To the Immortal Name and Memory of George Washington Louis Torres,2010-09-01 The Washington Monument is one of the most easily recognized structures in America if not the world yet the long and tortuous history of its construction is much less well known Beginning with its sponsorship by the Washington National Monument Society and the grudging support of a largely indifferent Congress the Monument s 1848 groundbreaking led only to a truncated obelisk beset by attacks by the Know Nothing Party and lack of secured funding and from the mid 1850s to a twenty year interregnum It was only 1n 1876 that a Joint Commission of Congress revived the Monument and entrusted its completion to the U S Army Corps of Engineers In To the Immortal Name and Memory of George Washington The United States Corps of Engineers and the Construction of the Washington Monument historian Louis Torres tells the fascinating story of the Monument with a particular focus on the efforts of Lieutenant Colonel Thomas Lincoln Casey Captain George W Davis and civilian Corps employee Bernard Richardson Green and the details of how they completed the construction of this great American landmark The book also includes a discussion and images of the various designs some of them incredibly elaborate compared to the austere simplicity of the original and an account of Corps stewardship of the Monument up to its takeover by the National Park Service in 1933 First published in 1985 148 pages ill The Complete Idiot's Guide to the Sun Jay M. Winning a Future War Norman Friedman, Naval History and Heritage Command, U. S. Department Of The Navy, 2019-02 To win in the Pacific during World War II the U S Navy had to transform itself technically tactically and strategically It had to create a fleet capable of the unprecedented feat of fighting and winning far from home without existing bases in the face of an enemy with numerous bases fighting in his own waters Much of the credit for the transformation should go to the war gaming conducted at the U S Naval War College Conversely as we face further demands for transformation the inter war experience at the War College offers valuable guidance as to what works and why and how

U.S. Marines in Afghanistan, 2001-2009 U S Marine Corps History Division, 2017-02-05 This volume presents a collection of 38 articles interviews and speeches describing many aspects of the U S Marine Corps participation in Operation Enduring Freedom from 2001 to 2009 This work is intended to serve as a general overview and provisional reference to inform both Marines and the general public until the History Division completes monographs dealing with major Marine Corps operations during the campaign The accompanying annotated bibliography provides a detailed look at selected sources that currently exist until new scholarship and archival materials become available From the Preface From the outset some experts doubted that the U S Marines Corps would play a major role in Afghanistan given the landlocked nature of the battlefield Naval expeditionary Task Force 58 TF 58 commanded by then Brigadier General James N Mattis silenced naysayers with the farthest ranging amphibious assault in Marine Corps Navy history In late November 2001 Mattis force seized what became Forward Operating Base Rhino Afghanistan from naval shipping some 400 miles away The historic assault not only blazed a path for follow on forces it also cut off fleeing al Qaeda and Taliban elements and aided in the seizure of Kandahar While Corps doctrine and culture advocates Marine employment as a fully integrated Marine air ground task force MAGTF deployments to Afghanistan often reflected what former Commandant General Charles C Krulak coined as the three block war Following TF 58 s deployment during the initial take down of the Taliban regime the MAGTF made few appearances in Afghanistan until 2008 Before then subsequent Marine units often deployed as a single battalion under the command of the U S Army Combined Joint Task Force CJTF to provide security for provincial reconstruction teams The Marine Corps also provided embedded training teams to train and mentor the fledgling Afghan National Army and Police Aviation assets sporadically deployed to support the U S led coalition mostly to conduct a specific mission or to bridge a gap in capability such as close air support or electronic warfare to counter the improvised explosive device threat From 2003 to late 2007 the national preoccupation with stabilizing Iraq focused most Marine Corps assets on stemming the insurgency largely centered in the restive al Anbar Province As a result of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO taking over command of Afghan operations and Marine Corps commitments in Iraq relatively few Marine units operated in Afghanistan from late 2006 to 2007 Although Marines first advocated shifting resources from al Anbar to southern Afghanistan in early 2007 the George W Bush administration delayed the Marine proposal for fear of losing the gains made as a result of Army General David H Petraeus surge strategy in Iraq By late 2007 the situation in Afghanistan had deteriorated to the point that it inspired Rolling Stone to later publish the story How We Lost the War We Won In recognition of the shifting tides in both Iraq and Afghanistan the Bush administration began to transfer additional resources to Afghanistan in early 2008 The shift prompted senior Marines to again push for a more prominent role in the Afghan campaign even proposing to take over the Afghan mission from the Army
