Atlas of the Human Body Branislav Vidic, Milan Milisavljevic, 2017-03-10 Atlas of Human Body Central Nervous System and Vascularization is a multidisciplinary approach to the technical coverage of anatomical structures and relationships. It contains surface and 3D dissection images, native and colored cross-sectional views made in different planes, MRI comparisons, demonstrations of cranial nerve origins, distribution of blood vessels by dissection, and systematic presentation of arterial distribution from the precapillary level using the methyl methacrylate injection and subsequent tissue digestion method. Included throughout are late prenatal, fetal, and early postnatal images to contribute to a better understanding of structure-relationship specificity of differentiation at various developmental intervals, conduits, organs, somatic or branchial derivatives. Each chapter features clinical correlations providing a unique perspective of side-by-side comparisons of dissection images, magnetic resonance imaging, and computed tomography. Created after many years of professional and scientific cooperation between the authors and their parent institutions, this important resource will serve researchers, students, and doctors in their professional work. Contains over 700 color photos of ideal anatomical preparations and sections of each part of the body that have been prepared, recorded, and processed by the authors. Covers existing gaps including developmental and prenatal periods, detailed vascular anatomy, and neuroanatomy. Features a comprehensive alphabetical index of structures for ease of use. Features a companion website which contains access to all images within the book.
