Mtu Engine Parts

Thriving on Strategic Alliances Sveinn Vidar Gudmundsson,2014 This teaching case covers MTU Aero Engines a German aerospace company The focus is on alliances both vertical and horizontal to highlight a unique strategic position of the firm as a first tier systems supplier to the aircraft engine OEMs The company enjoys a strong position in a web of relations involving most OEMs However more and more risk sharing contracts involving highly innovative and complex parts means that MTU must manage its risk portfolio The company has entered other engine related services such as the maintenance repair overhaul MRO market characterized by far more players than the engine parts business At one stage the company was sold to the leverage buyout company KKR in the US raising many political issues regarding the military part of the company Although many see MTU as a company that could become the fourth independent OEM in aero engines GE Rolls Royce and Pratt Whitney others argue against such a move The case has been used in MBA strategy classes to highlight the costs and benefits of a complex web of strategic alliances

Globalization 2.0 Raschid Ijioui, Heike Emmerich, Michael Ceyp, Jochen Hagen, 2009-10-27 Eat not up your property among yourselves unjustly except it be a trade amongst you by mutual consent and help you one another in righteousness and piety Al Hadid 4 29 Al Ma'idah 5 2 There cannot be any doubt that the current financial crisis which began in the US has gone global This realization has fuelled the re of debate over globalization Today's globalization is no longer the globalization that Theodore Levitt a former professor at the Harvard Business School described in 1983 in his world famous article The Globalization of Markets Although in old days Levitt and his successors had not seen globalization as an utopian state free of problems no days globalization has been reshaped completely Therefore in the perception of the editors it is justified to use the phrase Globalisation 2.0 for the range of effects interpenetrating global economic arrangements Globalisation 1.0 will never be restored again Since the subprime crisis made its way to the global arena in the year 2008 companies and managers are confronted with the breathtaking speed of global regional and local changes It is more than a provocation to divide developments into cause and effects Forecasts in strategic management are no longer valid even for the moment they are published Uncertainty occupies the driving seats in global regional and local oriented companies
