A Young People's History of the United States is also a companion volume to The People Speak, the film adapted from A People's History of the United States and Voices of a People's History of the United States. Beginning with a look at Christopher Columbus's arrival through the eyes of the Arawak Indians, then leading the reader through the struggles for workers' rights, women's rights, and civil rights during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, and ending with the current protests against continued American imperialism, Zinn, in the volumes of A Young People's History of the United States, presents a radical new way of understanding America's history. In so doing, he reminds readers that America's true greatness is shaped by our dissident voices, not our military generals. A People's History for the Classroom Bill Bigelow, Howard Zinn, 2008 Presents a collection of lessons and activities for teaching American history for students in middle school and high school. Understanding Machine Learning Shai Shalev-Shwartz, Shai Ben-David, 2014-05-19 Introduces machine learning and its algorithmic paradigms, explaining the principles behind automated learning approaches and the considerations underlying their usage. Leap of Perception Penney Peirce, 2016-10-11 With this effective, easy-to-follow guide, readers can develop the power of perception and imagination to live effortlessly and joyfully. A People's History of American Empire Howard Zinn, Mike Konopacki, Paul Buhle, 2008-04 Adapted from the critically acclaimed chronicle of U.S. history, a study of American expansionism around the world is told from a grassroots perspective and provides an analysis of important events from Wounded Knee to Iraq. Urgent Archives Michelle Caswell, 2021-05-19 Urgent Archives argues that archivists can and should do more to disrupt white supremacy and hetero patriarchy beyond the standard liberal archival solutions of more diverse collecting and more inclusive description. Grounded in the emerging field of critical archival studies, this book uncovers how dominant western archival theories and practices are oppressive by design while looking toward the the radical politics of community archives to envision new liberatory theories and practices Based on more than a decade of ethnography at community archives sites including the South Asian American Digital Archive SAADA the book explores how members of minoritized communities activate records to build solidarities across and within communities trouble linear progress narratives and disrupt cycles of oppression Caswell explores the temporal representational and material aspects of liberatory memory work arguing that archival disruptions in time and space should be neither about the past nor the future but about the liberatory affects and effects of memory work in the present Urgent Archives extends the theoretical range of critical archival studies and provides a new framework for archivists looking to transform their practices The book should also be of interest to scholars of archival studies museum studies public history memory studies gender and ethnic studies and digital humanities
