Economics What Makes Ego Our Greatest Asset Or Most Expensive Liability

David Marcum

Economics Dave Marcum, Steven Smith, 2008-09-04 Backed by five years of research David Marcum and Steven Smith's economics informs readers that the key to great leadership is understanding exactly what ego is and what it should not be. With the aid of real life examples and persuasive writing economics argues that while most people believe ego is negative it is actually a healthy necessary element to management effectiveness and business leadership. Marcum and Smith illustrate that the distinction between a good and a great leader is how humility affects their ambition and economics is full of ideas that help both upper and middle management keep their egos in balance. With a compelling combination of business and psychology expertise these two specialists explain how a being too competitive can make you less competitive b seeking respect and recognition dilutes effectiveness and c humility curiosity and veracity are the essential components to outstanding leadership. Full of the best advice from the experts in the field economics is poised to be the blockbuster business bestseller of the season. BusinessThink Dave Marcum, David Marcum, Steve Smith, Mahan Khalsa, 2003-04-15 A guide on how to attain desired business results explains how leaders can create consistent and effective solutions and outlines rules for accelerating work while revitalizing an enterprise. Economics David Marcum, Steven B. Smith, 2008-09-09 Two of big business's most dynamic consultants explain how ego undermines or accelerates the growth and productivity of business and they instruct readers on how to strike the balance between too much ego and not enough.
