Her Two Men in Tahiti: A Rock Star Romance (Total Indulgence, #2) Dana Delamar, Kristine Cayne, 2018-08-29
Three hearts face the music They've haunted my dreams since the last time we hooked up Two hot British rock stars who spent a week devoting themselves to my pleasure I never thought I'd see them again Yet here we are in Tahiti trying to keep their band King's Cross from fracturing But how can I help when I'm at the heart of their problems SKYI left them to save them but I nearly destroyed myself in the process Can my heart survive doing it all over again RODI had them for one brief week before it all fell apart Now she's gone and he's rejected me one too many times How can I be around him every day when he reminds me of everything I've lost DEVI had a glimpse of happiness but it came in the form of all I knew to be wrong I was raised to deny what my heart so desperately wants How much longer can I go on this way

Zoo Station Christiane F.,2019-08-01 This incredible autobiography of Christiane F provides a vivid portrait of teen friendship drug abuse and alienation in and around Berlin s notorious Zoo Station Christiane s rapid descent into heroin abuse and prostitution is shocking but the boredom longing for acceptance thrilling risks and even her musical obsessions are familiar to everyone Previously published in Germany and the US to critical acclaim Zest s new translation includes original photographs of Christiane and her friends Life Interrupted Spalding Gray,2005-09-20 As the first decade of the new century was getting underway Spalding Gray worried that the joy he d finally found with his wife stepdaughter and two sons would fail to fuel his work as a theatrical monologist the way anxiety conflict doubt and various crises once had Before he got the chance to find out however an automobile accident in Ireland left him with the lasting wounds of body and spirit that ultimately led him to take his own life But as his dear friend novelist Francine Prose notes in this volume s foreword Even when his depression became so severe that he was barely able to hold a simple conversation he was miraculously able to perform As was always his method Gray began to fashion a new monologue in various workshop settings that would tell the story of the accident and its aftermath Originally titled Black Spot for what the locals called the section of highway where Gray s accident occurred it began as a series of workshops at P S 122 in New York City and eventually became Life Interrupted Gray died in early 2004 and though never completed Life Interrupted is rich with brave self revelation masterfully acute observations of wonderfully peculiar people penetrating wit and genuine humor an irresolvable fascination with life and death and all the other attributes of Gray's singular and unmistakable voice. In the final performance of Life Interrupted Gray read two additional pieces: a short story about a day he spent with his son Theo at the carousel in Central Park and a brief poignant love letter to New York City that he wrote after the terrorist attacks in 2001. This volume includes these pieces as well as many of the eulogies that were delivered by his friends and family at memorial services held at Lincoln Center and in Sag Harbor. If you had to reduce all of Spalding's work to its essence, its core, if you wanted to locate the subject to which no matter what else he talked about he kept returning, I suppose you could say that his work was a profoundly metaphysical inquiry into how we manage to live despite the knowledge that we are someday going to die. If there is a consolation, it's what he left behind: the children whom he so loved and, of course, his work. Reading the unfinished pieces in this volume, we hear his voice again and feel the happiness we felt when he sat on stage behind his wooden desk, took a sip from his water glass, transformed the raw material of his life into art, and the crowd applauded each brilliant, beautiful sentence.

Francine Prose from the Foreword. Also available as an eBook: Impossible Vacation Spalding Gray, 2011-11-02. Having detailed the agonies of writing a book in his monologue Monster in a Box, Spalding Gray now gives us the monster itself: a convulsively funny, unexpectedly moving novel about a man eternally searching for a moment of protected pleasure, even as he is permanently incapable of finding it. Brewster North witnesses his mother's madness but misses her; suicide searches frantically for enlightenment in the Poconos; zipless sex in India suffers from family ennui in Rhode Island; and a nervous breakdown in Amsterdam. In the process, he emerges as a hilariously complex everyman. And as Gray narrates his hero's free fall, he confirms his own stature as one of our funniest, most eccentric, and most engaging storytellers.

Ligeia Edgar Allan Poe, 2023-10-16. Un anonimo narratore ci racconta del suo amore perduto Ligeia, una donna alta dai capelli neri, estremamente intelligente che credeva che la morte potesse essere sconfitta con la forza di volontà. Inoltre era innamorata in maniera ossessiva del marito, lo idolatrava, ricambiata. Quando lei muore, lui affranto. Qualche tempo dopo decide di andare avanti con la sua vita e si risposa. Strane cose cominciano ad accadere mentre il narratore continua a pensare sempre di più al suo primo amore Ligeia.

A Shrinking Island Joshua Esty, 2009-01-10. This book describes a major literary culture caught in the act of becoming minor. In 1939 Virginia Woolf wrote in her diary: "Civilisation has shrunk." Her words captured not only the onset of World War II but also a longer term reversal of national fortune. The first comprehensive account of modernism and imperialism in England, A Shrinking Island tracks the joint eclipse of modernist aesthetics and British power from the literary experiments of the 1930s through the rise of cultural studies in the 1950s. Jed Esty explores the effects of declining empire on modernist form and on the very meaning of Englishness. He ranges from canonical figures T. S. Eliot and Virginia Woolf to influential midcentury intellectuals J. M. Keynes and J. R. R. Tolkien, from cultural studies pioneers Raymond Williams and E. P. Thompson to postwar migrant writers George Lamming and Doris Lessing. Focusing on writing that converts the potential energy of the contracting British state into the language of insular integrity, he argues that an anthropological ethos of cultural holism came home to roost in late imperial England Esty's interpretation challenges popular myths about the death of English literature It portrays the survivors of the modernist generation not as aesthetic dinosaurs but as participants in the transition from empire to welfare state from metropolitan art to national culture Mixing literary criticism with postcolonial theory his account of London modernism's end stages and after lives provides a fresh take on major works while redrawing the lines between modernism and postmodernism
