The Veil of Isis Pierre Hadot, 2006 Nearly twenty five hundred years ago the Greek thinker Heraclitus supposedly uttered the cryptic words Physis kruptesthai philei How the aphorism usually translated as Nature loves to hide has haunted Western culture ever since is the subject of this engaging study by Pierre

Hadot Taking the allegorical figure of the veiled goddess Isis as a guide and drawing on the work of both the ancients and later thinkers such as Goethe Rilke Wittgenstein and Heidegger Hadot traces successive interpretations of Heraclitus words Over time Hadot finds Nature loves to hide has meant that all that lives tends to die that Nature wraps herself in myths and for Heidegger that Being unveils as it veils itself Meanwhile the pronouncement has been used to explain everything from the opacity of the natural world to our modern angst From these kaleidoscopic exegeses and usages emerge two contradictory approaches to nature the Promethean or experimental questing approach which embraces technology as a means of tearing the veil from Nature and revealing her secrets and the Orphic or contemplative poetic approach according to which such a denuding of Nature is a grave trespass In place of these two attitudes Hadot proposes one suggested by the Romantic vision of Rousseau Goethe and Schelling who saw in the veiled Isis an allegorical expression of the sublime Nature is art and art is nature Hadot writes inviting us to embrace Isis and all she represents art makes us intensely aware of how completely we ourselves are not merely surrounded by nature but also part of nature

Blindsight Peter Watts, 2006-10-03 Hugo and Shirley Jackson award winning Peter Watts stands on the cutting edge of hard SF with his acclaimed novel Blindsight Two months since the stars fell Two months of silence while a world held its breath Now some half derelict space probe sparking fitfully past Neptune's orbit hears a whisper from the edge of the solar system a faint signal sweeping the cosmos like a lighthouse beam Whatever's out there isn't talking to us It's talking to some distant star perhaps Or perhaps to something closer something en route So who do you send to force introductions with unknown and unknowable alien intellect that doesn't wish to be met You send a linguist with multiple personalities her brain surgically partitioned into separate sentient processing cores You send a biologist so radically interfaced with machinery that he sees x rays and tastes ultrasound You send a pacifist warrior in the faint hope she won't be needed You send a monster to command them all an extinct hominid predator once called vampire recalled from the grave with the voodoo of recombinant genetics and the blood of sociopaths And you send a synthesist an informational topologist with half his mind gone as an interface between here and there Pray they can be trusted with the fate of a world They may be more alien than the thing they've been sent to find At the Publisher's request this title is being sold without Digital Rights Management Software DRM applied

Democracy and Education John Dewey, 1916 Renewal of Life by Transmission The most notable distinction between living and inanimate things is that the former maintain themselves by renewal A stone when struck resists If its resistance is greater than the force of the blow struck it remains outwardly unchanged Otherwise it is shattered into smaller bits Never does the stone attempt to react in such a way that it may maintain itself against the blow much less so as to render the blow a contributing factor to its own continued action While the living thing may easily be crushed by superior force it none the less tries to turn the energies which act upon it into means of its own further existence If it cannot do so it does not just split into smaller pieces at least in the higher forms of life but loses its identity as a living thing As long as it endures it struggles to use surrounding energies in its own behalf It uses light air moisture and the material of soil To say that it uses them is to say that it turns them into means of its own conservation As long as it is growing the energy it expends in thus turning the environment to account is more than compensated for by the return it gets it grows Understanding the word control in this sense it may be said that a living being is one that subjugates and controls for its own continued activity the energies that would otherwise use it up Life is a self renewing process through action upon the environment

I Hate the Internet Jarett Kobek, 2016-11-03 In New York in the middle of the twentieth century comic book companies figured out how to make millions from comics without paying their creators anything In San Francisco at the start of the twenty first century tech companies figured out how to make millions from online abuse without paying its creators anything In the 1990s Adeline drew a successful comic book series that ended up making her kind of famous In 2013 Adeline aired some unfashionable opinions that made their way onto the Internet The reaction of the Internet being a tool for making millions in advertising revenue from online abuse was predictable The reaction of the Internet being part of a culture that hates women was to send Adeline messages like Drp slut hope u get gang rape Set in a San Francisco hollowed out by tech money greed and rampant gentrification I Hate the Internet is a savage indictment of the intolerable bullshit of unregulated capitalism and an uproarious hilarious but above all furious satire of our Internet Age
