Review of Books from the author of the popular New York Times essay To Fall in Love with Anyone Do This explores the romantic myths we create and explains how they limit our ability to achieve and sustain intimacy What really makes love last Does love ever work the way we say it does in movies and books and Facebook posts Or does obsessing over those love stories hurt our real life relationships When her parents divorced after a twenty eight year marriage and her own ten year relationship ended those were the questions that Mandy Len Catron wanted to answer In a series of candid vulnerable and wise essays that takes a closer look at what it means to love someone be loved and how we present our love to the world Catron melds science and emotion beautifully into a thoughtful and thought provoking meditation Bookpage She delves back to 1944 when her grandparents met in a coal mining town in Appalachia to her own dating life as a professor in Vancouver She uses biologists research into dopamine triggers to ask whether the need to love is an innate human drive She uses literary theory to show why we prefer certain kinds of love stories She urges us to question the unwritten scripts we follow in relationships and looks into where those scripts come from And she tells the story of how she decided to test an experiment that she d read about where the goal was to create intimacy between strangers using a list of thirty six questions and ended up in the surreal situation of having millions of people following her brand new relationship Perfect fodder for the romantic and the cynic in all of us Booklist How to Fall in Love with Anyone flips the script on love Clear eyed and full of heart it is mandatory reading for anyone coping with or curious about the challenges of contemporary courtship The Toronto Star

Named one of Vulture's Top 10 Best Books of 2020 Leftist firebrand Fredrik deBoer exposes the lie at the heart of our educational system and demands top to bottom reform Everyone agrees that education is the key to creating a more just and equal world and that our schools are broken and failing Proposed reforms variously target incompetent teachers corrupt union practices or outdated curricula but no one acknowledges a scientifically proven fact that we all understand intuitively Academic potential varies between individuals and cannot be dramatically improved In The Cult of Smart educator and outspoken leftist Fredrik deBoer exposes this omission as the central flaw of our entire society which has created and perpetuated an unjust class structure based on intellectual ability Since cognitive talent varies from person to person our education system can never create equal opportunity for all Instead it teaches our children that hierarchy and competition are natural and that human value should be based on intelligence These ideas are counter to everything that the left believes but until they acknowledge the existence of individual cognitive differences progressives remain complicit in keeping the status quo in place This passionate voice driven manifesto demands that we embrace a new goal for education equality of outcomes We must create a world that has a place for everyone not just the academically talented But we'll never achieve this dream until the Cult of Smart is destroyed

Make It Stick Peter C. Brown, Henry L. Roediger III, Mark A. McDaniel, 2014-04-14 To most of us learning something the hard way implies wasted time and effort Good teaching we believe should be creatively tailored to the different learning styles of students and should use strategies that make learning easier Make It Stick turns fashionable ideas like these on their head Drawing on recent discoveries in cognitive psychology and other disciplines the authors offer concrete techniques for becoming more productive learners Memory plays a central role in our ability to carry out complex cognitive tasks such as applying knowledge to problems never before encountered and drawing inferences from facts already known New insights into how memory is encoded consolidated and later retrieved have led to a better understanding of how we learn Grappling with the impediments that make learning challenging leads both to more complex mastery and better retention of what was learned Many common study habits and practice routines turn out to be counterproductive Underlining and highlighting rereading cramming and single minded repetition of new skills create the illusion of mastery but gains fade quickly More complex and durable learning come from self testing introducing certain difficulties in practice waiting to re study new material until a little forgetting has set in and interleaving the practice of one skill or topic with another Speaking most urgently to students teachers trainers and athletes Make It Stick will appeal to all those interested in the challenge of lifelong learning and self improvement Practical English, a Scholastic Magazine ,1958 T.P.'s Weekly ,1928 New York Times Daily Crosswords Will Shortz,1998-02-17 For crossword fans who like their challenges in smaller doses here comes a classic collection of sixty daily size New York Times puzzles from the puzzlemaster Will Shortz
