Advanced Calculus (Revised Edition) Lynn Harold Loomis, Shlomo Zvi Sternberg, 2014-02-26 An authorised reissue of the long out of print classic textbook Advanced Calculus by the late Dr Lynn Loomis and Dr Shlomo Sternberg both of Harvard University has been a revered but hard to find textbook for the advanced calculus course for decades This book is based on an honors course in advanced calculus that the authors gave in the 1960 s The foundational material presented in the unstarred sections of Chapters 1 through 11 was normally covered but different applications of this basic material were stressed from year to year and the book therefore contains more material than was covered in any one year It can accordingly be used with omissions as a text for a year s course in advanced calculus or as a text for a three semester introduction to analysis The prerequisites are a good grounding in the calculus of one variable from a mathematically rigorous point of view together with some acquaintance with linear algebra The reader should be familiar with limit and continuity type arguments and have a certain amount of mathematical sophistication As possible introductory texts we mention Differential and Integral Calculus by R Courant Calculus by T Apostol Calculus by M Spivak and Pure Mathematics by G Hardy The reader should also have some experience with partial derivatives In overall plan the book divides roughly into a first half which develops the calculus principally the differential calculus in the setting of normed vector spaces and a second half which deals with the calculus of differentiable manifolds

A Decade of the Berkeley Math Circle Zvezdelina Stankova, Tom Rike, 2008-11-26 Many mathematicians have been drawn to mathematics through their experience with math circles extracurricular programs exposing teenage students to advanced mathematical topics and a myriad of problem solving techniques and inspiring in them a lifelong love for mathematics Founded in 1998 the Berkeley Math Circle BMC is a pioneering model of a U S math circle aspiring to prepare our best young minds for their future roles as mathematics leaders Over the last decade 50 instructors from university professors to high school teachers to business tycoons have shared their passion for mathematics by delivering more than 320 BMC sessions full of mathematical challenges and wonders Based on a dozen of these sessions this book encompasses a wide variety of enticing mathematical topics from inversion in the plane to circle geometry from combinatorics to Rubik s cube and abstract algebra from number theory to mass point theory from complex numbers to game theory via invariants and monovariants The treatments of these subjects encompass every significant method of proof and emphasize ways of thinking and reasoning via 100 problem solving techniques Also featured are 300 problems ranging from beginner to intermediate level with occasional peaks of advanced problems and even some open questions The book presents possible paths to studying mathematics and inevitably falling in love with it via teaching two important skills thinking creatively while still obeying the rules and making connections between problems ideas and theories The book encourages you to apply the newly acquired knowledge to problems and guides you along the way but rarely gives you ready answers Learning from our own mistakes often occurs through discussions of non proofs and common problem solving pitfalls The reader has to commit to mastering the new theories and techniques by getting your hands dirty with the problems going back and reviewing necessary problem solving techniques and theory and persistently moving forward in the book The mathematical world is huge you ll never know everything but you ll learn where to find things how to connect and use them The rewards will be substantial In the interest of fostering a greater awareness and appreciation of mathematics and its connections to other disciplines and everyday life MSRI and the AMS are publishing books in the Mathematical Circles Library series as a service to young people their parents and teachers and the mathematics profession

Taxonomy of Educational Objectives Benjamin Samuel Bloom, David R. Krathwohl, 1984

Taxonomy Classification esp of animals and plants according to their natural relationships Most readers will have heard of the biological taxonomies which permit classification into such categories as phylum class order family genus species variety Biologists have found their taxonomy markedly helpful as a means of insuring accuracy of communication about their science and as a means of understanding the organization and interrelation of the various parts of the animal and plant world

Make It Stick Peter C. Brown, Henry L. Roediger III, Mark A. McDaniel, 2014-04-14 To most of us learning something the hard way implies wasted time and effort Good teaching we believe should be creatively tailored to the different learning styles of students and should use strategies that make learning easier Make It Stick turns fashionable ideas like these on their head Drawing on recent discoveries in cognitive psychology and other disciplines the authors offer concrete techniques for becoming more productive learners Memory plays a central role in our ability to carry out complex cognitive tasks such as applying knowledge to problems never before encountered and drawing inferences from facts already known New insights into how memory is encoded consolidated and later retrieved have led to a better understanding of how we learn Grappling with the impediments that make learning challenging leads both to more complex mastery and better retention of what was learned Many common study habits and practice routines turn out to be counterproductive Underlining and highlighting rereading cramming and single minded repetition of new skills create the illusion of mastery but gains fade quickly More complex and durable learning come from self testing introducing certain difficulties in practice waiting to re study new material until a little forgetting has set in and interleaving the practice of one skill or topic with another Speaking most urgently to students teachers trainers and athletes Make It Stick will appeal to all those interested in the challenge of lifelong learning and self improvement coverage such that nearly all children in the region attend primary school but many do not gain basic skills and drop out before completing secondary school in part due to low quality service delivery The preponderance of evidence shows that it is learning and not schooling in and of itself that contributes to individual earnings economic growth and reduced inequality For LAC in particular low levels of human capital are a critical factor in explaining the region's relatively weak growth performance over the last half century The easily measurable inputs are well known and the end goal is relatively clear but raising student achievement at scale remains a challenge Why Part of the answer lies in management the managers structures and practices that guide how inputs into the education system are translated into outputs and ultimately outcomes While management is often mentioned as an important factor in education policy discussions relatively little quantitative research has been done to define and measure it And even less has been done to unpack how and how much management matters for education quality This study presents new conceptual and empirical contributions that can be synthesized in four key messages 1 Student learning is unlikely to improve at scale without better management 2 Management quality can be measured and should be measured as a catalyst for improvement 3 Management affects how well every level of an education system functions from individual schools to central technical units and how well they work together 4 Several pathways to strengthening management are open to LAC countries now with the potential for significant results The study elaborates on each of these messages synthesizing recent data and research and presenting the results of several new research initiatives from across the region

Biology, 2015-03-16 Biology for grades 6 to 12 is designed to aid in the review and practice of biology topics such as matter and atoms cells classifying animals genetics plant and animal structures human body systems and ecological relationships The book includes realistic diagrams and engaging activities to support practice in all areas of biology The 100 Series science books span grades 5 to 12 The activities in each book reinforce essential science skill practice in the areas of life science physical science and earth science The books include engaging grade appropriate activities and clear thumbnail answer keys Each book has 128 pages and 100 pages or more of reproducible content to help students review and reinforce essential skills in individual science topics The series is aligned to current science standards

All of Statistics Larry Wasserman, 2013-12-11 Taken literally the title All of Statistics is an exaggeration But in spirit the title is apt as the book does cover a much broader range of topics than a typical introductory book on mathematical statistics This book is for people who want to learn probability and statistics quickly It is suitable for graduate or advanced undergraduate students in computer science mathematics statistics and related disciplines The book includes modern topics like non parametric curve estimation bootstrapping and classification topics that are usually relegated to follow up courses The reader is presumed to know calculus and a little linear algebra No previous knowledge of probability and statistics is required Statistics data mining and machine learning are all concerned with collecting and analysing data
