Africa-EU Relations and the African Continental Free Trade Area Leon Mwamba Tshipaka, 2024 This book examines the establishment and implementation of the AfCFTA which is the largest free trade area globally covering 54 African countries It explores how this initiative has the potential to reshape Africa EU relations by promoting intra African trade economic integration and diversification as well as inter regional trade Both continents have potential to serve as global actors in reshaping the global order in ways that can affect how multilateralism foster inclusive development However whether this will happen would be a function of how the EU and AU define their interests and relationship Leon Mwamba Tshipaka is Senior Postdoctoral Research Fellow in the Centre for the Study of Governance Innovation GovInn and the SARChI Research Chair in the Political Economy of Migration in the SADC Region in the Department of Political Sciences of the University of Pretoria South Africa Samuel Ojo Oloruntoba is Assistant Professor at the Institute of African Studies Carleton University Ottawa Ontario Canada and Honorary Professor at the Thabo Mbeki African School of Public and International Affairs University of South Africa where he was previously an Associate Professor

Economics and Development Studies Michael Tribe, Frederick Nixson, Andy Sumner, 2010-09-13 Development studies textbooks and courses have sometimes tended to avoid significant economic content. However, without an understanding of the economic aspects of international development, many of the more complex issues cannot be fully comprehended. Economics and Development Studies makes the economic dimension of discourse around controversial issues in international development accessible to second and third year undergraduate students working towards degrees in development studies. Following an introductory chapter outlining the connections between development economics and development studies, this book consists of eight substantive chapters dealing with the nature of development economics, economic growth and structural change, economic growth and developing countries, economic growth and economic development since 1960, the global economy and the Third World, developing countries and international trade, economics and development policy, and poverty, equality and development. Economists with a tenth concluding chapter. This book synthesizes existing development economics literature in order to identify the salient issues and controversies and make them accessible and understandable. The concern is to distinguish differences within the economics profession and between economists and non-economists so that the reader can make informed judgments about the sources of these differences and about their impact on policy analysis and policy advice. The book features explanatory text boxes, tables, and diagrams, suggestions for further reading, and a listing of the economic concepts used in the chapters.

Economic Development, Growth and Welfare Charles Smith, 1994 Covers the major issues of economic development including Third World debt, income distribution, and environmental problems.

Development Economics HL Ahuja, 2016 A result of more than four decades of teaching experience, this book deals with the problems of economic growth, development, and eradication of poverty and unemployment. The book also includes an analytical study of important issues of environment and sustainable development. The book not only explains the models and theories of economic growth but also critically evaluates their relevance to developing countries. A major highlight of discussion in the context is the exploration of the widely accepted Amartya Sen's Capability Approach to development.

Economic Development and Growth Robert E. Baldwin, 1980 Providing an analysis of economic development, this work is organized around three general questions: what is the nature of the growth problem facing less developed countries, what are the key relationships that determine a country's growth rate, and what is the best way of handling these issues.
