Militants, Criminals, and Warlords Vanda Felbab-Brown, Harold Trinkunas, Shadi Hamid, 2017-11-28 Conventional political theory holds that the sovereign state is the legitimate source of order and provider of public services in any society whether democratic or not But Hezbollah and ISIS in the Middle East pirate clans in Africa criminal gangs in South America and militias in Southeast Asia are examples of nonstate actors that control local territory and render public services that the nation state cannot or will not provide This fascinating book takes the reader around the world to areas where national governance has broken down or never really existed In these places the vacuum has been filled by local gangs militias and warlords some with ideological or political agendas and others focused primarily on economic gain Many of these actors have substantial popularity and support among local populations and have developed their own enduring institutions often undermining the legitimacy of the national state The authors show that the rest of the world has more than a passing interest in these situations in part because transborder crime and terrorism often emerge but also because failed states threaten international interests from trade to security This book also poses and offers answers for the question How should the international community respond to local orders dominated by armed nonstate actors In many cases outsiders have taken the short term route accepting unsavory local actors out of expediency but at the price of long term instability or damage to human rights and other considerations From Africa and the Middle East to Asia and Latin America the local situations highlighted in this book are and will remain high on today s international agenda The book makes a unique contribution to global understanding of how those situations developed and what can be done about them This title is part of the Geopolitics in the 21st Century series

Mass Starvation Alex de Waal,2017-12-08 The world almost conquered famine Until the 1980s this scourge killed ten million people every decade but by early 2000s mass starvation had all but disappeared Today famines are resurgent driven by war blockade hostility to humanitarian principles and a volatile global economy In Mass Starvation world renowned expert on humanitarian crisis and response Alex de Waal provides an authoritative history of modern famines their causes dimensions and why they ended He analyses starvation as a crime and breaks new ground in examining forced starvation as an instrument of genocide and war Refuting the enduring but erroneous view that attributes famine to overpopulation and natural disaster he shows how political decision or political failing is an essential element in every famine while the spread of democracy and human rights and the ending of wars were major factors in the near ending of this devastating phenomenon Hard hitting and deeply informed Mass Starvation explains why man made famine and the political decisions that could end it for good must once again become a top priority for the international community

War & the Politics of Identity in Ethiopia Kjetil Tronvoll, 2009 Examines war and the impact of warfare on identity formation in Ethiopia Images of war narratives of suffering and notions of ethnicity are intrinsically linked to Western perceptions of Africa Filtered through a mostly international media the information of African wars is confined to narrow categories of explanation emerging from and adapted to a Western history and political culture This book aims at reversing this process to look at war and suffering from the point of view of those who fight it and suffer through it In doing so it reveals that the simplistic models explaining contemporary wars in Africa which are reproduced in a Western discourse are basically false This book examines the understanding of war and the impact of warfare on the formation and conceptualisation of identities in Ethiopia Building on historical trajectories of enemy images the recent Eritrean Ethiopian war 1998 2000 is used as an empirical backdrop to explore war's formative impact by analysing politics of identity and shifting perceptions of enemies and allies KJETIL TRONVOLL is Professor in Human Rights Peace and Conflict Studies at the Norwegian Centre for Human Rights University of Oslo His other publications include Brothers at War Making Sense of the Eritrean Ethiopian War co author James Currey Ohio University Press 2000 and The Ethiopian Red Terror Trials Transitional Justice Challenged co editor James Currey 2009
