Voices to Choices Jennifer L. Solotaroff, Aphichoke Kotikula, Tara Lonnberg, Snigdha Ali, Ferdous Jahan, 2019-06-06 Women have experienced significant changes in various spheres of their lives during the last decades as Bangladesh made economic progress Yet women's economic engagement and empowerment are subdued as they cannot make sufficient choices for themselves This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the economic developments in gender equality in Bangladesh Through examining women's participation in the labour force ownership and control of household assets use and control of financial assets and opportunities for entrepreneurship the authors have made concrete recommendations to overcome challenges that lie ahead for women's economic empowerment This book is an important contribution to the knowledge on interventions required by the policy makers and broader stakeholders towards narrowing gender gaps Fahmida Khatun PhD Executive Director Centre for Policy Dialogue CPD Bangladesh The women's story is central to Bangladesh's economic and social transformation There is an urgent need to deepen researched understanding of the multidimensional pathways of women's economic empowerment and extent of real progress made Voices to Choices is an important contribution to this story Surely the journey of women's economic empowerment remains a long and challenging one Realizing the full benefits of new opportunities is often hampered by both new and entrenched insecurities The task is as much one of empowering women's agency as of dismantling barriers The responsibility is as much women's as society's Hossain Zillur Rahman PhD Executive Chairman Power and Participation Research Centre PPRC This book provides critical insights and is timely as it outlines how girls and women in Bangladesh have gained more opportunities in labor force participation control over household and financial assets as well as greater prospects for entrepreneurship The findings will greatly contribute to future policy and planning for government and key stakeholders working to advance women's economic empowerment in the country Sabina Faiz Rashid PhD Dean and Professor BRAC James P Grant School of Public Health BRAC University

Labor, Global Supply Chains, and the Garment Industry in South Asia Sanchita Banerjee Saxena, 2019-06-27 This book argues that larger flaws in the global supply chain must first be addressed to change the way business is conducted to prevent factory owners from taking deadly risks to meet clients demands in the garment industry in Bangladesh Using the 2013 Rana Plaza disaster as a departure point and to prevent such tragedies from occurring in the future this book presents an interdisciplinary analysis to address the disaster which resulted in a radical change in the functioning of the garment industry The chapters present innovative ways of thinking about solutions that go beyond third party monitoring They open up possibilities for a renewed engagement of international brands and buyers within the garment sector a focus on direct worker empowerment using technology the role of community based movements developing a model of change through enforceable contracts combined with workers movements and a more productive and influential role for both factory owners and the government This book makes key interventions and rethinks the approaches that have been taken until now and proposes suggestions for the way forward It engages with international brands the private sector and civil society to strategize about the future of the industry and for those who depend on it for their livelihood A much needed review and evaluation of the many initiatives that have been set up in Bangladesh in the wake of Rana Plaza this book is a valuable addition to academics in the fields of development studies gender and women s studies human rights poverty and practice political science economics sociology anthropology and South Asian studies

Globalism Manfred B. Steger, 2002 Globalism The New Market Ideology rejects the notion that we find ourselves at the end of ideology and that democracy has won Instead Steger argues that the opening decade of the 21st century will constitute a teeming battlefield of clashing ideologies The chief protagonist is the dominant neoliberal market ideology Steger calls globalism After identifying and evaluating the five central claims of globalism including assertions that globalization is inevitable nobody is in charge of globalization and globalization benefits everyone Steger offers an overview of the counterclaims made by anti globalist forces Visit our website for sample chapters

Exports to Jobs Erhan Artuc, Gladys Lopez-Acevedo, Raymond Robertson, Daniel Samaan, 2019-02-25 South Asia has grown rapidly with significant reductions in poverty but it has not been able to match the fast growing working age population leading to lingering concerns about jobless growth and poor job quality Could export growth in South Asia result in better labor market outcomes The answer is yes according to our study which rigorously estimates using a new methodology the potential impact from higher South Asian exports per worker on wages and employment over a 10 year period Our study shows the positive side of trade It finds that increasing exports per worker would result in higher wages mainly for better off groups like more educated workers males and more experienced workers although less skilled workers would see the largest reduction in informality How can the benefits be spread more widely Our study suggests that scaling up exports in labor intensive industries could significantly lower informality for groups like rural and less educated workers in the region Also increasing skills and participation of women and young workers in the labor force could make an even bigger dent in informal employment The region could achieve these gains by i boosting and connecting exports to people e g removing trade barriers and investment in infrastructure ii eliminating distortions in production e g by more efficient allocation of inputs and iii protecting workers e g by investing in education and skills
