Advanced Accounting is a new Canadian textbook that offers students clear explanations of accounting standards, unique content, and challenging problems and cases. Taking a very detailed approach to the topics that can be difficult for students to master; the text lays out each topic very clearly and provides illustrative examples that show students how these concepts are applied. This helps students understand the reasons that adjustments are being made, which leads to a deeper understanding of the concepts and avoids the pitfalls that come from simply memorizing formulas. The chapters are also outlined by learning objectives so that instructors can decide the level of depth they wish to cover. Advanced Accounting is designed to address those advanced topics in accounting that require knowledge of all other sections of the CICA Handbook. This text builds on the knowledge obtained in an intermediate accounting course and is intended to extend the learning from intermediate texts such as Intermediate Accounting by Kieso, Weygandt, Warfield, Young, and Wiecek. The ever-growing demand for commercial activities at sea has meant that ships are rapidly developing and that the rules governing their construction and operation are changing. Practical Ship Design records these changes, their outcomes and the reasoning behind them. It deals with every aspect of ship design and handles a wide range of both merchant ships and naval ships with authority. It provides coverage of cargo ships and passenger ships, tugs, dredgers and other service craft. It also includes concept design, detail design, structural design, hydrodynamics design, the effect of regulations, the preparation of specifications and matters of costs and economics. Drawing on the author's extensive practical experience, Practical Ship Design is likely to interest everybody involved in the design, construction, repair and operation of ships. Students and the most experienced professionals will all benefit from the book's vast store of design data and its conclusions and recommendations.
