The Western Intellectual Tradition From Leonardo To Hegel Jacob Bronowski

The Western Intellectual Tradition Jacob Bronowski, Bruce Mazlish, 1962-08-01 Traces the development of thought through historical movements and periods from 1500 to 1830 The Western Intellectual Tradition J. Bronowski, 1975
The Western Intellectual Tradition Jacob Bronowski, 1960 The Western Intellectual Tradition Jacob Bronowski, Bruce Mazlish, 1975 The Shadow of God Michael Rosen, 2022-06-30 Michael Rosen shows how the redemptive hope of religion became the redemptive hope of historical progress This was the heart of German Idealism purpose lay not in God's judgment but in worldly projects freedom required not being subject to arbitrary authority human or divine Yet purpose and freedom never shed their theistic structure The Fourth Discontinuity Bruce Mazlish, 1993-01-01 Discusses the relationship between humans and machines pondering the implications of humans becoming more mechanical and of computer robots being programmed to think He describes early Greek and Chinese automatons and discusses ideas of previous centuries and of individuals on this subject The Western Intellectual Tradition J. Bronowski, 1982 The Fate of Reason Frederick C. Beiser, 2009-07-01 The Fate of Reason is the first general history devoted to the period between Kant and Fichte one of the most revolutionary and fertile in modern philosophy The philosophers of this time broke with the two central tenets of the modern Cartesian tradition the authority of reason and the primacy of epistemology They also witnessed the decline of the Aufklärung the completion of Kant's philosophy and the beginnings of post-Kantian idealism Thanks to Beiser we can newly appreciate the influence of Kant's critics on the development of his philosophy Beiser brings the controversies and the personalities who engaged in them to life and tells a story that has uncanny parallels with the debates of the present Between Kant and Hegel Dieter Henrich, 2009-07-01 Electrifying when first delivered in 1973 legendary in the years since Dieter Henrich's lectures on German Idealism were the first contact a major German philosopher had made with an American audience since the onset of World War II They remain one of the most eloquent explanations and interpretations of classical German philosophy and of the way it relates to the concerns of contemporary philosophy Thanks to the editorial work of David Pacini the lectures appear here with annotations linking them to editions of the masterworks of German philosophy as they are now available Henrich describes the movement that led from Kant to Hegel beginning with an interpretation of the structure and tensions of Kant's system He locates the Kantian movement and revival of Spinoza as sketched by F. H. Jacobi in the intellectual conditions of the time and in the philosophical motivations of modern thought Providing extensive analysis of the various versions of Fichte's Science of Knowledge Henrich brings into view a constellation of problems that illuminate the accomplishments of the founders of Romanticism Novalis and Friedrich Schlegel and of the poet Hlderlin s original philosophy He concludes with an interpretation of the basic design of Hegel s system The Course of Recognition Paul Ricoeur,2007-09-30 Recognition though it figures profoundly in our understanding of objects and persons identity and ideas has never before been the subject of a single sustained philosophical inquiry This work by one of contemporary philosophy s most distinguished voices pursues recognition through its various philosophical guises and meanings and through the course of recognition seeks to develop nothing less than a proper hermeneutics of mutual recognition Originally delivered as lectures at the Institute for the Human Sciences at Vienna the essays collected here consider recognition in three of its forms The first chapter focusing on knowledge of objects points to the role of recognition in modern epistemology the second concerned with what might be called the recognition of responsibility traces the understanding of agency and moral responsibility from the ancients up to the present day and the third takes up the problem of recognition and identity which extends from Hegel s discussion of the struggle for recognition through contemporary arguments about identity and multiculturalism Throughout Paul Ricoeur probes the significance of our capacity to recognize people and objects and of self recognition and self identity in relation to the gift of mutual recognition Drawing inspiration from such literary texts as the Odyssey and Oedipus at Colonus and engaging some of the classic writings of the Continental philosophical tradition by Kant Hobbes Hegel Augustine Locke and Bergson The Course of Recognition ranges over vast expanses of time and subject matter and in the process suggests a number of highly insightful ways of thinking through the major questions of modern philosophy Inventions of Difference Rodolphe Gasché,1994 Nine essays written over a dozen years explore problems of engaging the ideas of the contemporary French philosopher and their reception in the US Deconstruction as criticism the eclipse of difference structural infinity and responding responsibly are among the perspectives Several of the essays have been previously published Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR A New History of German Literature David E. Wellbery, Judith Ryan, Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht,2004 A New History of German Literature offers some 200 essays on events in German literary history The Ascent of Man Jacob Bronowski,2009 In Praise of Copying Marcus Boon,2010 This book is devoted to a deceptively simple but original argument that copying is an essential part of being human that the ability to copy is worthy of celebration and that without recognizing how integral copying is to being human we cannot understand ourselves or the world we live in In spite of the laws stigmas and anxieties attached to it the word copying permeates contemporary culture shaping discourse on issues from hip hop to digitization to gender reassignment and is particularly crucial in legal debates concerning intellectual property and copyright Yet as a philosophical concept copying remains poorly understood Working comparatively across cultures and times Marcus Boon undertakes an examination of what this word means historically culturally philosophically and why it fills us with fear and fascination He argues that the dominant legal political structures that define copying today obscure much broader processes of imitation that have constituted human communities for ages and continue to shape various subcultures today Drawing on contemporary art music and film the history of aesthetics critical theory and Buddhist philosophy and practice In Praise of Copying seeks to show how and why copying works what the sources of its power are and the political stakes of renegotiating the way we value copying in the age of globalization The Black Atlantic Paul Gilroy,1993 An account of the location of black intellectuals in the modern world following the end of racial slavery The lives and writings of key African Americans such as Martin Delany W E B Dubois Frederick Douglas and Richard Wright are examined in the light of their experiences in Europe and Africa The Origins of Knowledge and Imagination Jacob Bronowski,2008-10-01 A gem of enlightenment One rejoices in Bronowski s dedication to the identity of acts of creativity and of imagination whether in Blake or Yeats or Einstein or Heisenberg Kirkus Reviews According to Bronowski our account of the world is dictated by our biology how we perceive imagine symbolize etc He proposes to explain how we receive and translate our experience of the world so that we achieve knowledge He examines the mechanisms of our perception the origin and nature of natural language formal systems and scientific discourse and how science as a systematic attempt to establish closed systems one after another progresses by exploring its own errors and new but unforeseen connections A delightful look at the inquiring mind Library Journal Eminently enjoyable to read with a good story or bon mot on every page Nature A well written and brilliantly presented defense of the scientific enterprise which could be especially valuable to scientists and to teachers of science at all levels AAAS Science Books Films Contents 1 The Mind as an Instrument for Understanding 2 The Evolution and Power of Symbolic Language 3 Knowledge as Algorithm and as Metaphor 4 The Laws of Nature and the Nature of Laws 5 Error Progress and the Concept of Time 6 Law and Individual Responsibility Religion in the Age of Re-Globalization Roland Benedikter,2021-12-13 This book provides a concise introduction into twenty one trends that are transforming the role of religion and spirituality in re globalizing societies In referring to processes of re globalization the book draws attention to profound ongoing changes in the patterns and mechanisms of contemporary globalization Inter and transdisciplinary in its approach clearly structured and easy to read the book analyzes the impact of religious self understanding rhetoric and practice on five core fields economics politics culture demography and technology In turn it describes the effects of these five fields on religion and spirituality themselves This book represents a broad encompassing overview of the main transformations that religion is undergoing today Roland Benedikter combines a big picture approach with a keen attention to the details of specific case studies With its clear and accessible structure and timely examples this book is ideally suited for students of international relations and religious studies and will also appeal to researchers engaged in those fields and to interested general readers The book is also apt to serve as an encompassing basis for contemporary debates in civil society including both grassroots and expert discussions The Shock of Recognition Lewis Pyenson,2020-10-12 In The Shock of Recognition Lewis Pyenson examines art and science together to shed new light on common motifs in Picasso s and Einstein s education in European material culture and in the intellectual life of one nation state Argentina Technopoly Neil

Postman,2011-06-01 A witty often terrifying that chronicles our transformation into a society that is shaped by technology from the acclaimed author of Amusing Ourselves to Death A provocative book A tool for fighting back against the tools that run our lives Dallas Morning News The story of our society s transformation into a Technopoly a society that no longer merely uses technology as a support system but instead is shaped by it with radical consequences for the meanings of politics art education intelligence and truth The Jewish Intellectual Tradition Alan Kadish,Michael A. Shmidman,Simcha Fishbane,2021-01-19 The Jewish intellectual tradition has a long and complex history that has resulted in significant and influential works of scholarship In this book the authors suggest that there is a series of common principles that can be extracted from the Jewish intellectual tradition that have broad even life changing implications for individual and societal achievement These principles include respect for tradition while encouraging independent often disruptive thinking a precise system of logical reasoning in pursuit of the truth universal education continuing through adulthood and living a purposeful life The main objective of this book is to understand the historical development of these principles and to demonstrate how applying them judiciously can lead to greater intellectual productivity a more fulfilling existence and a more advanced society
