Photoelectronic Imaging Devices Lucien M. Biberman, Sol Nudelman, 1971-03 The past decade has seen a major resurgence in optics research and the teaching of optics throughout the major universities both in this country and abroad Electrooptical devices have become a challenging form of study that has penetrated both the electrical engineering and the physics departments of most major schools There seems to be something challenging about a laser that appeals to both the practical electrical engineer with a hankering for fundamental research and to the fundamental physicist with a hankering to be practical Somehow or other this same form of enthusiasm has not previously existed in the study of photoelectronic devices that form images This field of endeavor is becoming more and more sophisticated as newer forms of solid state devices enter the field not only in the data processing end but in the conversion of radiant energy into electrical charge patterns that are stored manipulated and read out in a way that a decade ago would have been considered beyond some fundamental limit or other It is unfortunate however that this kind of material has heretofore been learned only by the process of becoming an apprentice in one or more of the major development laboratories concerned with the manufacture of image intensifiers or television tubes or the production of systems employing these devices

Marines and Helicopters, 1962-1973 USMC Lieutenant Colonel William R. Fails, William R. Fails, 2014-06-06 This history traces the development of helicopters in the Marine Corps from 1962 to 1973 and is the second in a series of two volumes which between them cover the story of Marines and helicopters from 1946 to the present In the period covered by this volume the Marines at last acquired helicopters fully capable of carrying out an amphibious vertical assault and they further elaborated their helicopter doctrines and tactics In the Vietnam war pilots and machines met and surmounted the test of actual combat The documentary basis for this monograph was primarily the official records of the Marine Corps and Navy Department but considerable use was made of interviews and correspondence with key individuals involved in all phases of helicopter development One of the most pervasive characteristics of man is hindsight It masquerades under many guises Monday morning quarterbacking second guessing and historical writing When viewed through time the past becomes distorted Problems seem simpler the choices more clear and the conditions less complex than those of the present The men who played a part become more heroic or more villainous than they were in life This volume is an attempt to portray accurately the difficulties faced and the obstacles conquered by the men who developed helicopters in the Marine Corps so that the Marines of today and the future may meet the challenges of their own times with the same dedication as their predecessors The men who developed helicopters in the Marine Corps had nothing more to rely on than their knowledge of what had preceded them intelligence liberally used and both mental and physical courage The present day Marine will be well served if he applies nothing more
