

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Purpose of the CT Study Instruction Manual

The purpose of this instruction manual is to help you complete original and revised CT studies for your treatment plant using the CT Template.

1.2 What Systems Can Use the New Automated CT Study Template?

The Template is primarily intended for small and medium size treatment plants. The template is designed for treatment plants with no more than 10 disinfection zones, each zone consisting of no more than 10 treatment units. If your plant does not meet these requirements, your CT study will need to be completed manually.

1.3 How Is This Instruction Manual Organized?

Table 1-1 gives a summary of the chapters in this manual and what they cover.

Table 1-1: CT Study Template Guidance Manual Chapters

Chapter	Topics
1	Introduction This chapter describes who is eligible to use the new Template and discusses how to use this guidance manual.
2	CT Studies and the CT Study Approval Letter This chapter details the concepts used in the preparation of a CT Study and the subsequent approval process. A firm understanding of the background presented here is critical to the preparation of an accurate CT Study.
3	Describing Your Treatment Plant This chapter presents the guidelines you will use follow in writing a narrative description and preparing a plant schematic.
4	Describing Your Disinfection Zones This chapter takes you through the steps involved with customizing the Template to accurately reflect the number of disinfection zones and treatment units in your treatment plant. This chapter outlines the information you must enter to characterize your disinfection process.
5	Evaluating Your Disinfection Protocol Chapter 5 describes the Calculator worksheet of the CT Study Template and the information you must provide to determine whether your disinfection process provides adequate disinfection.

Fast-food Operations and Their Management Stephen D. Ball,1992-01-01      Fast Food, Fast Talk Robin Leidner,1993-08-04 Attending Hamburger University Robin Leidner observes how McDonald s trains the managers of its fast food restaurants to standardize every aspect of service and product Learning how to sell life insurance at a large midwestern firm she is coached on exactly what to say how to stand when to make eye contact and how to build up Positive Mental Attitude by chanting I feel happy I feel terrific Leidner s fascinating report from the frontlines of two major American corporations uncovers the methods and consequences of regulating workers language looks attitudes ideas and demeanor Her study reveals the complex and often unexpected results that come with the routinization of service work Some McDonald s workers resent the constraints of prescribed uniforms and rigid scripts while others appreciate how routines simplify their jobs and give them psychological protection against unpleasant customers Combined Insurance goes further than McDonald s in attempting to standardize the workers very selves instilling in them adroit maneuvers to overcome customer resistance The routinization of service work has both poignant and preposterous consequences It tends to undermine shared understandings about individuality and social obligations sharpening the tension between the belief in personal autonomy and the domination of a powerful corporate culture Richly anecdotal and accessibly written Leidner s book charts new territory in the sociology of work With service sector work becoming increasingly important in American business her timely study is particularly welcome      How to Operate a Restaurant Operations Manual National Restaurant Association (U.S.),1982      Labour Relations in the Global Fast-Food Industry Tony Royle,Brian Towers,2004-08-02 The fast food industry is one of the few industries that can be described as truly global not least in terms of employment which is estimated at around ten million people worldwide This edited volume is the first of its kind providing an analysis of labour relations in this significant industry focusing on multinational corporations and large national companies in ten countries the USA Canada the UK the Netherlands Germany Australia New Zealand Singapore and Russia The extent to which multinational enterprises impose or adapt their employment practices in differing national industrial relations systems is analysed Results reveal that the global fast food industry is typified by trade union exclusion high labour turnover unskilled work paternalistic management regimes and work organization that allows little scope for developing workers participation in decision making let alone advocating widely accepted concepts of social justice and workers rights      Franchising & Licensing Andrew J. Sherman,2004 Annotation For more than a decade this book has been the definitive guide to franchises and licensing programs In this third edition author and prominent attorney Andrew J Sherman expands his in depth coverage to include international franchising initiatives In addition every chapter has been thoroughly updated to reflect new information on market responsiveness compliance and other key issues The result is a truly global reference that will prove indispensable to companies and entrepreneurs alike If you re involved in any aspect of franchising and licensing you can t afford to be without the latest edition of this book It became the industry standard immediately upon its original publication opening up enticing opportunities for entrepreneurs as well as presenting new strategic options for corporations Now the third edition gives it truly global reach Expanded to include international as well as domestic U S franchising and licensing it comprehensively covers the strategic legal financial and operational aspects of these complex but highly profitable business structures
