

POLS 1101: American Government (Spring 2017)
Professor: M. Evans
Study Guide for Exam 1

Chapter 1: What are Governments and What do They Do?

- According to the textbook, what are the defining features of “government”?
 - A government is a set of institutions that endures over time and that, in relation to the people of a particular territory, authoritatively makes and enforces laws.
- Make sure to know the basic definitions of these types of governing institutions: legislature, executive branch, bureaucratic agencies, judicial branch, and courts.
 - Legislature Branch: An institution of government that makes laws.
 - Executive Branch: A set of institutions in government with authority to put laws into effect through the use of physical force by police, military, etc..
 - Bureaucratic Agencies: Organizational units within the executive branch of government responsible for implementing specific public policies and/or providing public services.
 - Judicial Branch: Branch of govt. consisting of courts of law.
 - Courts: Tribunals (a court of justice) with authority to resolve legal disputes between parties and that make authoritative judgements that guide and limit executive branch enforcement and implementation of laws.
- What is the name of the legislature of the government of the State of Georgia? What is the name of the legislature of the federal government of the United States? What are the names of the two chambers of the legislature of the government of the State of Georgia? What are the names of the two chambers of the legislature of the federal government of the United States?
 - The name of the legislature of the State of Georgia is called the Georgia General Assembly and it consists of a Senate and House of Representatives.
 - The name of the legislature of the government of the United States is called Congress and consist of both the Senate and House of Representatives.
- Make sure to know and understand these two distinctive features of the American form of government: federalism and separation of powers.
 - Federalism: Principle of government that means authority is partly divided and partly shared between the federal government and state governments.
 - Separation of powers: Principle of government that means legislative, executive, and judicial powers are exercised by 3 separate branches of government consisting of distinct institutions that are staffed by officials who serve in only one institution at a time.
- Make sure to know and understand the definition of these concepts provided by the textbook:
 - Authority (as in A having authority over B)
 - A has authority over B to the extent that A has a right to issue commands to B and to expect B to obey those commands.
 - Legitimate claim to authority
