The History Manifesto Jo Guldi,David Armitage,2014-10-02 How should historians speak truth to power and why does it matter Why is five hundred years better than five months or five years as a planning horizon And why is history especially long term history so essential to understanding the multiple pasts which gave rise to our conflicted present The History Manifesto is a call to arms to historians and everyone interested in the role of history in contemporary society Leading historians Jo Guldi and David Armitage identify a recent shift back to longer term narratives following many decades of increasing specialisation which they argue is vital for the future of historical scholarship and how it is communicated This provocative and thoughtful book makes an important intervention in the debate about the role of history and the humanities in a digital age It will provoke discussion among policymakers activists and entrepreneurs as well as ordinary listeners viewers readers students and teachers This title is also available as Open Access Teaching U. S. History Thematically Rosalie Metro,2023 The second edition of this best selling book offers the tools teachers need to get started with an innovative approach to teaching history one that develops literacy and higher order thinking skills connects the past to students lives today and meets state and national standards The author provides an introductory unit to build a trustful classroom climate over 70 primary sources including a dozen new ones organized into six thematic units each structured around an essential question from U S history and a final unit focusing on periodization and chronology As students analyze carefully excerpted documents speeches by presidents and protesters Supreme Court cases political cartoons they build an understanding of how diverse historical figures have approached key issues At the same time students learn to participate in civic debates and develop their own views on what it means to be a 21st century American Each unit connects to current events and dynamic classroom activities make history come alive In addition to the documents themselves this teaching manual provides strategies to assess student learning mini lectures designed to introduce documents activities to help students process display and integrate their learning guidance to help teachers create their own units and more
