04-07 Transnational Canadas marks the first sustained inquiry into the relationship between globalization and Canadian literature written in English Tracking developments in the literature and its study from the centennial period to the present it shows how current work in transnational studies can provide new insights for researchers and students Arguing first that the dichotomy of Canadian nationalism and globalization is no longer valid in today s economic climate Transnational Canadas explores the legacy of leftist nationalism in Canadian literature It examines the interventions of multicultural writing in the 1980s and 1990s investigating the cultural politics of the period and how they increasingly became part of Canada s state structure Under globalization the book concludes we need to understand new forms of subjectivity and mobility as sites for cultural politics and look beyond received notions of belonging and being An original contribution to the study of Canadian literature Transnational Canadas seeks to invigorate discussion by challenging students and researchers to understand the national and the global simultaneously to look at the politics of identity beyond the rubric of multiculturalism and to rethink the slippery notion of the political for the contemporary era
