Colonialist Photography Eleanor M. Hight,Gary D. Sampson,2013-06-17 Colonialist Photography is an absorbing collection of essays and photographs exploring the relationship between photography and European and American colonialism The book is packed with well over a hundred captivating images ranging from the first experiments with photography as a documentary medium up to the decolonization of many regions after World War II Reinforcing a broad range of Western assumptions and prejudices Eleanor M Hight and Gary D Sampson argue that such images often assisted in the construction of a colonial culture

Humanitarian Photography Heide Fehrenbach,Davide Rodogno,2015-02-23 This book investigates the historical evolution of humanitarian photography the mobilization of photography in the service of humanitarian initiatives across state boundaries

The Photographic Image in Digital Culture Martin Lister,2013-09-23 This new edition of The Photographic Image in Digital Culture explores the condition of photography after some 20 years of remediation and transformation by digital technology Through ten especially commissioned essays by some of the leading scholars in the field of contemporary photography studies a range of key topics are discussed including the meaning of software in the production of photograph the nature of networked photographs the screen as the site of photographic display the simulation of photography in the videogame photography ubiquitous computing and technologies of ambient intelligence developments in vernacular photography and social media the photograph and the digital archive the curation and exhibition of the networked photograph the dominance of the image bank in commercial and advertising photography the complexities of citizen photojournalism A recurring theme addressed throughout is the nature of photography after photography and the paradoxical nature of the medium in the 21st century a time when the traditional technology of photography has become defunct while there is more photography than ever This is an ideal book for students studying photography and digital media

The Oxford Companion to the Photograph Robin Lenman, 2008 This is the first Oxford Companion to deal with the subject of photography It appears at a watershed in the medium's history as digital imaging increasingly dominates the global photography scene at both amateur and professional levels In addition to a wide range of technical information the book encapsulates in a concise and readily accessible form the mass of recent scholarship on photography as a social and artistic practice organized both thematically and geographically There are over 800 biographical entries both on photographers and on other individuals who have significantly influenced photographic culture from the early 19th century to the present day The book's scope is worldwide The international team of contributors is made up of leading authorities in their fields and include Heather Angel Sylvie Aubenas Quentin Bajac Marta Braun Clement Cheroux Elizabeth Edwards John Falconer Colin Ford Ron Graham Sarah Greenough Mark Haworth Booth Roger Hicks Paul Hill Jens Jaeger Jan Erik Lundstrom Naomi Rosenblum Rolf Sachsse Martha Sandweiss Graham Saxby Joan Schwartz Sara Stevenson Roger Taylor Regine Thiriez John Ward Liz Wells and Mike Ware The book is generously illustrated and includes many pictures never before published The majority of the 1 600 plus entries include suggestions for further reading and the work's usefulness is further enhanced by the inclusion of an extensive bibliography a chronology of photographic history a list of important websites and an index of people This fascinating informative and beautifully illustrated book is an ideal gift for anyone interested in photography

Making Memory Matter Lisa Saltzman, 2006-10-02 In an ancient account of painting's origins a woman traces the shadow of her departing lover on the wall in an act that anticipates future grief and commemoration Lisa Saltzman shows here that nearly two thousand years after this story was first told contemporary artists are returning to similar strategies of remembrance ranging from vaudevillian silhouettes and sepulchral casts to incinerated architectures and ghostly processions Exploring these artists work Saltzman demonstrates that their methods have now eclipsed painting and traditional sculpture as preeminent forms of visual representation She pays particular attention to the groundbreaking art of Krzysztof Wodiczko who is known for his projections of historical subjects Kara Walker who creates powerful silhouetted images of racial violence in American history and Rachel Whiteread whose work centers on making casts of empty interior spaces Each of the artists Saltzman discusses is struggling with the roles that history and memory have come to play in an age when any historical statement is subject to question and doubt In identifying this new and powerful movement she provides a framework for understanding the art of our time

If I Ran the Zoo Dr. Seuss, 1950 Gerald tells of the very unusual animals he would add to the zoo if he were in charge

The Focal Press Companion to the Constructed Image in Contemporary Photography Anne Leighton Massoni, Marni Shindelman, 2019 The University of the Arts Lamar Dodd School of Art University of Georgia

A Different Light Parvati Nair, 2011 This is the first full critical study of the work of the popular documentary photographer Sebastião Salgado Nair explores all the stages of Salgado's work including the recent more ecological subjects showing its planetary commitments

Why Art Photography? Lucy Soutter, 2018-01-17 The second edition of Why Art Photography is an updated expanded introduction to the ideas behind today's striking photographic images. Lively accessible discussions of key issues such as ambiguity, objectivity, fiction, authenticity, and photography's expanding field are supplemented with new material around timely topics such as globalization, selfie culture, and photographers' use of advanced digital technologies including CGI and virtual reality. The new edition includes an expanded introduction, extended chapters featuring emerging trends, a larger selection of images including new color images, an improved and expanded bibliography. This new edition is essential for students looking to enrich their understanding of photography as a complex and multi-faceted art form.

Early New Zealand Photography Angela Wanhalla, Erika Wolf, 2011 This book looks at a range of New Zealand photographs up to 1918 and analyses them as photo objects, considering how they were made, who made them, what they show, and how our understanding of them can vary or change over time. This emphasis on the materiality of the photograph is a new direction in scholarship on colonial photographs.

Criticizing Photographs Terry Barrett, 2020-11-30 Emphasizing the understanding of images and their influences on how they affect our attitudes, beliefs, and actions, this fully updated sixth edition offers consequential ways of looking at images from the perspectives of photographers, critics, theoreticians, historians, curators, and editors. It invites informed conversations about meanings and implications of images, providing multiple and sometimes conflicting answers to questions such as: What are photographs? Should they be called art? Are they ethical? What are their implications for self, society, and the world? From showing how critics verbalize what they see in images and how they persuade us to see, similarly to dealing with what different photographs might mean, the book posits that some interpretations are better than others and explains how to deliberate among competing interpretations. It looks at how the worth of photographs is judged aesthetically and socially, offering samples and practical considerations for both studio critiques for artists and professional criticism for public audiences. This book is a clear and accessible guide for students of art history, photography, and criticism, as well as anyone interested in carefully looking at and talking about photographs and their effects on the world in which we live.
