intensely personal collection of poetry rich with political and human resonance Ursula K LeGuin Before becoming the bestselling author we know today Barbara Kingsolver as a new college graduate in search of adventure moved to the borderlands of Tucson Arizona What she found she says was another America Interweaving past political events from the US backed dictatorships in South America to the government surveillance carried out in the Reagan years Kingsolver's early poetry expands into a broader examination of the racism discrimination and immigration system she witnessed at close range The poems coalesce in a record of her emerging adulthood in which she confronts the hypocrisy of the national myth of America a confrontation that would come to shape her not only as an artist but as a citizen With a new introduction from Kingsolver that reflects on the current border crisis Another America is a striking portrait of a country deeply divided between those with privilege and those without and the lives of urgent purpose that may be carved out in between The Poisonwood Bible Barbara Kingsolver,2009-10-13 New York Times Bestseller Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize An Oprah's Book Club Selection Powerful Kingsolver has with infinitely steady hands worked the prickly threads of religion politics race sin and redemption into a thing of terrible beauty Los Angeles Times Book Review The Poisonwood Bible now celebrating its 25th anniversary established Barbara Kingsolver as one of the most thoughtful and daring of modern writers Taking its place alongside the classic works of postcolonial literature it is a suspenseful epic of one family's tragic undoing and remarkable reconstruction over the course of three decades in Africa The story is told by the wife and four daughters of Nathan Price a fierce evangelical Baptist who takes his family and mission to the Belgian Congo in 1959 They carry with them everything they believe they will need from home but soon find that all of it from garden seeds to Scripture is calamitously transformed on African soil The novel is set against one of the most dramatic political chronicles of the twentieth century the Congo's fight for independence from Belgium the murder of its first elected prime minister the CIA coup to install his replacement and the insidious progress of a world economic order that robs the fledgling African nation of its autonomy Against this backdrop Orleana Price reconstructs the story of her evangelist husband's part in the Western assault on Africa a tale indelibly darkened by her own losses and unanswerable questions about her own culpability Also narrating the story by turns are her four daughters the teenaged Rachel adolescent twins Leah and Adah and Ruth May a prescient five year old These sharply observant girls who arrive in the Congo with racial preconceptions forged in 1950s Georgia will be marked in surprisingly different ways by their father's intractable mission and by Africa itself Ultimately each must strike her own separate path to salvation Their passionately intertwined stories become a compelling exploration of moral risk and personal responsibility Animal, Vegetable, Miracle Barbara Kingsolver,Camille Kingsolver,Steven L. Hopp,2009-10-13 Bestselling author Barbara Kingsolver returns with her first nonfiction narrative that will open your eyes in a hundred new ways to an old truth You are what you eat As the U S population made an unprecedented mad dash for the Sun Belt one carload of us paddled against the tide heading for the Promised Land where water falls from the sky and green stuff grows all around We were about to begin the adventure of realigning our lives with our food chain Naturally our first stop was to buy junk food and fossil fuel Hang on for the ride With characteristic poetry and pluck Barbara Kingsolver and her family sweep readers along on their journey away from the industrial food pipeline to a rural life in which they vow to buy only food raised in their own neighborhood grow it themselves or learn to live without it Their good humored search yields surprising discoveries about turkey sex life and overly zealous zucchini plants en route to a food culture that s better for the neighborhood and also better on the table Part memoir part journalistic investigation Animal Vegetable Miracle makes a passionate case for putting the kitchen back at the center of family life and diversified farms at the center of the American diet This is the story of a year in which we made every attempt to feed ourselves animals and vegetables whose provenance we really knew and of how our family was changed by our first year of deliberately eating food produced from the same place where we worked went to school loved our neighbors drank the water and breathed the air Includes an excerpt from Flight Behavior

Small Wonder Barbara Kingsolver,2009-10-13 In twenty two wonderfully articulate essays Barbara Kingsolver raises her voice in praise of nature family literature and the joys of everyday life while examining the genesis of war violence and poverty in our world From the author of High Tide in Tucson comes Small Wonder a new collection of essays that begins with a parable gleaned from recent news villagers search for a missing infant boy and find him unharmed in the cave of a dangerous bear that has mothered him like one of her own Clearly our understanding of evil needs to be revised What we fear most can save us From this tale Barbara Kingsolver goes on to consider the chasm between the privileged and the poor which she sees as the root cause of violence and war in our time She writes about her attachment to the land to nature and wilderness trees and mountains the place from which she tells her stories Whether worrying about the dangers of genetically engineered food crops or creating opportunities for children to feel useful and competent like growing food for the family s table Kingsolver looks for small wonders where they grow and celebrates them

Come Sunday Isla Morley,2009-05-26 As Isla Morley's novel sweeps from the hills of Honolulu to the veldt of South Africa we catch a hint of the spirit of Barbara Kingsolver and the mesmerizing truth of Jodi Picoult We are reminded of how it felt to dive into the drama of The Thorn Birds Come Sunday is that joyous special thing a saga that captivates from the very first page breaking our hearts while making our spirits soar Abbe Deighton is a woman who has lost her bearings Once a child of the African plains she is now settled in Hawaii married to a minister and waging her battles in a hallway of monotony There is the leaky roof the chafing expectations of her husband's congregation and the constant demands of motherhood But in an instant beginning with the skid of tires Abbe's battlefield is transformed when her three year old daughter is killed triggering in Abbe a seismic grief that will cut a swath through the landscape of her life and her identity Come Sunday is a novel about searching for a true homeland family bonds torn asunder and the unearthing of decades old secrets It is a novel to celebrate and Isla Morley is a writer to love

The Death of King Arthur Simon Armitage,2012 The Alliterative Morte Arthure the title given to a four thousand line poem written sometime around 1400 was part of a medieval Arthurian revival which produced such masterpieces as Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Sir Thomas Malory s prose Morte D Arthur The Death of King Arthur deals in the cut and thrust of warfare and politics the ever topical matter of Britain s relationship with continental Europe and of its military interests overseas Simon Armitage is already the master of this alliterative music as his earlier version of Sir Gawain and the Green Knight 2006 so resourcefully and exuberantly showed His new translation restores a neglected masterpiece of story telling by bringing vividly to life its entirely medieval mix of ruthlessness and restraint
